Newberry Banished, Captain Says.

North side police captains agreed yesterday that they would not let Al Capone's realigned gang get a foothold in that territory. Stories had been circulated that Capone and Ted Newberry had made a deal, following the elimination of the Bugs Moran gang through numerous killings, and that Newberry was to be the new booze boss under Capone's protection.

Capt. Hugh McCarthy of the Town Hall station said he had heard no rumors of the new plans of distributing booze privileges on the north side. One of his first moves of the day, after being called to the court of Judge John H. Lyle, was to make a visit to the Lantern café, at Wavelland avenue and Broadway, reported to be the headquarters of the new gang that was to be captained by Newberry.

"No Deal with Capone."

"I found the Lantern closed" Capt. McCarthy declared. "I was satisfied it had not been open in the last two months, but I wanted to be certain. There'll be no dealing with Capone in the district under my supervision."

Capt. McCarthy cited the activities of his men during the last month, which included the clearing up of 135 robbery cases and 89 vice arrests.

"We have driven the hoodlums out of the Town Hall district," the captain asserted. "Last January I was told that Newberry had established a residence in the district. I went to his home and told him he had to get out. He hasn't been seen around here since and I learned he had gone to New York."

Capt. Al Christensen of the East Chicago avenue district, Capt. Thomas Condon of Hudson avenue, and Capt. Thomas Duffy of Sheffield avenue made similar statements and other captains of the north side declared their districts were residential and contained no fields for the activities of the Moran gang or any syndicate that might attempt to take over Moran's abandoned territory.

Judge Suggests Raid.

"I read that the so-called Moran gang has been ousted and that a man named Ted Newberry has taken charge on the north side," Judge Lyle said to Capt. McCarthy. "Newberry and his men are supposed to have established headquarters at the Lantern café. I suggest that you raid this headquarters and arrest every one connected with it. I will coöperate with you in every way to drive them out. If you want search warrants to look for shotguns, machine guns, or bombs, come to me."

Judge Lyle said he had taken it for granted that the report of the "peace" arrangement by which Capone was recognized as the super boss of Chicago's booze trade was true. This was based on the belief that Newberry had once been ousted from the north side by the Bugs Moran gang with whom he was affiliated and that he is now to return, Moran having been driven out. Among the factors credited with causing the eclipse of Moran were the pressure from Capone gunmen, the "heat" that followed the killing of Alfred Lingle, and the killing of Jack Zuta at a summer resort near Delafield, Wis., on Aug. 1.

It was rumored that Joe Aiello and his Sicilian henchmen had to swear allegiance to Capone and abandon their relationship with the Moran gang. The police of the East Chicago avenue district were using this theory in their investigation of the murder on Sunday night of Sam Siciliano.

Siciliano, known as a minor hoodlum who had served two jail sentences, was shot down at the corner of Hobbie street and Cambridge avenue.

Probe Zuta Killing.

The investigation of the killing of Zuta, gangster vice monger, proceeded secretly yesterday at Oconomowoc, Wis., which is in Waukesha county, in which Zuta was slain.

District Attorney Herman Salen expressed concern about the absence of Miss Inez Fehrman, a waitress at the Lake View hotel, where Zuta was shot down by machine gunners. She made a statement the day after the murder and has not been seen since.

The other witnesses to the killing—ten persons who saw the five men march into the dance hall and shoot Zuta, who was putting nickels in a mechanical piano—testified in the court of Judge Newton Evans.

District Attorney Salen requested George Williams, investigator for State's Attorney Swanson at Chicago, who is aiding in the Wisconsin investigation, to have Mrs. Laura Nelson Bioff taken to Oconomowoc for questioning today.

PLEA FOR STATE REFERENDUM TO BE FILED TODAY

Assures Vote on 3 Questions.

Three petitions demanding a statewide prohibition referendum, each bearing the names of 400,000 voters, were shipped to Springfield last night. The massive petitions bearing the 1,200,000 signatures were crated in three boxes and sent by train under armed guard.

Chairman Snow of the Cook county Republican committee and a party of legislators and ward committeemen will drive to Springfield this morning. At 2 o'clock this afternoon the delegation will enter the office of Secretary of State Stratton, where Gov. Emmerson, Mr. Stratton and State Auditor Nelson will be formally presented with the three petitions. They will then be filed in the secretary's office.

The petitions call for the inclusion of three major questions dealing with prohibition on the November ballot. They are:

The repeal of the 18th amendment.

The filing of the petitions, leaders pointed out, insures the voters an opportunity to express their prohibition sentiment as the placing of the questions on the November ballot is mandatory on state officials. The leaders declared that great care was used to insure the validity of the signatures to make the petition secure against any attack on that ground. By any calculation only slightly more than 310,000 names would be required, but the party leaders reported names so easy to obtain they continued the campaign to the 400,000 mark as further insurance against charges of insufficient names through an attack on signatures.

Only Three Issues Allowed.

No other question of public policy can be added to the ballot, as the law limits the number to three.

After preparing the petitions for shipment, Mr. Snow yesterday criticized local Democratic leaders for their failure to coöperate in circulating the petitions. He said he had hoped to obtain the support of the Democratic party so the movement for prohibition reform could be removed from the field of politics.

Explaining the purpose of the petitions, Mr. Snow issued a statement in which he said:

"The Republican organization of Cook county, recognizing the growing conviction that the experiment in prohibition has not only been a failure in accomplishing the object sought but has been attended by a long train of evil consequences that threaten the stability of government administration, believes that the present opinion of the people of Illinois should be consulted as to the continuation or abolishment of the experiment.

Ignored Issue, Claim.

Mr. Snow said the Democratic party had been asked to aid in the presentation of the question to the voters and had ignored the issue. The statement continued:

"The local leadership of the Democratic party found it impossible to agree upon the simple question that the voters of Illinois should be given a chance to express their desires.

"We regret that the local Democratic government became hopelessly divided on the question of letting the people decide their own question in their own way, but, true to its own conviction, the Republican party has taken steps to insure an Illinois statewide vote. We are ready to coöperate with any agency to effect a decision on a great social question under the public policy act."

Leaders Express Satisfaction.

No lengthy speeches will be made at the presentation of the petitions, it being anticipated the Republicans will rest with Snow's presentation address.

Local political leaders expressed themselves as pleased with the number of signers. They declared the ease with which signatures were obtained in a campaign devoid of ballyhoo is an indication of sentiment for a change in the dry laws.

Boston Heir to Weal and Woe from Franklin

Boston, Mass., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Benjamin Franklin, preacher of thrift as well as philosopher, author, and diplomat, has the city of Boston enmeshed in litigation due to one of his object lessons in the value of saving and investing.

Under Franklin's will a bequest of £1,000 ($5,000) was left to "the inhabitants of the town of Boston in Massachusetts." The will provided that the gift be funded and that it be invested and controlled by the town selectmen and the ministers of the oldest Episcopal, Congregational, and Presbyterian churches in the city.

One clause of the will—Franklin was a great believer in family life—provided that portions of the fund were "to be loaned at 5 per cent interest to worthy young married men less than 25 years of age."

Provided for Disbursements.

The will further provided that at the end of 100 years the managers should spend in public works 100-131sts of the fund, the remainder to be retained and reinvested. At the end of the second 100 years the entire fund accumulated was to be divided between Boston and the commonwealth of Massachusetts.

The fund was paid over to the managers in 1791. It was invested and, in 1891, the $5,000 had grown until the 100-131sts to be distributed amounted to $329,300.48.

This was paid over to the city, but court litigation held up the fund until a final Supreme court decree in 1904 named nine persons to the board of managers.

Build Franklin Union.

Then, from the accumulated fund the managers spent $429,091.64 on the construction of what is now the Franklin union, an institution affording persons working at a trade opportunity to increase their knowledge. The increase in the city's share was due to interest during the 13 years the share was held in escrow.

Meanwhile the residue 31-131sts was at work and now it has grown to $476,348. The reader may figure what it will be in 1991.

The treasurer of the city of Boston, Edmund L. Dolan, has filed suit in the Supreme court asking if he may use his discretion in investment of this sum. He asks if he is the custodian or if the managers of the fund are; and if he shall accept the advice of the managers in investment. The fund is now invested in the Massachusetts Hospital Life Insurance company.

Has Carnegie Fund, Too.

The petition also asks instructions on a gift of $408,000 in United States Steel bonds made by Andrew Carnegie in 1908. This fund, separate from the Franklin fund, is under control of the managers of the latter. On a vote of the managers of the Franklin Foundation last January Charles E. Cotting, treasurer, sent powers of attorney to City Treasurer Dolan directing him to accept an offer of the United States Steel corporation for redemption of the bonds.

FULL MOON DIMS BRILLIANCE OF METEOR DISPLAY

The meteoric display known since ancient times as "The Fiery Tears of St. Lawrence," made its annual appearance in the heavens last night and early this morning, but the effect was far less brilliant than usual.

A full moon dimmed the radiance of the meteors which, in other years have streaked the sky so brightly as to inspire fear among the ignorant that the end of the world had come.

The display is occasioned by the passing of the earth into the orbit of Perseus, a constellation containing an apparently limitless group of meteors known as the Perseids.

At Yerkes observatory, Williams Bay, Wis., where excellent photographs of the Perseids were secured last year, none were obtained last night. Dr. Edwin B. Frost, director of the observatory, explained that the meteors are seldom brilliant when the moon is full.

DOCTORS ORDER REST FOR MORROW ILL IN MEXICO

H. Smith-Dorrien, Famous British General, Injured

CHIPPENHAM, England, Aug. 11. (AP)—General Sir Horace Smith-Dorrien, 72, one of England's most famous soldiers, was taken to the hospital here today with severe head injuries suffered in an automobile accident. Slight hope is held out for his recovery. The general commanded the Second army of the British expeditionary force in 1914-'15 and was retired in 1923. A limousine in which Sir Horace was being driven by a friend collided with a touring car at a crossroads, struck a mound, and turned over.

Flyers Bomb Coal Mines in Kentucky

Providence, Ky., Aug. 11.—(AP)—A series of disorders in the Webster county coal fields culminated today in the bombing of mine properties from an airplane. The mines were reopened July 1 after a three months shutdown because of independent strikes over wages and working conditions.

Nine bombs were dropped from an orange colored plane, believed to have carried two men, which flew over the town this morning as miners were going to work. Four bombs failed to explode. The five that did explode injured no one and damaged no property, but tore large holes in the ground. The bomber was described as a monoplane.

Guard Shoots at Plane.

Taken by surprise by the sudden air attack, Providence and Webster county were thrown into a state of intense excitement. Only one of the twenty-five or thirty guards employed by the mines in the county had presence of mind to fire at the plane. He shot twice, but without effect. The bomber departed in the direction of Illinois, from whence it had come.

All available deputy sheriffs patrolled the mine properties today, but there was little to be done unless the plane returned. All mines resumed operations as usual.

Massmeeting Called.

A massmeeting was called here tonight to raise a fund for a reward for the arrest of the occupants of the plane. Plans to resist another air attack included issuance of extra ammunition to the regular mine guards and augmenting of the guards.

Citizens of Providence said they would permit no one at the meeting who was known to have fomented trouble at the mines. About 75 per cent of the miners returned to work when the mines reopened July 1, and the remaining 25 per cent have been attempting to persuade the workers to lay down their tools again.

Explosion Heard for Miles.

The bombing plane appeared from the direction of Harrisburg, Ill., about 6 a. m. It dropped the first missile at an abandoned mine near Clay, a few miles north of here. It exploded with a detonation heard for miles, and sent clouds of dust and gravel into the air. The plane was flying at an altitude of 2,000 feet.

The plane then dived toward the city and dropped two more bombs near the outskirts. They had the same effect as the first one. After circling the town the plane dived at the entrance of the Ruckman mine and dropped another bomb, which failed to explode. A guard fired two shots at the plane, which was then at an altitude of 600 feet, but with no effect.

Five More Bombs Dropped.

The plane started climbing at the edge of the city and five more bombs were dropped, only two of which exploded. They fell near the mines of the Meador, Young & Holt Coal company and the Diamond Coal Mining company. The plane then flew off in the direction of Harrisburg.

Sights Strange Plane.

Murphysboro, Ill., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Paul Montgomery, an aviator, said tonight he had seen a strange plane flying in the vicinity of Pickneyville, Ill., early today. Pinckneyville is 100 miles by air from Webster county, Kentucky, where nine bombs were dropped from a plane today. The strange plane, Montgomery said, was flying north at a high altitude. He said he was not close enough to observe details of the plane.

Drought Damage Is Estimated.

THE DROUGHT

President Hoover perfects program for relief measures on drought to be submitted to twelve governors of affected states who meet in Washington Thursday; health menace from water shortage and railroad plans for freight rate cuts included in reports submitted to President.—Details on page 2.

Corn prices in Chicago sold off two cents yesterday on the belief that the government forecast would show a larger production than proved to be the case when the figures were released after the close of trading. The market rallied later and closed ½ to ⅞ of a cent higher. Traders expect prices to climb still higher today. Wheat ended the day 2 to 2⅜ cents lower.—Details in market pages.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Searing heat and the record breaking drought burned up between 600 and 700 million bushels of corn during the last six weeks and further damage still is in prospect, the department of agriculture reported today in its official summary of crop conditions.

The report, revealing for the first time the full extent of the havoc caused by the prolonged dry spell, was carried to the White House by Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde, who laid it before President Hoover for use in his contemplated drought relief program. The President gave it immediate attention.

Summary of Report.

	Condition (percentage of normal).	Indicated yield (bu.).
Corn	62.0	2,211,823,000
Durum wheat	67.5	48,290,000
Other spring wheat	60.7	174,931,000
Oats	78.9	1,316,369,000

Prospects for all crops throughout the country diminished 7 per cent during July, the report stated, but by far the greatest inroads were made in the corn fields. Virtually all of winter wheat went to the granaries and elevators before the drought arrived, assuring plenty of human food, but it descended with full force upon the standing green corn, scorching the stalks and tassels and shriveling up the ears.

Unofficial Estimates Exceeded.

Even the largest estimates of corn losses made by the grain trade were exceeded in the government report. The estimate of 2,202,000,000 bushels is a drop of 581,000,000 bushels from the indicated crop of a month ago, and is 402,000,000 less than harvested in 1929, and compares with a five year average of 2,700,000,000 bushels.

"The indicated production of corn is the lowest for any year since 1901 when the crop was 1,523,000,000 bushels, the report declared. "Further deterioration of possibly 100 million bushels has occurred since Aug. 1, indicating a crop for harvest of about 25 per cent less than the 1929 crop."

Not only is the crop the smallest since 1901, but the condition of 62 is the lowest on record, with the exception of 1901, when the department placed it at 54. During the month there was a loss in condition of 17.9 points, and compared with 78.8 at this time last year.

Reports from Chicago were that the report was accepted as decidedly bullish by grain traders. Some operators, it was said, were inclined to look for the December delivery to open around $1 a bushel tomorrow, compared with today's close at 95 cents.

Corn Belt Proper Least Hit.

Losses of corn in the main corn belt were not as severe as in other sections of the country, as shown by the detailed report. The eleven corn belt states have a prospective yield of 1,592,000,000 bushels, a decline of 450,000,000 during the month of July, but the total is only 276,000,000 bushels under the final returns last year. States outside the corn belt proper suffered more in proportion than did the central west.

Heaviest losses were recorded in Illinois with a decline of 88,000,000 in the prospective yield. Iowa was off 55,000,000 bushels, Nebraska 46,000,000, Kansas 54,000,000, Ohio 41,000,000, and Indiana 41,000,000. Minnesota, however, lost only 5,000,000 bushels

Lowest Prices Now Offered on Furs!

Chicago furriers last week did a thriving business. Representatives of the Chicago Tribune who visited a number of shops early last week found them well filled with women shoppers. The reports of the merchants are that it was not the idle curious who came to their shops, but buyers intent upon taking advantage of the unusual opportunities told of in the advertisements. "We're not making much money," one of the leading furriers said, "but we are selling a surprising number of coats."

Women are going to the shops and buying furs, because they know bargains when they see them, and current offerings are genuine bargains. Furriers insisted upon and got lower prices when they bought the skins early this year. In the regular fall prices, the consumer is given the full benefit of the savings on skins. These prices have been reduced still further in the August sales. It's a great time to buy a fur coat.

Chicago Tribune

and has a prospect of almost as much grain as last year, and slightly in excess of the five year average.

The production of winter wheat, already harvested, was estimated at 597,392,000 bushels, or an average yield of 15.6 bushels an acre. This yield added to the indicated production of durum and other spring wheat gives a total probable wheat crop of 820,613,000 bushels.

Threshing returns show that winter wheat yields were well above the figures suggested by the condition of a month ago, the crop being raised nearly 40,000,000 bushels as compared with July 1, and is 19,000,000 bushels more than harvested last year.

Yield of winter wheat per acre was one bushel more than indicated a month ago, and 1.1 bushels more than harvested last year. Total production of spring wheat of 223,000,000 bushels was cut down 27,000,000 bushels during the month as the result of heat and drought, and is 5,000,000 bushels short of last year's harvest and 70,000,000 bushels under the five year average.

Agrees with Murray.

The report on all wheat indicated a gain of 14,000,000 bushels during the month, and was exactly the total given by Murray in his recent estimate.

Heat and drought failed to affect the oats crop to the extent expected by the trade, and the report suggested a yield of 1,316,000,000 bushels, or 25,000,000 bushels in excess of the recent private return. However, the yield was cut down 13,000,000 bushels from the previous month and compared with 1,239,000,000 bushels harvested in 1929. A barley crop of 304,000,000 bushels is indicated, or 26,000,000 bushels less than the previous month, but shows 2,000,000 bushels more than last year and 65,000,000 bushels above the five year average.

"The hay and grain sorghum crops, which together with corn make up half of the total acreage of crops, seem likely to be the smallest in more than ten years," the report stated. "The feed shortage is accentuated by pasture far poorer than in any previous summer month for 50 years or more.

Drought Effects Move North.

"The drought has been felt farther north each week as the season progresses and is now affecting even New York and Michigan. It is hurting most late fruits and vegetables except where they are irrigated. It is daily reducing prospects for corn, flax seed, peanuts, sweet potatoes, tobacco, eastern beans, Arkansas rice, cotton west of Alabama, and various other crops.

"The decreased yields are offset by the increased acreage and yield in the case of some crops. Considering both acreage and yield, the indications point to about the usual supply of food crops but a shortage of feed crops, both grain and hay for feeding."

Indiana Hard Hit.

From the standpoint of all crops, Indiana was shown to have been hit the hardest of any of the Chicago area states by the drought. Its prospective total crop yield, as compared to average yields in the decade 1919 to 1929, was forecast as only 85.5 per cent. That of Illinois was put at 86.6 per cent, Iowa 92.5 per cent, and Michigan 95.4 per cent. Wisconsin fared the best with 101.2 per cent.

During July the crops in Illinois were estimated to have deteriorated 13.5 per cent, in Indiana 11 per cent, in Iowa 8.3 per cent, in Michigan 5 per cent, and in Wisconsin only 2.1 per cent.

West Virginia was shown by the comparisons to have the worst drought conditions in the country with an anticipated crop production of 65 per cent and a loss of 11.4 per cent during July. Other states acutely affected were Ohio, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Maryland, Virginia, Kentucky, Arkansas, Tennessee, Oklahoma, and Montana.

HOOVER BUSY ON RELIEF PLANS IN DROUGHT CRISIS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—[Special.] — President Hoover, after a week-end trip to his Rapidan camp, returned to the White House today and plunged into the task of perfecting plans for a drought relief program which he will lay before the governors of twelve states on Thursday.

Despite official intimations that the situation is not so critical as to cause great alarm, there was every indication at the White House and other governmental agencies that the President's promise that "no stone will be left unturned" in helping stricken farmers is to be carried out. Almost every hour of the day brought a new visitor to discuss some phase of the drought problem with the chief executive.

Considered most significant was the visit of John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross, who laid before the President a survey of eighteen states showing, for the first time, evidences of human suffering and health hazards as a result of the successive heat waves. In some states, Judge Payne said, the conditions are "bad" and in others "acute."

Drinking Water Hazard.

"The exhaustion of wells and other sources of drinking water presents a serious problem and health hazard" in Illinois, especially in the southern part, where "serious conditions will probably develop during the winter," the Red Cross report stated. In some southern Illinois counties, it added, "live stock is being shipped on account of lack of pasture and water."

"Living conditions are satisfactory" in Iowa and another state surveyed by the Red Cross, but renters may need assistance later. The report added that in Iowa there is no water shortage as yet, but it is anticipated in several southern counties.

Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde, who is Mr. Hoover's right hand assistant in the drought activity, visited the President several times during the day, bringing him on the last trip copies of today's official crop report of the department of agriculture.

Discuss Freight Rate Cuts.

Among the President's other visitors were Col. Alfred Thom, general counsel for the Association of Railroad Executives, who discussed with him plans for reduction in railroad rates on live stock and feed shipped into and out of the drought areas. Col. Thom said the purpose of his call was to ascertain if the railroad program would in any way interfere with the President's plan. He said he was assured that it would not.

Mr. Hoover received further reports on the drought from a delegation of congressmen from Kentucky, composed of Representatives Blackburn [Rep., Ky.], E. R. Kendall [Rep., N. Y.], and J. L. Newhall [Rep., Ky.], and from Representative James B. Aswell [Dem., La.], who called separately.

Declaring that only 25 per cent of the normal corn crop in Kentucky will be harvested even with rain in the next few days, Representative Blackburn said: "The situation is serious now, but it will be even more so this winter. Unemployment among tenant farmers is one of the biggest problems. Our counties already are floating road bond issues to give them work during the winter."

Louisiana Crops Suffer.

Representative Aswell pictured Louisiana as suffering acutely. Its corn crop has been virtually destroyed, he said, while there will be but one-half to three-fourths the normal cotton crop. Sugar cane, he said, is six weeks behind.

Each one of the twelve governors invited to the Thursday conference today had wired his acceptance and all will be present in person except Gov. Sampson of Kentucky, who will send a representative. Gov. Arthur Weaver of Nebraska, who was reported to have considered rejecting the invitation, sent word that he approved of the purpose of the conference and would come.

The day following the governors' conference, it was announced, the President will receive the heads of three large farm organizations. They are Samuel P. Thompson, president of the American Farm Bureau federation; Louis J. Taber, head of the National grange, and C. E. Huff, president of the Farmers' National Grain corporation.

Before Thursday it is expected that complete reports from county agents in the affected areas will be in Washington. About 200 reports had been received by the department of agriculture today and the others are expected tomorrow or Wednesday.

FIFTY FOREST FIRES IN UPPER MICHIGAN FANNED BY BREEZES

Menominee, Mich., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Sections of the drought stricken upper Michigan peninsula were in double jeopardy tonight, forest fires adding to the havoc already wrought by the long dry spell.

Fanned by a steady breeze, flames spread steadily onward from more than 50 large forest tracts in the district. One of the fires had eaten its way to within a half mile of this city's limits.

Every available man in the district was mustered in to aid in fighting the flames, but the work was made difficult by lack of water.

Possibility of windstorms constituted additional hazard tonight, fire wardens predicting that a gale of sizable proportion might cause destruction of everything inflammable within the district.

The situation in the bordering Wisconsin area also was reported as serious. Thousands of acres have been burned over and ten formidable fires were reported in the northeastern section of the state.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, Poland, Aug. 11.—More than 10,000 women in Poland having husbands in America are celebrating a Supreme court decision today respective to American divorces granted in American courts to Polish citizens residing in America.

Women in Poland often receive notices that their husbands, without their knowledge or agreement, have divorced them.

The Warsaw Supreme court decided today that "decisions of American courts dissolving marriages of Polish citizens are without legal value here. Polish authorities only can dissolve marriages of Polish citizens concluded in Poland. It is immaterial where the parties reside at present."

NEW COMPLAINTS AGAINST LAWYER IN FRAUD CASE

Two new complaints were filed yesterday against Attorney Charles B. Goodman, 1604 South Ridgeway avenue, who is charged with selling fraudulent mortgages to the amount of $125,000. He was arraigned before Judge John A. Sbarbaro in the Felony court, but a continuance to Aug. 13 was taken by agreement of counsel. Goodman was arrested last Friday at his home. Morris Rabin, 1303 South Springfield avenue, who said he lost his life's savings of $4,000, watched Goodman's apartment and when he saw Goodman enter he called a policeman.

2 MILLION IDLE IN BRITAIN MAY GET WORK IN EMPIRE

Plan Public Utility Jobs in Vacant Areas.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 11.—Wholesale emigration, under the direction of public utilities, which would be given special concessions for buying or leasing large tracts of vacant land which would be developed with the aid of the British and dominion governments, is labor's newest scheme for a solution of the unemployment problem.

Horace Greeley's "Go west, young man," would become "Go east or west," for the plan embraces all parts of the empire. The idea will be brought up at the forthcoming imperial conference in London with the hope that the dominions will approve the scheme and agree to a partnership with the Labor government in finding a place for the more than 2,000,000 persons unable to find work in Britain.

Times Demand New Ways.

The plan is a new approach on the emigration question. Members of the government feel that the old systems of homesteads and other piecemeal movements of people were wholly ineffective under modern conditions and that the dominions were also opposed to any haphazard undirected influx of British where they would only swell the ranks of their unemployed.

The scheme is therefore a pretentious plan to find a place for those at present unoccupied and not wanted. The utilities would be given cooperation in acquiring land and the development of virgin territories would be left in their hands. The British and dominion governments would aid in carrying out a comprehensive plan to settle the new territory and emigrants would be furnished as man power for the markets needed to establish a new economic frontier.

Would Aid Dominions.

The government is pushing the project for a new type of pioneer and even claims the idea is a solution of the unemployment problem of the dominions as well, since the opened territory will be open to the workless there as well as England.

It is understood that one dominion has already indorsed the scheme. There is no anticipation of trouble in finding investors in Britain or among the proponents in the event the plan is adopted.

BANK CHIEF GREETS EXAMINERS AND THEN KILLS SELF IN VAULT

Glens Falls, N. Y., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Herbert Snyder, 45, president of the First National bank of Argyle, pulled an adding machine into position for the convenience of two state bank examiners who came to examine the books of his institution today. Then he walked to a vault and shot himself to death.

No shots were heard, but when Snyder did not reappear after 20 minutes in the vault Porter A. Burgess, cashier, went to look for him. He found the president seated in a chair, a revolver close at hand, and bleeding from three bullet wounds near the heart. He lived for 15 minutes after he was found.

The examiners said their preliminary inspection showed no shortage in accounts. They had no reports of irregularities at the bank, they said, and went there only for a routine visit. The bank remained open.

MRS. GROSS TO FIGHT TO SET ASIDE DIVORCE

Mrs. Virginia Harrison Gross of New York will begin a court action to set aside the divorce decree obtained here last week by her husband, Capt. Christian Gross, attaché of the American legation in Switzerland. This was revealed yesterday, when Mrs. Gross, daughter of Francis Burton Harrison, former governor general of the Philippines, appeared before a justice of the New York Supreme court to ask for an additional $2,000 for attorney's fees to prosecute litigation over an $830,000 trust fund which she created for her husband.

Capt. Gross was granted a divorce by Superior Judge Gentzel last Friday on grounds of desertion. According to his wife's New York attorney the decree is illegal, because Gross claimed to be a resident of Chicago. Gross has been staying at the Chicago Athletic club while in the city, but will return soon to Switzerland.

The attorney said Mrs. Gross will also seek to have vacated the injunction which Gross obtained restraining a New York trust company from paying $250,000 of the trust fund to his wife. A New York court had previously ordered Gross to pay the sum to his estranged wife.

WOMAN IS SLAIN; SCOUT REPORT OF RUM VENGEANCE

Dry Officials Say She Was Not Informer.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 11.—[Special.] —The body of a young woman, found in a culvert near here on Saturday, has given a strange mystery for the police.

The body was first identified as that of Miss Clara Patterson, 31 years old, a hotel employé. Deputy sheriffs said Miss Patterson may have been killed by bootleggers in revenge for acting as "undercover" agent for federal prohibition men.

Federal men, however, said Miss Patterson never was an "undercover" agent. They admitted they had made many liquor raids in the house where she lived. They added bootleggers may have been suspicious of her because of that fact.

Later evidence tended to indicate that the body might not be that of Miss Patterson, but of an unknown young woman. Following this theory, police are trying to locate Miss Patterson, who has been missing a number of days.

In Another City.

Dispatches from Little Rock, Ark., quoted her mother as saying Miss Patterson was in another city.

The body, clad only in a raincoat and underclothes, was found by a Negro hunter. Deputy Sheriff Charles Garibaldi believed the body to be that of Miss Patterson.

It was Garibaldi who advanced the theory that she had been slain for her work as an informer for federal officers.

Deputy Prohibition Administrator Finis E. Wilson said that there was little or no basis for the revenge theory. He was joined by Sheriff Will Knight of Shelby county.

Later Federal Prohibition Agent E. J. Banet said that the lodgings of Miss Patterson had been used as a trap for liquor purchasers, but denied that she had ever acted as an undercover agent. He said that it was possible that activities of prohibition agents at her home may have led to her having been mistaken for an informer by bootleggers who suffered fines and convictions.

Bootleggers Misled.

"We never use women for such work," Banet said. "We have never used Miss Patterson in any such work. I did order several batches of liquor for delivery at the place where she lived and made two or three arrests there.

He was asked whether bootleggers might have been led to believe that she had informed on them following the arrests.

"Yes, I suppose they could," Banet answered, "but I don't believe that happened. We haven't got that kind of bootleggers here. I don't think the deputies are working on the right angle."

THOMAS F. RYAN II. WITHDRAWS DIVORCE SUIT AND CHARGES

Sheridan, Wyo., Aug. 11.—(AP)—The divorce suit of Thomas F. Ryan II, which was filed in District court here Saturday, came to an abrupt end today when a motion to dismiss the case without prejudice was filed by the plaintiff.

Mr. Ryan, scion of a wealthy New York family, in a statement said "the charges brought against Mrs. Ryan were absolutely without foundation or justification."

The statement added that the plaintiff could offer no explanation for such action on his part other than being directly attributable to injuries to his head suffered in a recent automobile accident which left him in an impulsive mental condition."

PUBLISHERS ACT FOR INQUIRY ON CHICAGO GANGS

State's Attorney Asked to Name 2 Lawyers.

The newspapers of Chicago have agreed upon a plan, which is to be submitted to State's Attorney Swanson and which suggests the appointment of two outstanding lawyers of Chicago as special assistant state's attorneys to conduct an investigation of "gang, police and official corruption and viciousness."

Mr. Swanson indicated last night that he favored the proposal, and that he will carry it into effect.

Swanson Welcomes Idea.

"I welcome any public spirited movement to help clean up crime conditions in Chicago," Mr. Swanson said. "I have always invited the closest cooperation of citizens and organizations in the work of my office.

"However, I wish to say that an investigation of this character, to be successful, cannot be conducted with the blare of publicity and sensationalism that has featured many similar investigations of the past. Past investigations have failed because of this practice.

"The inquiry should be secret. No facts should be divulged to the newspapers or to others, concerning the progress of the inquiry, until the criminals are under arrest and the evidence against them is complete.

Examples Are Cited.

"Too often the evidence collected by the police and the prosecutor is rendered without value through its publication in the newspapers. Criminals who are being sought for crimes escape. Witnesses who can identify criminals are frightened by publicity. The same witnesses are exposed to intimidation and violence at the hands of the criminals they have identified.

"Important facts which should be marshaled together and sprung upon defendants at their trial are given into the hands of defense attorneys months before the trial and when the trial comes on alibis have been manufactured, perjured testimony is presented, and the element of surprise, important in criminal prosecutions, is defeated.

"These are a few examples of what I mean when I say that in order to a successful a criminal investigation Chicago's gangs, and of corruption public offices, should and must be cast in its character.

Time for Publicity.

"The time for publicity of news in criminal matters is obvious. When the exposure of the facts will, in the opinion of the prosecution, work no injury to the investigation or the case, then the facts should be fully told. This may be upon the arrest of a criminal, or upon his indictment, or upon his being brought to trial and in the trial itself."

Mr. Swanson said that when the plan for the investigation is agreed upon such assistants as he may require for the work will be selected by himself.

"Of course," he said, "I will give due consideration to recommendations or suggestions which may be offered by public spirited citizens or civic organizations."

Thomason Starts Movement.

The movement for the appointment of the special prosecutors, who are expected to launch an extensive investigation into gangland, and into gangland's corruption of police officers and politicians, was initiated by S. E. Thomason, publisher of the Chicago Daily Illustrated Times.

Mr. Thomason submitted his proposal in a letter sent to the six other Chicago newspapers whose publishers are members of the Chicago local of the American Newspaper Publishers' association.

The letter made it plain that Mr. Thomason implied no criticism of the manner in which the investigation of the murder of Alfred Lingle, which is in charge of Charles F. Rathbun, member of THE TRIBUNE law firm and special assistant state's attorney, is being conducted.

Lingle Inquiry to Continue.

Mr. Rathbun, with Special Assistant State's Attorney James E. McShane and Pat Roche, chief investigator for State's Attorney Swanson, will continue in full charge of the Lingle inquiry, which it was made plain would be in no way interfered with by activities in the new investigation of gangland generally.

Mr. Thomason, in his letter, pointed out that the Chicago publishers, at a meeting following the Lingle murder, had adopted a resolution pledging themselves to a cleanup of "gang, police, official, and any other public viciousness, wherever it may appear."

The Times' publisher stated that Prosecutor Rathbun had limited his inquiry strictly to the murder of Lingle, and that the publishers have not met to consider means of carrying out their pledge since a short time after the resolution was adopted.

Wants United Action.

With this thought in mind, Mr. Thomason then proposed that a letter be sent to State's Attorney Swanson and to District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson, signed by the publishers and suggesting that Mr. Swanson name two leading members of the Chicago bar as special prosecutors to direct a gangland investigation, and that Mr. Johnson direct his resources, or the resources of the federal government, in support of the investigation.

It is understood that all the Chicago members of the publishers' association have agreed to the appointment of the two special prosecutors and that at a meeting to be held today the formal action in notifying Mr. Swanson will be taken.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, in a reply to Mr. Thomason's letter, outlined its views on the investigation and laid down qualifications upon which THE TRIBUNE shall support the proposed action.

THE TRIBUNE LETTER

THE TRIBUNE'S letter to Mr. Thomason follows:

"Dear Mr. Thomason: In replying to your question of Aug. 6 I find it necessary to correct some of the statements in your letter and to make some observations indispensable to an answer.

"The agreement to appoint Mr. Rathbun an assistant state's attorney to prosecute the Lingle murderer was entirely separate from the resolution adopted by the publishers to coöperate in the eradication of crime.

"The first was at THE TRIBUNE'S motion and referred to the only connection between the newspapers and gangland known to it at that time, the murder of Lingle. The second was adopted upon your suggestion and was introduced by you because of information you had received that the three newspaper men named Read, Reese, and [* * *] had been involved in gangland. At that meeting all the publishers were undoubtedly sincere in their desire for the punishment of the Lingle murderer and for the cleaning up of gangland.

Motive Is Revealed.

"It was at the second meeting that Mr. Black introduced his suggestion that two additional attorneys be appointed to investigate the Lingle murder—one by the Hearst interests and one by the Chicago Daily News. This suggestion, so mystifying at the time, it has since been made public, was caused by a double motive—first, to prevent the exposure of Reese and Rosenheim of the News, of Tod, Read, and Foley of the Hearst papers, and, second, to prevent a successful prosecution of the Lingle murderers.

"No one can avoid the conclusion that these were the motives who has seen the persistent and unceasing attempts of the Daily News and the Hearst papers to interfere with the course of justice—attempts which began when the fact that Foster was wanted by the police was published by the Hearst papers 36 hours before the policemen sent to apprehend him could reach Los Angeles, where he was hiding, and which have continued daily throughout two months and are still continuing.

"It cannot, therefore, correctly be asserted that the publishers can ask for the appointments of assistant state's attorneys as a part of their previous action.

A Change of Heart.

"It may, however, arise as a new movement and as an expression of the change of heart on the part of the Hearst papers and the Daily News, whose conduct has been entirely prejudicial to the investigation of the murder of Lingle and the enforcement of law.

"If this new resolution is to mean that the support once offered to the state's attorney and then withdrawn is now to be given loyally and continuously, then THE TRIBUNE will be glad to coöperate.

"However, as one action may be the precursor to another, even as remote as your proposed action today is from that undertaken by the publishers at its previous meetings, it seems necessary for THE TRIBUNE to make plain its position in any further proposed joint action of the publishers.

A Financial Alliance.

"In the past the publishers' organization has been composed of six or more newspapers, no more than two of which were ever under a single control. At the present time, as we all know, the Hearst papers and the Daily News are connected by the same financial house and are working in close sympathy, while the Daily News is a large owner of stock in the Daily Times.

"With four of the six members of the association allied financially, and with THE TRIBUNE in disaccord with three of them, it is obvious that henceforth THE TRIBUNE can participate in publishers' meetings solely on the understanding that no action of any kind binding upon the members may be taken except by unanimous consent.

"In conclusion, then, I may say that, agreeable to the facts as repeated in this letter and to the limitation of obligation stated herein, THE TRIBUNE will be glad to join the other newspapers in the suggestion that two leaders of the bar be requested to investigate crime conditions as they have existed in Chicago.

"THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE."

THE THOMASON APPEAL

Mr. Thomason's letter, addressed to the members of the "Chicago Local of the A. N. P. A." and dated Aug. 6, follows:

"Gentlemen: You will recall that our last meeting was held at the call of the president June 14, and no meeting has been called since that date.

"At the last meeting, during the discussion of our joint resolution of June 11, Mr. Herman Black proposed that we request the state's attorney to appoint two special prosecutors to work in collaboration with Special Prosecutor Charles Rathbun in his investigation of the murder of 'Jake' Lingle.

"It was not contended that Mr. Rathbun was not competent or able, but, as I have understood Mr. Black's purpose, the two additional prosecutors were to be nominated by the whole membership of our association, as Mr. Rathbun had been nominated by THE TRIBUNE. The purpose of this suggestion appears to have been overlooked in the discussion which ensued, and the meeting adjourned with no action taken in furtherance of the June 11 resolution.

Points to Limitation.

"Seven weeks have elapsed since the June 14th meeting, and the developments in the meantime demonstrate clearly the wisdom of a vote upon these proposals. Mr. Rathbun has made it plain that he is limiting his inquiry strictly to the effort to find and punish Lingle's killers. Presumably in so doing he is proceeding in accordance with the state's attorney's directions and with the approval of THE TRIBUNE, which is financing his work. I understand that he is making progress, and I cannot see that he is subject to any criticism for limiting the scope of his work.

"But in the meantime all of the newspaper members of our association stand jointly pledged to 'the cleanup of gang, police, official, and any other public viciousness wherever it may appear.' And, as an organization, we have not been brought together nor come together to discuss ways and means to carry out our obligation.

"The legally designated officials through whom this pledge can be effectively discharged are the state and federal prosecuting officers, the state's attorney, and the United States attorney. Only by collaborating with them in a determined effort can we get anywhere in discharging the obligation we jointly assumed seven weeks ago.

Drafts Swanson Letter.

"I propose, therefore, that the following communication be sent by all of us 'acting in accord and unison' to these officials:

"'To State's Attorney Swanson and United States Attorney Johnson.

"'Dear Sirs: June 11 the publishers of all Chicago daily papers adopted the following resolution:

"'"The intolerable outrages of the past year against civic decency and public security in Chicago have culminated dramatically in the cowardly murder of Alfred J. Lingle, a newspaper reporter.

"'"The undersigned Chicago newspapers interpret that murder as an especially significant challenge to the millions of decent citizens who have suffered the vicious activities, in defiance of law and order, of some paltry hundreds of criminal vagrants known as gangsters.

"'"Considering the causes and the connotations of the unbelievable total of 100 gang murders in little more than a year and acting in accord and unison, we pledge our organizations and our resources to the cleanup of gang, police, official, and any other public viciousness wherever it may appear, in order that corruption and the resulting gang activities may be brought to an end, and thereby restoring to the citizens of Chicago civic decency and security of life and property.

"'"Chicago Daily Illustrated Times,
"'"Chicago Daily News,
"'"Chicago Evening American,
"'"Chicago Evening Post,
"'"Chicago Herald and Examiner,
"'"Chicago Journal of Commerce,
"'"Chicago Tribune."

"'We are informed that Special Assistant State's Attorney Charles Rathbun is confining his efforts to the discovery and punishment of Al Lingle's murderers. To carry out the broader purposes of our joint resolution we call upon the state's attorney of Cook county to appoint two members of the Chicago bar, conspicuous for their energy, courage, experience, and ability, as special assistant state's attorneys under his supervision, charged to investigate gang, police, and official corruption and viciousness.

Asks Federal Coöperation.

"'We bespeak for these special assistant prosecutors, when appointed, the coöperation and assistance of the United States district attorney, whose resources of information and experience will be invaluable in the inquiry we request. Assuming the appointment of competent and able men, and their vigorous prosecution of their duties, we commit ourselves to the united support of the work of the special assistant state's attorneys so appointed, and we shall in every possible manner carry out the terms of our resolution of June 11.'

"I have asked the secretary of Chicago local to submit to a written vote of the members the wisdom and necessity of sending this communication.

"Personally, I cannot believe that our June 11 pledge can be forgotten with impunity to ourselves or Chicago. I know that all the other members of Chicago local share this high regard for the obligations of that pledge. I, therefore, hope this proposal will have your favorable vote.

"Sincerely,

Attached to the Thomason letter, as sent to the Chicago publishers, was a ballot reading as follows:

"I vote—in favor of)—(against)—the transmission to the state's attorney of Cook county and the United States district attorney of the communication quoted in Mr. Thomason's letter of Aug. 6."

Space is left for the signature of the publisher and the name of the newspaper he represents.

BOMBAY, India, Aug. 11.—(AP)—The British administration of India tonight faced two problems of utmost gravity—incursions of wild tribesmen in the northwestern frontier province and Hindu-Moslem strife in the Sind district that caused troops to be rushed there today. News from both areas was scanty because of censorship.

In the Sind, a province of Bombay presidency, along the Indus river, much fighting has occurred in the last two weeks. The trouble began in Sukkur, Aug. 5, with 12 persons being killed and 150 injured. Since then there have been at least eight more deaths and 150 injuries.

Post Troops and Armed Police.

Now the trouble is centering in the districts remote from large cities. Troops will be posted in the villages of Pano, Akil, Sultanpur, Ghotki, and Dubar, while armed police have been sent to Khanpur, Mirpur, Mathelo, and other talugas [revenue districts] on the left bank of the Indus.

An official communique issued today appraised the Sind situation as follows:

"The disorders commenced in Sukkur but spread to Rohri and adjacent villages. The origin reportedly was in a dispute between members of a Swarajist procession [Nationalist workers for independence] and a Moslem tonga [cart] driver, exaggerated accounts of which gave rise to alarmist rumors, followed by serious clashes between the two communities.

"The casualties have been serious and the latest reports indicate that the situation is not yet under complete control."

Nehrus to Join Gandhi.

Most important of the Indian political developments today was the departure of Pandit Motilal Nehru and Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru from their prison at Allahabad to Yeravda jail at Poona, where they will join Mahatma Gandhi. There the three leaders will be interviewed by two native leaders who are attempting to bring peace to the country, Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru and Mr. Jayakar.

Reports today indicated that the guerrilla warfare of 10,000 Afridis continued to menace Peshawar, far on the northwestern frontier, and that the trouble was spreading. All the conquerors of India in centuries past, save only those who came by sea, have entered through the famous Khyber pass leading from Afghanistan. Peshawar is the key to this pass, and the British have mobilized all the forces of modern warfare to protect the strategic city. The gates remain closed.

Hence they do not believe that the Afridis will attempt a mass attack because of the danger of airplanes. The hill men are cunning, however, and are giving trouble all around the city, and they have found one trick that deceives the bombers.

Laugh at Bombing Planes.

When they hear planes approaching they lay their brilliantly colored turbans and gowns on the ground, then flee to caves. The airplanes shower down bombs, thinking they are obliterating a force in the open, while the Afridis chuckle in their underground recesses.

TRACKLESS CAR CRASHES, HANGS OVER BRIDGE

Found Shot Three Times in Northwest Side Flat

Shot three times in the body, John Roscoe, 29 years old, was found by the West North avenue police early this morning in his third floor apartment at 2719 Crystal street. Vague about his assailant, he was taken to the Bridewell hospital. Surgeons there said he had an even chance to recover. The police were investigating a report that he was shot during a quarrel at a Checker cab stand at North and Damen avenues.

Albert De Fries, president of the American State bank at Gary, Ind., was found dead yesterday in his home, 717 Van Buren street, Gary, supposedly a suicide. His wife, who had spent the previous night at the near-by home of her daughter, Mrs. Ben Evans, returned home at 7:30 a. m. with her son-in-law, a vice president of the bank, and, smelling gas, summoned police.

De Fries, who was 43 years old and had been in ill health for two years, had turned on all gas jets in the kitchen, according to police. He had been dead about two hours when his body was found.

Directors of the bank, which was capitalized for $50,000 and showed assets of $886,424 on July 1, met hurriedly and placed the institution in the hands of Thomas Barr, deputy state banking commissioner. He ordered the bank closed pending an audit by the state banking department and the Gary Clearing House association.

Mr. Barr said the preliminary examination indicated that the bank was sound.

Subpoenaed Judge Is Not Required to Face Court

Municipal Judge John H. Lyle, who refused jury trials to Robert Emmet Ryan and Peter Deinero and sentenced them to jail for carrying guns, was not required to appear yesterday before Criminal court judges to defend his action. Petitions for the release of the men on writs of habeas corpus had been filed, and Judge Lyle was subpoenaed, but Criminal Court Judge Daniel P. Trude continued Deinero's petition until Aug. 21 and then the writ in behalf of Ryan was withdrawn. Later it was refiled by Attorney Frank McDonnell and it will be considered today by Judge Trude.

GUNMEN SEIZED; CONFESS KILLING THEIR PURSUER

The two Negro gunmen sought for the killing of John Stasnick, 50 years old, and the wounding of his son, Steven, 20 years old, on Sunday night, were captured yesterday. The prisoners, Leroy Miller, 19 years old, 4423 South Dearborn street, and Charles Davis, 20 years old, 149 West 45th street, confessed, Miller admitting he fired the shots.

A police squad under Sergt. Michael Curtin captured Miller when he fled after snatching a purse from Mrs. Florence Cook, 7319 South Claremont avenue, at 47th street and Wabash avenue. He implicated Davis, who was seized at his home.

The pair had held up the slain Stasnick's cousin, David Chalko, 40 years old, and robbed him of 3 cents near the Stasnick home, 130 Swan street. Stasnick and his son were shot when they pursued the robbers.

For all SILKS use the new CARBONA
POWDER
REMOVES GREASE SPOTS WITHOUT LEAVING A "RING"
Most silks are now "weighted" or "loaded" with foreign substances to make them appear of better quality. Liquid cleaners dissolve this "weighting" or "loading," and this causes "rings" on Silks. We have therefore created Carbona Grease Absorbent Powder for use on Silks only. This Powder will not affect "weighting" or "loading" in any way—it absorbs Grease Spots instead of dissolving them, and no "rings" can result from its use on Silks.

SEVEN AIRPLANES LEAVE TO BLAZE AIR RACE TRAILS

Three Noted Flyers Enter Nonstop Derby.

BY ROBERT WOOD.

Seven airplanes rose from Curtiss airport in a group yesterday morning, scattered in the air and flew off in seven directions. They bore the pathfinders for the seven cross country air derbies which will finish at Curtiss field during the National Air races to be staged here from Aug. 23 to Sept. 1.

The planes are on their way to Los Angeles, Miami, Hartford, Conn.; Seattle, Wash.; Brownsville, Tex.; Long Beach, Cal., and Washington, D. C., and along their routes to the rim of the United States they will stop to make arrangements at various control points for reporting the racing planes as they speed through on their way to the Chicago races.

Two of the seven derbies are for women pilots. The women flying airplanes in the high power class will take off from Long Beach next Sunday under the direction of C. F. Lienesch, a veteran flyer over the southern transcontinental route, who will accompany the "powder-puff" derby across the hazardous mountain passes and over western planes to Chicago.

To Guide Women Flyers.

Maj. E. E. Aldrin of New Jersey, a former army flyer, will guide the women in the Dixie derby, which will start from Washington, D. C., on Aug. 22, swing down to the Gulf of Mexico and then up the Mississippi valley to the finishing point. Army planes bearing flight surgeons will accompany the women pilots to see that they are kept in physical trim.

The airman who is surveying the trail of the nonstop derby which will start from Los Angeles in time to end here on the afternoon of Aug. 27 is Dudley Steele, west coast flyer. Ray W. Brown of St. Louis is surveying the route of the men's Atlantic derby for high powered planes.

Although complete entries for the derbies are not expected for another week, three of the foremost racing flyers already have signed up for the nonstop flight. William Brock, around the world flyer; Lee Schoehair, holder of air speed records, and Wiley Post of Oklahoma City are grooming planes for the 1,760 mile dash across the country. All will fly Lockheed Vega monoplanes powered with Wasp motors so that the race between this trio will depend largely on piloting skill.

Chicagoans to Direct Flight.

R. C. Allen, Chicago flyer, will direct the cross country contest for pilots flying ships in the low power group leaving Brownsville on Aug. 19, and Emory Bronte, the second flyer to hop from the mainland of North America to Hawaii, will lay out the route for the men's derby, starting from Seattle on Aug. 21. The eastern derby, starting from Hartford on Aug. 21, will be under the direction of John P. Porter of Chicago, test pilot for the army air service during the war.

The race directors received word yesterday from Capt. Frank Hawks, who recently established a new transcontinental air speed record with a flight from New York to Los Angeles, that he will fly to the National Air tourney and will bring with him the speed plane in which he made the record, and his small glider ,the Eaglet, in which he was recently towed from coast to coast. Hawks will fly to Chicago after he has completed his attempt to lower the west-to-east air speed record now held jointly by Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh.

ST. LOUIS PAIR DRAW NEARER ENDURANCE MARK OF HUNTERS

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brine were counting off the hours tonight as they came nearer and nearer the 554 hour endurance flight mark held by the Hunter brothers of Sparta, Ill.

First it was weeks, then days, and now it's only a matter of hours until the record taken to Chicago from St. Louis may be back here again. If the Greater St. Louis plane is still in the air at 9:52 a. m. [Central standard time] Wednesday, Jackson and O'Brine will have exceeded the Hunter brothers' mark by one hour as required under rules governing endurance flights.

If the St. Louis airmen establish a new endurance record it probably will be witnessed by the flyers who are losing it, for the Hunter brothers arrived at Lambert-St. Louis field today and expect to remain several days. The Jackson-O'Brine flight has cost the Hunter brothers $100,000 in potential contracts, their manager, Harry Perkins, said, but they do not contemplate another endurance flight.

The Greater St. Louis plane had been aloft 513 hours at 4:11 p. m. today.

"The engine is running fine," O'Brine said over the radio this morning. "We are having a lot of fun out of this flight. Just two more days and we will be sailing down hill."

The flyers intend to stay in the air eight days beyond the present mark and to set a record of about 750 hours.

Daughter of Late Senator Clark Divorced at Reno

Reno, Nev., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Mrs. Huguette Clark Gower, daughter of the late Senator W. A. Clark of Montana, copper magnate, was granted a divorce from William Macdonald Gower on grounds of desertion here today. The couple married in Santa Barbara, Cal., Aug. 18, 1928, and separated more than a year ago. There are no children.

MADE VICE PRESIDENT.

Otto F. Closius, former cashier of the Prudential State Savings bank at North avenue and Halsted street, has been elected vice president. Other newly elected officials are George K. Schmidt Jr., son of City Controller George K. Schmidt, as cashier, and George K. Kunz, assistant cashier.

LAY AIR CRASH TO NEGLIGENCE OF PLANE OWNER

Blame the Pilot Also for Flaunting Storm.

Negligence on the part of both the pilot and the owner of the plane brought about the deaths Saturday of two girls and a young commercial aviator when the Ryan monoplane Magic Carpet plunged through the top of a huge gas container on the north side and was crushed into a jumble of twisted metal in forty feet of water.

This was the verdict returned late yesterday by a coroner's jury, which conducted an inquest into the three deaths under the direction of Coroner Bundesen. The dead were Orville Suchy, 1144 West 80th street, the pilot, and two sisters, Mary and Eugenia Laws, 2250 Warren avenue, who had gone for a $5 "joy ride" as a thundersquall was approaching.

Flew Too Near to Storm.

The dead pilot was held responsible by the jury because he flew "too close to a severe storm in defiance to rules of safe aircraft operation." Ralph Caffarello, owner of the plane and chief mechanic for the Blue Bird Air service, Municipal airport concern, was condemned by the jury because of "gross mismanagement in permitting his equipment to be taken into the air when expert testimony showed that meteorological conditions in the vicinity in which the flight was to be made were dangerous."

Additional censure for a third party —the Universal Air lines—was given by Dr. Bundesen when it developed that the Magic Carpet had been chartered by an attorney last Thursday for a flight to Louisville, the attorney believing that he was flying a Universal owned plane. According to the testimony, the large concern took the order and accepted a commission from the Blue Bird service for "farming out" the charter to them.

"It seems peculiar," the coroner said, "that the Universal lines did not have a representative at the inquest. I should have liked to inquire into this practice."

May Prosecute Another Pilot.

Although the jury made no recommendations, save to praise the Peoples Gas, Light, and Coke company, owners of the gas tank, for its efficiency in expediting the removal of the bodies and the wreckage, it appeared possible that criminal proceedings may be instituted against another Blue Bird pilot, Joseph Bailey. The latter testified that he had flown the Magic Carpet to Louisville Thursday, with paying passengers, when his license did not permit so long a trip.

"But why," asked Maj. Reed Landis, deputy coroner, "did you take these passengers when you knew your limited commercial pilot's license only allowed you to fly passengers 10 miles from your hangar?"

"I needed money for my vacation," Bailey answered, "the other Blue Bird ship, a Buhl biplane, has been tied up for repairs for a month, and I wasn't able to make any money."

Bailey has had about 300 hours as a pilot, but this flight to Louisville included his first cross-country night flying, he testified. His passengers told the jury that the plane was not in good condition for the trip.

Norman Schiebe, 2446 West 63d street, testified that he called the Universal lines to charter the plane because he thought "they were a reliable concern." He didn't know until yesterday that the ship was not owned and operated by that concern, he said.

Repair Plane on Trip.

"When we reached Indianapolis on the return trip," said Attorney Elmer W. Arch, 320 Wisconsin avenue, Oak Park, another passenger, "field mechanics told us the bottom of the fuselage was ripped. It was badly ripped and Bailey hired men to repair it. Men at the field told us the plane was in no condition to stand bad weather, but said it 'might' be all right in good weather. Leaving there Bailey became lost and landed at Lauder, Ill., near Springfield, and I refused to go farther with him. I came back to Chicago on a bus."

At Indianapolis last night, Capt. Cook, manager of the Curtiss-Wright airport, said he recalled the plane and its condition. "I didn't think it was safe," he said.

R-100 TWICE POKES NOSE OVER U. S. SOIL ON CRUISE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 11.—Shortly after 3 p. m. [Chicago daylight saving time] today the huge British dirigible, R-100, reached Montreal from a 24 hour 1,000 mile side trip into Canada.

While clouds covered the sky and rain fell intermittently, it was decided to stay aloft until dark so there would be no danger from the sun or heat from the ground on landing. The airship cruised over Montreal, anchoring to the mooring mast at 6:40 p. m. A 16 year old boy, trying to get a better glimpse of the dirigible from a high tension power tower, was electrocuted.

During its flight today the R-100 twice flew over United States soil, both times crossing the international border at Niagara Falls. After flying over Ottawa last night, the great ship flew west, passed over Toronto three times and skirted the west end of Lake Ontario. The dirigible was sighted at Niagara Falls first shortly before 6 a. m. It disappeared to return several hours later. Refueling for the return trip to England was started tonight. Twelve hours are required. The airship may start its return hop early Wednesday morning.

A two foot tear in the ship's fabric above the forward propeller was discovered by the wing commander. He said it would not delay the ship.

ANNUAL CLINIC IS OPENED AT COUNTY HOSPITAL

The fifth annual session of the summer clinics at the Cook county hospital opened yesterday with more than 100 physicians and surgeons attending the lectures and laboratory demonstrations. The clinics are supervised by Dr. Karl Meyer, chief surgeon at the county hospital, and are to last until Aug. 22.

Yesterday the doctors heard Dr. Sydney Portis on the medical care of the gastro-intestinal tract, Dr. John Harger on general surgery, and Dr. Robert Keeton on metabolism. This afternoon the first operation of the clinic will be performed by Dr. Meyer.

Ex-State Senator Van Lent Held Up by Four Gunmen

Former State Senator George Van Lent, 329 South Wood street, was held up by four armed men last night as he was putting his new sedan in a private garage in the rear of 328 South Paulina street. The robbers searched Van Lent's pockets, taking $40, and drove away in his automobile. "We need your car in our business," one of the robbers said.

COPS FIND THEIR MAN BY BULGES IN HIS SHOES

Beacon, who worked as a clerk in the Reckner hotel in Tecumseh, owned by Mrs. Lillian King, disappeared last Sunday. At the same time Mrs. King missed $1,000 in bills. She notified the sheriff of her loss and of the disappearance of Beacon. She told the sheriff that Beacon always secreted his money in his shoes.

Chicago police were notified that the clerk might be on his way to Chicago and two detectives were stationed at the 12th street station of the Illinois Central railroad where they eyed each man's shoes carefully. Finally Beacon appeared, walking rather wearily, it seemed. The detectives arrested him and told him to take off his shoes. There they found $975.

CUTS FARES.

Another reduction of from ten to twenty per cent in transcontinental bus fares has been announced by O. S. Caesar, president of the Greyhound lines.

Henry Leffman, M.D., Ph.D., D.D.S.,*

Noted Philadelphia Medical and Dental Authority says:

"Colgate's stands in a class by itself"

DR. HENRY LEFFMAN announces, after conducting a series of dramatic tests on eight of the leading tooth pastes, that "Colgate's stands in a class by itself." That is important news to the public. To the dental profession it is not news. For they have been recommending this dentifrice throughout the 30 years of its existence.

Dr. Leffman, recognized as a conservative member of his profession throughout the country, makes a conclusive statement which is reprinted here. Read every word of it.

You will find his opinion is substantiated by scientific authorities, such as Dr. Shirley W. Wynne, Commissioner of Health of New York City; Dr. Hardee Chambliss, Dean of the School of Sciences, Catholic University, and others who have been retained to render expert opinion.

Why not accept the judgment of these impartial scientists who know what a dentifrice should do?

Their experiments show how and why Colgate's cleans better than ordinary sluggish, pasty dentifrices. They demonstrate the penetrating power of Colgate's active bubbling foam which rushes down into the tiny crevices where food collects, and flushes away these dangerous decay-producing particles. Thus Colgate's cleans the hidden, hard-to-reach places, as well as the smooth outer surfaces.

This tremendous weight of scientific evidence is behind the claim that Colgate's cleans best. This claim is supported, also, by the Dental Profession, on whose recommendation more people use Colgate's than any other.

Dr. Leffman says:

"I have made surface tension determinations of eight samples of tooth pastes. One of these samples is Colgate's tooth paste. All samples were in original packages as furnished in the open market.

"Colgate's preparation, therefore, gets into the crevices between the teeth, washing out decaying food, etc.

"The fact that dental authorities agree that a dentifrice, to be really effective, must thoroughly cleanse the teeth and gums, is evidenced by the statement of A. R. Schermerhorn, D. D. S., who states in 'The Dental Cosmos' for July, 1929 (page 690): 'A dentifrice has only one function to perform and that is to clean teeth safely and well.' Low surface tension is conducive to this, while high surface tension works against it.

"Colgate's stands in a class by itself, lowering the surface tension far more than any of the seven other samples. Four of the samples gave a surface tension not much below that of plain water, while the three other samples were intermediate."

Sincerely,

Henry Leffman, M.D., D.D.S.

CROWDS' ACCLAIM SPURS SINGERS IN FESTIVAL TESTS

Winners Chosen in Four More Theaters.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Here we go into the last two weeks of the most exciting musical event ever held. Chicago is selecting its best singers to appear against the best singers of the five surrounding states, and the Chicagoland Music Festival here on the night of Aug. 23 is the goal.

Four Publix-Balaban & Katz theaters in four residential sections of Chicago opened their stages last night to the young silver and golden throats of their neighborhoods, and four enormous audiences cheered the contestants when they sang, called them back when they had finished, and redoubled the enthusiasm when names of the winners were called.

Encourages Contestants.

It was exciting even to be in the audience, but it was the kind of excitement that spurred on the contestants, friendly excitement, enthusiasm that encouraged them to do their best, that incited the winners to go further in the contests and the losers to enter again next year. For here were singers, unknown in many cases, with their reputations in the future, presenting talents of a kind that made the judges open their eyes and the audiences believe that the race of Melbas and Nordicas has not perished from the earth, but renewed itself.

This was the night of the sopranos and contraltos. Here is the list of the winners, to be joined later in the week by their companions of the male sex:

UPTOWN THEATER — Tena Greenwood, 7344 Ridge boulevard, soprano; Florence Anderson, 3633 Wilton avenue, contralto; the judges, Mrs. Edmund Tyler, Mrs. Lillian Goodale Goodman, Willard Andelin, Mrs. Attilio Andelin, and Mrs. J. E. Atkisson.

40 Other Cities in Race.

What Chicago is doing is being done by some 40 other cities in the Chicagoland district. The end, looking at it narrowly, is the Chicagoland Music Festival a week from next Saturday night, but more broadly, it is in a number of cases the opening of a career. For these singers were rightfully acclaimed last night. There were several distinct, decisive talents, of the kind that later on will, without the least doubt, be widely known. They were applauded last night because they did some delightful singing, and that is the best kind of applause.

It was curious to observe how earnest they all were. Light and frivolous music was simply not in their scheme of things. They were after the good things that the great composers have written. They knew how to be entertaining, and how at the same time to avoid the twin evils of dullness on the one side and unseriousness on the other.

Works of Great Composers.

Take Miss Dennen, for instance, at the Paradise, who sang "Mi chiamano Mimè" from Puccini's "La Boheme." Or Miss Lewis at the Marbro, who sang the Gavotte from Massenet's "Manon." Or Mrs. Nutter at the Tivoli, who, though only last week she had the news of the death of her father in California, went on and sang Secchi's "When Two That Love Are Parted," doing it, she said, because she knew he would want her to make her appearance just as though nothing had happened. These are the songs that are sung by the great artists, and the audiences applauded them last night because they are great songs.

ANTI-SALOON AID SUES MABEL AND TWO OVER STORY

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Mabel Willebrandt, former assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition enforcement; David Lawrence, writer; the Current News Features, Inc., and Hilmar Baukhage, all of Washington, today were named defendants in a $200,000 damage suit filed by Gus O. Nations of St. Louis in the District of Columbia Supreme court.

The suit is based on statements contained in a publication Aug. 14, 1929, made in one of a series of articles by Mrs. Willebrandt on the "inside of prohibition." In an advance notice of the article it was said she would tell "how she had to fight the Anti-Saloon league to remove a crooked but popular agent."

Nations said that as a result of the publication of the Willebrandt articles he had been brought into disrepute and injured in the performance of his duties as a director of the Anti-Saloon league and as an attorney for the league in Missouri.

HELENE YIELDS TO CAROL IN ROW OVER DIVORCE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Aug. 11.—The last obstacle to getting King Carol's reign smoothly under way, namely the refusal of Helene to allow a nullification of her divorce and assume the throne alongside of him, appears to have been removed, according to unofficial reports today.

Helene is said to have yielded to Carol's interpretation that the divorce never actually existed, because he had never agreed to it. The credit for persuading her to change her mind is given Nicholas Titulescu, Rumanian minister to London.

Pacific Flyers Wreck Plane on Landing; Call Off Flight

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Their plane seriously damaged in landing at Ladner airport, near here, Bob Wark, Seattle, and Eddie Brown, Kansas City, today abandoned their proposed four stop flight from Tacoma, Wash., to Tokio. The propeller of their plan, Pacific Era, was smashed and the undercarriage badly damaged. The plane ran into a ditch. Wark sustained a slightly injured knee. The flyers were forced down here yesterday on a flight from Tacoma. Fearing Vancouver airport at Lulu Island lacked sufficient distance for a takeoff, they went to Ladner, where there is a longer runway.

The county board yesterday opened bids on seven highway projects calling for 9.6 miles of pavement at a total cost of approximately $327,500. County Commissioner Busse, chairman of the road and bridges committee, said there were more bids for the work than ever received before for county jobs.

The projects on which contracts will be awarded next week are as follows:

The board passed a resolution asking all motorists to use only the right lanes on the 40 foot highways except when passing other vehicles. Coöperation has been promised by the county highway police, the resolution stated.

FESS ACCEPTS RESIGNATION OF WOMAN LEADER

Pledges to Support Norris if He's Nominated.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Senator Simeon D. Fess, new chairman of the Republican national committee, sprang a surprise in political circles today by abruptly accepting the telephoned resignation of Mrs. Louise M. Dodson, director of the women's division of the Republican party. By acting at once Senator Fess stole a march upon Republican committee women, who had planned to appeal to President Hoover to obtain the retention of Mrs. Dodson.

MRS. LOUISE M. DODSON.

That Mrs. Dodson's resignation had been accepted became known after Chairman Fess had stated at the White House that the Republican national committee will support any candidate selected in a Republican primary. Mr. Fess was asked specifically if this ruling would apply to Senator George W. Norris [Rep., Neb.], senate radical bloc leader, who supported Gov. Smith instead of Mr. Hoover during the last national election.

Plans to Elect, Not Select.

"Nebraska is no exception," Mr. Fess replied. "The committee's business is to elect, not to select. When Republicans select a candidate I'd feel it my duty as chairman to support the candidate."

Mrs. Dodson called Mr. Fess this afternoon just before the new chairman departed for the White House for a conference with President Hoover on the congressional elections and the political situation generally.

"Is this official?" Senator Fess asked.

"All right," Senator Fess answered, "I'll accept it."

Mrs. Dodson has been talking of retiring for several weeks, largely, according to reporters, because she felt that she had been given a title but not the authority under former Chairman Huston to make decisions which she and her friends believed should go with the post.

Urged Her to Reconsider.

Last Friday a group of eight national committeewomen urged Mrs. Dodson to reconsider her decision to retire in the hope that her desire for more responsibility would be achieved under the new regime. An appeal to the President to persuade Mrs. Dodson to remain director of the women's division was discussed.

"The women's executive committee is unanimous in its belief that Mrs. Dodson's resignation should not be accepted."

Mrs. Dodson was the first chairman of the women's division of Iowa Republican state central committee. She also was the first woman to sit as officer on a national convention committee. Republican committeewomen leading the movement to retain Mrs. Dodson included Mrs. Paul Rewman of South Dakota, Mrs. Martha McClure of Iowa, and Mrs. Ellis A. Yost of West Virginia, W. C. T. U. leader.

Salaries Assured for Next Ten Weeks.

Employes of the city were assured yesterday that there will be no delays in the payment of salaries during the next ten weeks when it was learned that the city had sold $5,675,000 worth of 1930 tax anticipation warrants. The sale was made to Lehman Brothers of New York by City Controller Schmidt who sent an assistant east to complete the deal.

Yesterday's sale makes a total of $8,875,000 in corporate 1930 tax warrants sold by the city in three weeks. Authority to issue these warrants, in addition to those sold earlier this year, was given at the special session of the general assembly when the city's tax rate was raised from $1.07½ to $1.37 for each $100 of assessed valuation.

Bond Issues Authorized.

The $8,875,000, plus collections of miscellaneous revenues, will enable the city to pay salaries promptly, according to Victor S. Petterson, deputy city controller. Bids for the purchase of the city's $7,000,000 tax deficiency bond issue will be opened Aug. 15. The city also is authorized to issue $12,500,000 in bonds to establish its working cash fund.

Officials of the county and the board of education also were rebuilding their financial structures yesterday. The county board authorized the payment of $1,700,000 debts contracted in 1929. President Lewis E. Myers of the school board signed $2,000,000 in 1930 tax warrants which Halsey, Stuart & Co. has offered to purchase at a premium of $500.

Judgment Is Unpaid.

The county's bills will be paid out of the $2,500,000 bond issue sold last week, also at a premium. There will still remain a $3,000,000 judgment against the county held by the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company for cash advanced to the county last year to pay salaries.

Chinese Slain in Chicago; 2 Shot in Other Cities

George Moy, 45 years old, Chinese waiter of 2318 South State street, was shot to death by one of three gunmen of his own race late yesterday as he and 8 year old Gilbert Lee, also Chinese, were walking in 22d street near Federal street. From among fifteen Chinese rounded up in the vicinity the Pekin Inn police heard a story that Moy was shot in a personal quarrel. However, the Associated Press reported one Chinese shot last night in New York and another in Minneapolis in what seemed to be a general outbreak of tong warfare. Neither of the latter victims was killed.

SUE TO PREVENT COLLECTION ON 1928 TAX BILLS

Two new suits seeking to enjoin County Treasurer Harding from collecting further taxes under the 1928 reassessment were filed yesterday. Victor Novicki, 100 Broadway, Melrose Park, in a petition filed in Superior court, charges his property was fraudulently assessed and that the assessors failed to take into consideration its actual cash value. He states he has paid $424.60 in taxes, which he says is the fair amount, and asks for an injunction to restrain the collection of the unpaid balance of his $1,097 tax bill. Abe Ellis, owner of five pieces of property, alleges in a suit filed in Circuit court that the county treasurer is trying to collect $2,228 in taxes on improvements which were not completed until after April 1, 1928.

Hotel Clerk Seized on Charge of Embezzlement

Charged with embezzling $1,600 from the Princess hotel, 337 South Clark street, where he worked as a clerk, Chalmer Klontz, 45 years old, former school teacher at Mount Morris, Ill., was held at the detective bureau yesterday. "I just borrowed it to play the races, but lost it all," said Klontz. He will be arraigned in Felony court today.

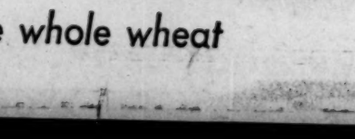
LUNCH for the woman in business



To keep a clear brain for the work of the day she should eat a light, nourishing, easily digested noonday lunch. Heavy foods for lunch mean sleepy, lazy afternoon hours. Shredded Wheat with milk is the ideal food for the women in the office or store, writers, stenographers, typists and clerks, who must be "on their toes" all the day. Shredded Wheat is the whole wheat in a digestible form—and is so easily and quickly served. Delicious with fruits.

Could you really enjoy BREAKFAST in BED?

..not if morning brings "UNCLEAN TASTE"

Yet after briskly brushing the teeth and many glasses of water "Unclean Taste" can linger to the breakfast table and even through the day. Few people awaken without it. End it in the bathroom and quickly restore normal taste with GLYCO-Thymoline.

A quick mouth-rinse and gargle with GLYCO-Thymoline is the certain, pleasant way to refresh and awaken your mouth. It penetrates between the teeth, floods out food particles, and neutralizes harmful acids. Being an ALKALINE solution it does this gently and naturally by aiding the tender mouth membranes and glands to function in a normal way.

GLYCO-Thymoline is different. It is effective without sting or harshness. Do not confuse it with highly flavored mouth washes that merely replace one taste with another. Too, GLYCO-Thymoline deodorizes, not merely disguises your breath. It relieves clogged-up throats and clears husky voices. A morning necessity.

Physicians and Dentists have prescribed GLYCO-Thymoline for over 30 years. They will tell you your mouth wash should be ALKALINE! Use it daily when you brush your teeth and any time "Unclean Taste" assails. At all druggists . . . Kress & Owen Co., New York.

TABLE MANNERS AN ISSUE IN RACE FOR GOVERNOR

I'm Common, I Eat Same Way—Bill Murray.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Oklahoma Democrats emerged from a brief campaign of biting personal attacks tonight to ponder their choice at the run-off primary tomorrow on nominees for governor and United States senator.

Seeking the gubernatorial nomination are Frank Buttram, Oklahoma City oil millionaire, who campaigned for a "sane" business administration and free textbooks for school children, and William Henry [Alfalfa Bill] Murray, author of the Oklahoma constitution and stormy petrel of politics since Indian territory days, who says he would aid the drought ridden farmer by increasing the tax on the rich.

In the contest for the Democratic senatorial nomination, another oil millionaire, C. J. Wrightsman of Tulsa, opposes the blind Thomas P. Gore, who sat in the United States senate for 13 years from statehood.

Tried Colonization in Bolivia.

In the first primary July 29, Murray, recently returned from an unsuccessful attempt to establish a colony of American farmers in Bolivia, led Buttram by 65,000 votes. In the senate race Gore had a small margin over Wrightsman.

The contest for the governor's nomination—and Oklahoma always has chosen Democrats for that post—has been by far the most vituperative. Buttram's followers even attacked Murray's table manners, and Murray retaliated with the assertion that he was "common," and that he ate like "common folk."

A picture of closed factories and unemployment was painted by the Buttram supporters in the event Murray's gross income tax proposal goes into effect.

Would Fire Under Clerks.

Proposing to "fire under clerks" and live in the executive garage while renting out the mansion, Murray dared his rivals to try ouster proceedings when and if he is governor. Later he amended the garage decision, saying he decided it was "too little to turn around in, even if it did cost Oklahoma $39,000."

Murray's unsuccessful Bolivian expedition has been held up by his opponents as significant of the candidate's "incompetence." Murray answered that Buttram and Herbert Hoover were "successful business men, but Hoover is the worst failure as President the country has ever had."

Wet and Dry Issue in Ohio.

Columbus, O., Aug. 11.—(AP)—A primary campaign marked by the bringing to the fore of the prohibition issue will end in Ohio tomorrow when Democrats and Republicans say it with ballots in choosing their standard bearers for the November election.

The "wet and dry" question was injected into the contest among five men for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Robert J. Buckley, former congressman of Cleveland, is the dry repeal candidate with George S. Myers, Cleveland attorney, the modificationist. John McSweeney, former congressman of Wooster, is classed as dry, while William W. Dubbin, Kenton, and Charles V. Truax, Bucyrus, have not made known their views on the liquor question. Roscoe C. McCulloch, Canton, is unopposed for the Republican senatorial nomination.

Gov. Cooper has no opposition on the Republican ticket. George White, Marietta banker, and Stephen S. Young, Cleveland attorney, are candidates on the Democratic ballot.

Alabama Votes Today.

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Alabama Democrats tomorrow will select their nominees for every office from United States senator to constable under conditions which make the size of the vote as much of a focus of general interest as the division in any one race.

J. Thomas Heflin, senior United States senator, seeking reelection, and Hugh A. Locke of Birmingham, candidate for governor, have stumped the state asking their supporters to stay out of the Democratic primary. Both, barred from the primary for bolting Al Smith in 1928, are running as independents.

John H. Bankhead, Jasper attorney, and Frederick I. Thompson, Mobile publisher, are contesting for the senatorial nomination and the winner will run against Senator Heflin, for 34 years an officeholder, for election.

Boy, 9, Fractures Skull as He Falls from Tree

William Dougherty, 9 years old, 23 Cleveland street, Brookfield, was injured probably fatally yesterday when he fell 25 feet from a tree at the corner of South View and Morton avenues, Brookfield. At the West Suburban hospital, Oak Park, he was found to have a fractured skull.

BOOZE, RELIGION LATE ISSUES IN NEBRASKA RACE

Battle for Votes Rages Far Into Night.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Liquor and religion—issues of 1928—are seething in tomorrow's Republican primary battle between Senator George W. Norris, insurgent leader who bolted Hoover for Al Smith two years ago, and W. M. Stebbins, candidate of the standpat conservatives. Farm relief, the Hoover administration, and party regularity were slammed at the electors until well nigh midnight as the campaign came to a passionate close.

Sam R. McKelvie, former governor and wheat member of the Hoover federal farm board, was billed to speak over the radio at the Cornhusker hotel at a late hour on the topic, "Norris Is Not a Republican," and farmers were exhorted to stay up and listen in. The Norris camp, too, strove to keep the corn belt out of bed with eleventh hour attacks on their adversaries, whom they term "New England Republicans" and "White House yes men."

Battle Is Intense.

The battle between "wild jackassism" and "standpatism" was accounted almost as intense as the Hoover-Smith fight here in 1928. Norris, leader of the "sons of the wild jackasses" and thorn in the flesh and hair shirt for Presidents Hoover, Coolidge, Harding, and Wilson, is being given the hardest fight of his career.

Some of the politicians began to hedge on their prophecies. The prevalent opinion among the experts in both parties is that Norris will win. But some of them veered to the opinion that the unexpected may happen tomorrow. Reports from Democratic leaders in the tall grass were that fewer Democrats may vote in the Republican primaries than expected. They ascribe it to be the adjuration for party purity put forth by Gilbert M. Hitchcock, ex-senator, who is seeking the Democratic nomination against Dr. Jennie Mather Callfas, ex-committeewoman who bolted Smith for Hoover in 1928.

Expect Norris to Win.

If Norris is upset it will probably surprise the Stebbins camp as much as it shocks the Norris people. And the standpats are praying for a surprise party with all the fervor of a corn grower supplicating for rain. But even in the Stebbins camp some say if Norris is beaten the day of miracles has returned. The great question today as the polls approached was how much damage Norris had done his vote crop by his flop in bone-dry Nebraska from dry Quaker Hoover to wet Catholic Smith. Norris has been a pillar of the 18th amendment, but has blistered "dry cranks" and "fanatics," dry or wet.

Norris is in bad with the Anti-Saloon league, part of the W. C. T. U., and a part of the Methodist church. The remnants of the klan are active against him. Some of the railway brotherhoods who are working for him are divided, some of the membership having been klansmen. A great drive has been made by the standpats among the women, with whom Norris has heretofore been ace high. The wetness and the religion of Smith, to whom Norris flopped, avowing it was on account of water power and farm relief, have been pushed in the campaign as in 1928.

"Flop" May Decide.

If Norris should flop tomorrow it would be his flop from Hoover to Smith that did it, in the view of most politicians. Norris has always had the German vote in his hand. During the war he was one of President Wilson's wilful twelve. The Irish-Democrats, who "never forget a friend," are regarded as a primary asset for Norris tomorrow.

MRS. WATKINS IN COURT WITH "MIXED" BABY

Habeas corpus proceedings by which Mrs. William Watkins, mother of one of the principals in the baby mixup case, hopes to obtain the child now in possession of the Charles Bambergers were continued yesterday until Aug. 25 by Superior Judge Joseph Sabath.

Mrs. Watkins was in court with the baby that she has had in her care, which, according to Mrs. Watkins' petition, actually was born to Mrs. Charles Bamberger. Mrs. Watkins said the child had gained a good deal of weight during his recent stay with her at the home of her parents at Braceville. The home of the Watkinses is at 1619 West 82d street.

One Baby Not in Court.

Mrs. Bamberger and the baby whom the Bambergers had christened George Edward Bamberger were not in court, although Mr. Bamberger was. Attorney Barratt O'Hara, counsel for Mrs. Watkins, agreed to let George Edward sleep undisturbed at his home at 5523 South Paulina street.

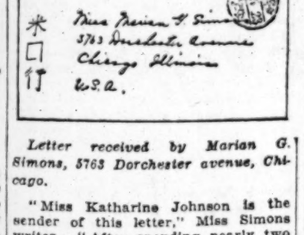
Mr. Bamberger was accused, in Mr. O'Hara's opening statement to the court, of switching the identification tags on the dresses of his baby and that of the Watkinses, "with the connivance and assistance or the inexcusable negligence of hospital attachés," because, he said, Mr. Bamberger was "suffering from a peculiar complex." The babies were born on June 30 in the Englewood hospital.

Refuses to Dissolve Injunction.

Judge Sabath refused to dissolve an injunction issued last Wednesday by Judge Robert E. Gentzel of the Superior court restraining the Bambergers from taking the baby out of the jurisdiction of the court, but he said that he would enforce it leniently, and that if they wanted to leave for a week or ten days it would be all right with him.

INTERESTING LETTERS

If you have received a letter from an interesting or little known place send the envelope to The Tribune, stating name of place where it was mailed and some information about the writer of the letter.



Letter received by Marian G. Simons, 5763 Dorchester avenue, Chicago.

"Miss Katharine Johnson is the sender of this letter," Miss Simons writes. "After spending nearly two years in study at the University of Chicago, she returned in February of this year to resume her work as teacher of English in the Hiroshima Girls' school at Hiroshima, Japan. This is a missionary school under the auspices of the Methodist Church, South."

Hiroshima is a city and seaport of Japan, capital of the central Nipponese government bearing its name. It is ideally situated on a small plain surrounded by hills, the bay being studded with islands. Next to Osaka, from which it is 190 miles by rail, and Hiogo, it is the most important commercial center in the inland sea. It has an area of about 3,000 square miles and a population of 1,500,000.

It is famous throughout Japan for its proximity to the "Itaku-Shima" or "Island of Light," which is dedicated to the goddess Bentin and is regarded as one of the three wonders of Japan. The chief temple dates from the year 587 and the island, which is largely inhabited by priests and their attendants, is visited annually by thousands of pilgrims. The soil is never tilled, so that all provisions have to be brought from surrounding districts.

MANAGER FINED FOR NOISE ON BABY GOLF LINKS

Miniature golf enthusiasts who play into the early morning hours will have to exercise more quietly if the baby courses are to remain open, it became apparent in a test case yesterday before Judge John H. Lyle in Town Hall court.

Leo Harrington, manager of a course at the southwest corner of Bryn Mawr avenue and Sheridan road, was fined $200 and costs on a charge of disorderly conduct. Residents of the Edgewater Beach apartment hotel at 5555 Sheridan road complained of loud noises coming from the course at 3 a. m.

The case will be appealed, Attorney Joseph Slottow, representing Harrington, said. He was given a thirty day stay and Harrington's bond fixed at $500.

ENDS ALIMONY ORDER AFTER FRAUD CHARGE

Circuit Judge George Fred Rush yesterday vacated an order under which Policeman Thomas A. Weemhoff, 3935 West Division street, has been forced for two years to pay alimony to his former wife, whom he divorced on charges of unfaithfulness. His attorney, Oren F. Andrews, charged the alimony order had been fraudulently entered in a decree which Weemhoff obtained before Judge Rush in April, 1928, against Mrs. Mae Igoe Weemhoff.

Weemhoff married again and now has two children. After his marriage, he declared, he was astonished to learn that the decree contained the provision that he should pay $30 monthly alimony to his wife. Attorney Andrews said Weemhoff will sue to collect $800 in alimony he has paid.

Word was received here yesterday of the sinking of a sloop belonging to Robert Stoddard, president of the Milk Bottle Crate company, 1545 Kingsbury street, in the St. Lawrence river near Round island, New York, Sunday. One person was drowned and five others saved themselves. The Stoddard home is at 524 Lake street, Wilmette.

Franklin Anderson, 25 years old, of Peekskill, a graduate of Cornell university and a close friend of the Stoddard family, was drowned. Ford, 25 years old, and Esther, 19 years old, children of Stoddard's, were among those rescued.

Mrs. Stoddard and five children, with young Anderson, have been spending the summer at their cottage at Round Island. The group of young people had gone for a sail when a sudden squall caused the sloop to ship water. Ford, at the helm, turned the boat to run to shore when it capsized. Anderson, apparently shocked by the cold water, sank and the others swam to shore.

LAW PARLEY GETS UNIFORM GUN TOTING ACT

Seeks U. S. Standard for Divorce Jurisdiction.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

The fortieth annual conference of commissioners on uniform state laws began a week's session at the Stevens hotel yesterday. Their recommendations will be submitted to the American Bar association, which meets here next week and to state legislatures.

More than one hundred members are in attendance, with each state and territory represented by judges, deans, and professors of law schools, legal writers and practicing lawyers. They have been responsible for 55 model acts, chiefly in the field of commercial law, such as bills of lading, stock transfer, sales of securities, and public utilities acts.

Consider Divorce Legislation.

At this session they are taking up several laws of more general interest, such as bringing the state coöperative marketing acts in line with the federal farm board legislation, a uniform state licensing act for air pilots, a child labor act, a narcotic act, a fire arms act, and a marriage and divorce act.

There is a tendency in some states to tighten the divorce laws and in others the trend is toward easier divorce. The effort here is confined to making uniform requirements to give jurisdiction, such as residence of one year before bringing action.

The question of recognition of foreign divorces is also likely to come up in debate when this subject is considered next Thursday morning.

Draft Divorce Jurisdiction Act.

The tentative draft of this act follows:

"Jurisdiction for the purposes of granting divorce shall not be exercised except:

"[a] If the defendant is domiciled in this state, or this state is the state of the matrimonial domicile; or

"[b] If the complainant has a separate domicile in this state (the defendant being domiciled out of the state); and if by consent or owing to the conduct of the defendant such domicile is the rightful domicile of the complainant.

Would Require Year's Residence.

"If, however, only one of the parties is domiciled in this state and has acquired such domicile subsequent to the arising of the ground for divorce, such domicile must have continued uninterruptedly for the period of one year next preceding the bringing of the action.

"Full faith and credit shall be given in all the courts of this state to a decree of divorce by a court of competent jurisdiction in another state, territory, or possession of the United States when the jurisdiction of such court was based upon provisions in substantial conformity with the conditions prescribed in this act, even though such decree is not entitled to full faith and credit under the constitution of the United States."

Report on Air Law.

"The committee is of the opinion that the most essential legislation in relation to this subject is that which will, as far as practicable, prevent air navigation either in unfit aircraft or by unfit air pilots, and that an 'air licensing act,' designed, as far as can constitutionally be done, to compel all such aircraft and airmen to meet the requirements and undergo the inspection and supervision of the federal air commerce department, with its necessarily vastly superior resources and facilities for inspection and regulation, is the character of legislation best adapted to secure the result at which all such legislation aims—the minimizing of the risks inevitably attendant in greater or less degree upon this comparatively new but rapidly expanding mode of transportation and travel."

Act Deals with Pistol.

The act to regulate the sale and possession of firearms is confined to the pistol, and a separate act may be drawn covering machine guns and other such weapons. The committee reports: "The salient features of the firearms act are:

"1. That provisions have been made to prevent any person known to be a criminal, or a narcotic addict, or an habitual drunkard, or a mental defective, from possessing a pistol.

"2. That no one can be permitted to carry a pistol concealed without being duly licensed, and the persons so licensed are forbidden to sell to one known to be of the criminal class.

"3. That the possession of a pistol by a person not being duly licensed to carry it, at the time of a commission of a crime of violence, is prima facie evidence of his intention to commit the crime."

SURFACE LINES ORDER $1,000,000 MATERIALS FOR CAR EXTENSIONS

Chicago Surface Lines announced yesterday that they have ordered nearly $1,000,000 worth of construction material and equipment.

The new material includes 133 miles of copper wire at an estimated cost of $150,000, steel rails for 31 miles of single track costing $300,000, together with 40,000 ties, tie plates, spikes, and clips. Sand, gravel and cement orders will be placed as new construction work requires.

These orders have been placed in anticipation of street car extensions on which the Illinois commerce commission is expected to give a decision on Aug. 21. Hearings concerning improvements on certain streets already have been held.

The surface lines recently announced an order of 15 new trolley buses, to cost $215,000, and for construction of a new garage to cost $140,000.

WOMAN, 60, JAILED; HAS WEIRD STORY OF ALKY TRAFFIC

Once a stanch prohibitionist and church member, Mrs. Mary Hurn, 60 year old widow, of 9632 Charles street, decided three years ago that the Volstead law was not being enforced, and became a bootlegger to discover the cause.

After running alcohol for 30 months to Michigan resorts by bribery of federal, state and local authorities, she had learned sufficient of the law's failure to write President Hoover. Her letter, she said, was returned to Chicago authorities, who invited her to come to the federal building to discuss her experiences. She declined.

All this Mrs. Hurn told Michigan City police yesterday. Having driven her rickety flivver through a traffic light, she was halted to be reprimanded, but arrested when the officers saw six five gallon tins of alcohol in the rear of the car.

NEW BUILDING ON JARVIS AVENUE AND THE LAKE, equipped with forty-eight Electrolux Refrigerators. "... we investigated very carefully all kinds of automatic refrigerators and our decision was that Electrolux Refrigeration was the best, most reliable and safest, as well as the most economical for our apartments."—from a letter from Wille Brothers, Builders.

No other automatic refrigerator combines all the advantages of Electrolux—silent, low-cost operation, complete dependability, and perfect safety.

With Electrolux, less than a nickel a day gives you constant cold—all the pure, sparkling ice cubes you need. That small sum includes both gas and water, very little of which is used. In fact, the Chicago Bureau of Water Supply has set a flat rate of only $2.50 a year gross for each Electrolux installed in homes without meters.

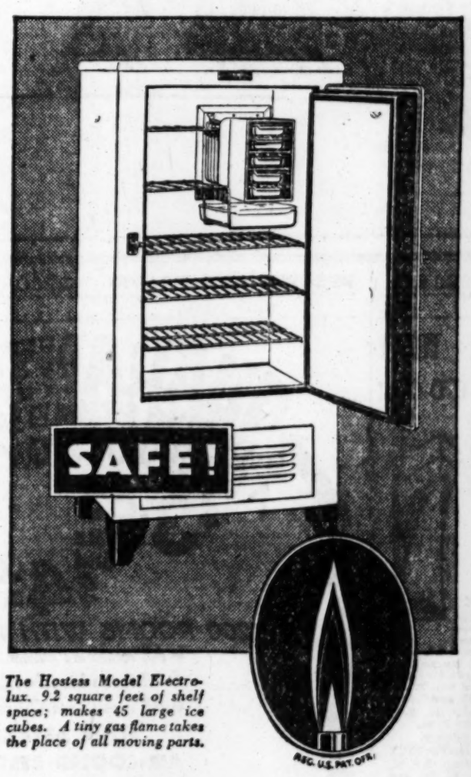
But economy is only one advantage of Electrolux. There's no machinery to this refrigerator—not a single moving part to wear, vibrate, or ever make a sound. A tiny gas flame and a tiny flow of water do all the work. There's no stopping and starting—hence the temperature remains constantly, evenly low.

This marvelous simplicity makes Electrolux last indefinitely. It also assures absolutely soundless operation. Electrolux is not only noiseless when you buy it, but noiseless forever after.

Absolutely safe

It is also reassuring to know that you have an absolutely safe refrigerator when you own an Electrolux. Its refrigerant is merely three and a half pint of ordinary ammonia, so little stronger than household ammonia that you could breathe the entire contents in a closed room with no ill effects. Furthermore, the refrigerant is hermetically sealed for life within rigid steel—no openings or valves of any kind; no renewal ever needed. Even the tiny gas flame is protected by an automatic shut-off. Should the flame ever go out for any reason, no gas can flow until you are ready to light it again.

Don't think of buying an automatic refrigerator until you see Electrolux. Prices are from $205 upwards completely installed. Electrolux can be purchased on a convenient monthly payment plan. Come in today; or, if not convenient, use coupon to bring complete illustrated information.



The Hostess Model Electrolux. 9.2 square feet of shelf space; makes 45 large ice cubes. A tiny gas flame takes the place of all moving parts.

PUBLIC DEFENDER ASKED AS MOVE TO SPEED COURTS

Proposal Is Made by Judicial Advisers.

The Cook county judiciary advisory council yesterday voted unanimously to recommend the appointment by the county board of a public defender to represent indigent defendants in criminal cases. The proposal was adopted as a means toward more efficient justice and a measure toward its more rapid administration.

The recommendation will be submitted for the approval of the judges of the Criminal court during the week. Judge John McGoorty, chief justice elect of the Criminal court, is to return to the city in an interlude of his vacation to summon the meeting. Following the approval of the judges, which members of the council said will be given without question, the county board will be asked to make necessary appropriations.

Change from Present System.

Under present procedure on the arraignment of a defendant who cannot employ counsel the trial judge appoints an attorney to represent the defendant. Such appointments are usually made from a list of young lawyers who volunteer for such duty in return for the experience they obtain. Invariably the appointed attorneys demand a continuance, first to appraise themselves of the facts and second to try to obtain a fee from the client's relatives or friends.

The trial judge may appoint a prominent attorney to represent such defendants, but because of the distance of the Criminal courts from the loop this is not done, as it may work hardship on the attorney's practice. Such appointments were made when the Criminal courts were on the north side.

Propose Prominent Attorney.

The advisory council proposes that the county board appoint an attorney of experience and standing in his profession. The attorney is to be supplied with a corps of assistants and a staff for obtaining information similar to that of the state's attorney, although not as extensive.

On the arraignment of an indigent defendant or even at his indictment the public defender is to be notified, according to the plan. He will at once mass his staff to determine the evidence, as the state's attorney gathers evidence for prosecution, and thus be able to go to trial more readily and with more equal representation for the accused than under the present procedure.

"The present law places the state's attorney in an anomalous position," Superior Judge Denis E. Sullivan, member of the council, said. "He is charged with the prosecution of crimes and at the same time warned in the statutes to protect the interests of the accused. We can hardly expect him to spend time to aid a defendant against whom he is bending every effort to convict.

No Equality for Accused.

"The appointment of young attorneys in need of experience is well enough in its way, but does not give the accused equality. It is as much the duty of the county to protect an accused, who may be innocent, as it is to rid society of a criminal and also to give even a criminal his day in court. At any length the appointment of a public defender, who has no other interest than the administration of justice, cannot but work toward the elimination of delay and for more perfect justice."

Other members of the council are Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher, Justice Frederic R. De Young of the Supreme court, Attorney John J. Healy and Attorney Amos C. Miller. Prof. Robert W. Millar of Northwestern university is an advisor to the council.

Result of Court Ruling.

The plan of the council was adopted at a meeting called to consider a recent ruling of the Supreme court which permits an accused to waive a jury trial on a plea of not guilty. The opinion, delivered by Justice De Young, which overruled four previous decisions, has been called the most important judicial ruling in the state in 25 years.

The ruling was made on a petition for a writ of mandamus sought by State's Attorney Swanson to compel Judge Fisher to expunge from court records a verdict of not guilty in favor of Albert Weinberg, who waived a jury on a plea of not guilty when he was arraigned on a charge of rape.

The opinion, given Aug. 2 and released yesterday, reads in part, "We conclude that the defendant in a criminal prosecution whether he be charged with a felony or a misdemeanor has the power to waive a jury trial. . . . While the defendant has the power to waive a trial by jury, yet that power should be exercised with great care.

Must Preserve Jury System.

"The necessity and value of trial by jury have been established by long experience and the institution should be jealously preserved. An accused person's election to forego such a trial should not only be expressedly made but before it can become effective should receive the court's sanction. In the performance of that duty the trial court assumes a grave responsibility."

Judge Fisher held that the appointment of a public defender is a logical follow of the decision. He said that both the decision and the appointment would reduce by half the number of jurors and effect a great saving of time as well as of public funds.

ROOSEVELT DEMANDS GAMBLING CLEANUP AT SARATOGA SPRINGS

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Gov. Roosevelt today took steps to clamp the lid on gambling and vice at Saratoga Springs. The governor demanded of three Saratoga officials, District Attorney John B. Smith, Sheriff George E. Knights, and Commissioner of Public Safety Edward Sweeney, that they act by Thursday.

Failure of the three officials to act promptly may mean the loss of their jobs, it was indicated at the capital.

The governor acted as a result of a complaint filed with him last week by Hugh S. Dorsey, former Saratoga policeman. Dorsey listed eighteen alleged gambling establishments and fourteen alleged disorderly houses in and near the famous racing resort. Dorsey told the governor he had appealed to the Saratoga officials to "clean up," but that they had taken no action."

COMPLETES HOME; KILLS SELF.

Valparaiso, Ind., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Carl Julius Schmidt, 47, marked the completion of his new home on Dunes highway, near Chesterton, by committing suicide today by shooting himself in the head. Ill health is thought to have been the motive.

BANDITS DIG IN CONCRETE TO GET LOOT OF $4,000

Nine masked bandits entered the Jewish People's institute, 3500 Douglas boulevard, early yesterday, bound five employés, and escaped with a strong box containing $3,000 in bonds and $1,000 in cash after working two hours to dig the box out of a cement vault floor in which it was embedded.

After gaining entrance through a rear window the men, all of whom were armed, slugged Charles Tish, 4350 Broadway, a special watchman employed by the Kane Watch service, and tied him up. They then entered the main lobby, where they overpowered four employés, Mrs. Mary Hamko, 5919 Slocum street; Wesley Manchik, 1627 West Adams street; Grant Hodgson, 4256 Gladys avenue, and William Johnson, 3330 West Monroe street, at work. These were also bound.

PHILADELPHIA

WHERE THIS NEWSPAPER DELIVERS A UNIQUE MARKET SERVICE

THE most effective market service ever known to national advertisers is available in Philadelphia, today: a service which places this market first, in sales importance, among the metropolitan centers of America.

Philadelphians are unusual in their reading habits, in their overwhelming preference for one newspaper.

The Evening Bulletin, through thirty-five years under its present publisher, has won a commanding position in business—in the home.

Its program of building upon merit, without premium, contest or sensational treatment of news, has made history in newspaper coverage:

572,600 homes in the city and suburbs; a circulation of 555,711, almost entirely concentrated in this area. A circulation more than double that of any other Philadelphia evening newspaper, almost as great as all morning newspapers combined.

The confidence of business is reflected by retail advertising: More individual retail store advertisements appear in The Bulletin in six days than in all other Philadelphia newspapers, combined, in seven days.

The confidence of national advertisers gives The Bulletin more lineage in six days than any Philadelphia daily and Sunday newspaper.

Salesmen armed with "a campaign in The Bulletin" find a responsive trade, which speeds distribution and keeps sales costs low. And a coverage of almost 572,600 homes provides a tremendous potential in sales.

Sell in Philadelphia, where one newspaper delivers a unique market service—the coverage of nearly every home at an unusually low cost.

THE CRIMINAL VAGRANT.

Mr. Loesch, as president of the crime commission, has made an important suggestion for the assistance of the police in our defense against criminal violence. He proposes a strengthening of the vagrancy law to authorize the arrest and restraint of notorious undesirables who under present conditions use the habeas corpus to evade detention in cases where crime or misdemeanor cannot be proved against them. These men who make up the rank and file of the criminal forces are not engaged in reputable business of any kind and have no means of support which can bear the light. They are in this sense vagrants and the law should permit a special handling of such cases.

We think a measure dealing with this grave situation can be framed with due respect to the guaranties of civil right, and certainly a serious effort to formulate and enact such a measure should be made. It would probably not reach the chief offenders, who could show ostensibly respectable means of support, but it would reach the many obscure individuals who serve them.

We think the abuse of the right of habeas corpus and of bail, and this suggestion for making the law of vagrancy more useful, should have immediate attention from the advisory councils of Illinois and Cook county and the bar association. The crime commission could probably give some valuable aid in the formulation of practical measures.

FLYING INTO THE STORM.

In the storm of Saturday a pilot with two passengers flew into the storm, his plane got out of control, the wings folded, and the machine dived through a gas tank. The tragedy was peculiar in its circumstances but not in character. There is a good deal of reckless flying and is bound to be while we lack better restraints. There is a clear and urgent need for legal checks and regulations. Connecticut has an air law on its books, but there are few if any other states which have one. Illinois has not and this should be remedied by the next assembly. Aviation interests should have a well considered measure ready for the next session.

The progress of aeronautics must be paid for in human lives, no doubt, but we should see to it that the price is as low as we can make it. It is retarded by recklessness and want of preparedness.

FULL DEFENSE.

The general board of the navy is now hard at work formulating a program of building under the restrictions of the treaty of London. The Army and Navy Journal remarks that the problems are the most serious the navy has faced in the last decade and compel a virtually new naval policy. Among the new questions which must be answered are the number of planes to be assigned to the allotted 25 per cent of cruisers with landing decks, size of the submarines to be built to utilize to best advantage the restricted tonnage in submarines, type of cruiser for the tonnage permitted in 6 inch gun ships, number of airplane carriers to employ to best advantage carrier tonnage restricted by the treaty.

An illustration of the effect of the new restrictions is suggested from the report on the last fleet maneuvers, which concludes that the smaller submarines were of little use in fleet operations. The one large submarine, V type, with each of the two opposing forces, is said to have shown clearly the value of fleet submarines in operations at sea and the need for more of this type. Unfortunately the restricted tonnage of submarines compels us to decide whether it is better to build more of the larger type than of the smaller type. The objection to this is that, while it would be an important advantage in fleet operations at sea, the need for a greater number of the smaller type for coast defense is regarded as more pressing.

We have been assured by no less responsible a representative than the President that the treaty of London "will secure the full defense of the United States," but here is a predicament which does not very well support our complacency. A full defense of the United States cannot be secured by coast defenses, although that is a favorite fallacy of civilians of pacifist predilections. The full defense of the United States means something more than the mere prevention of invasion, and even that cannot be secured by coast defense. It means, if it is to be taken, as we take it, as a sincere and intelligent expression, the full defense of the substantial interests and rights of the United States. That calls for a naval force adequately made up to protect our commerce and communications on the high seas. But a navy lacking in a proper complement of fleet submarines will not represent the full defense the President tells us has been secured. There is no question among informed men that the submarine has a very important function in modern naval operations and that its importance is increasing. The Japanese at London left no reason to doubt their respect for it. The French and Italians have refused to restrict their right to develop it to the fullest extent. But our naval leaders discover that we have agreed to a limitation which compels them to choose whether we shall have too few submarines for the fleet or too few for the coast.

THE LAKES AND THE MISSISSIPPI.

A Canadian department of marine report shows that the water level of all the Canadian shore line has a higher July average than in the last ten years, and in all except Lake Huron higher than the average of seventy years. Nature is showing small respect for courts, complaining states, and Canadian provinces, Newton D. Baker, the lake carriers, and the steel corporations. The St. Lawrence river is 2.64 feet higher than the July average for ten years and higher than the average for seventy years.

The St. Lawrence watershed is flooded and the Mississippi is drying up. The Illinois river is lower than it has been for years and in both rivers there is serious interference with navigation. The government forecast is for a continued fall. Boats are on sand bars and the movement of grain is impeded.

Although the St. Lawrence waterway has more water than it needs and more than it wants, the condition of the Mississippi must be entirely satisfactory to the transportation and power interests which have used misguided lake states to oppose navigation to the south.

The Chicago diversion is not hurting the lakes and more of it would help Mississippi transportation. The lakes continue stubbornly to defy the opposition to the Chicago withdrawal and to make it apparent that deception is the chief weapon used against it.

A TEST OF GOOD FAITH.

It is reported that there is little hope for the immediate extension of feeder bus service on Belmont and Irving Park boulevard. A representative of the surface lines, when appealed to, said the lines are not planning to buy additional gasoline buses and pointed out that trolley poles and wires cannot be installed without permission from the Illinois commerce commission.

We think the commission would act promptly to remove the latter obstacle. The real trouble does not lie in that direction. If there is a real disposition on the part of the surface lines management to meet the district's needs it will produce prompt results and not excuses for inaction. These extensions are a part of the relief to which the traction interests are pledged and there should be no evasion in detail. The good faith of the utility management and the financial interests they serve is on trial, and the public, upon whose support the utilities must depend, is now awake and determined to have a square deal. This is the broader issue in this demand for the Belmont avenue extension, and the surface lines management will find that procrastination will not be economy, but very expensive.

AMERICAN RUBBISH.

Foreign criticism of American films takes a rather far fetched form in India, where British objection now includes the charge that they are the cause of existing revolt. There seem, at any rate, to be other causes, though we would not deny that American films may not be conducive to the meek acceptance of fate which would reduce the difficulties of the British raj to negligible proportions. The American film may be subject to just criticism if a remorseless and representative picture of life, even in the United States, is what it should be. Its spirit certainly is not kismet. It is incorrigibly romantic and sentimental, but we doubt that is what enrages its British-Indian critics. The Times of India calls it rubbish which "has done in India, directly or indirectly, an immense and irreparable amount of harm to British prestige." This seems to us to let the cat out of the bag. Why do American films injure British prestige? We know of no films which attack Great Britain or have any reference to British virtue. The Times wants to know why "decent and true to life British films are not shown out here and given a chance," which is a natural query from an organ of British interests. We suppose there is a simple answer, the answer to similar queries in other countries—namely: that the people who go to movies like American films—and we think we know why they like them in India and elsewhere. It is not only or even chiefly because they are better made as films, but because they are naïve, sentimental, and cheerful. They are romantic exaggerations, but their implication is that the fate of human beings is not foreclosed, but is and ought to be happy. We realize that to be always suggesting or implying that the average man and woman, at least in mythic America, manages invariably to find a happy ending for their tribulations must have a disturbing tendency among a people who, in spite of conditions not altogether satisfactory to them, ought to be grateful and obedient. It might be better for them to have "decent and true to life British films," which would be something along the Kipling line, perhaps, but the Indian public seems to prefer the American rubbish, and, after all, if one is showing films for profit the benefit to British prestige wouldn't balance the showman's books.

Editorial of the Day

[Arkansas Gazette, Little Rock.]

When the constitution was adopted and the national government set up Virginia was far and away the most populous state in the newly created Union, having almost twice the population of her closest rival, Pennsylvania. She ranked first among the states in the censuses of 1790, 1800, and 1810, and as late as the beginning of the civil war was the fifth state in population rank.

The outbreak of that great struggle found anti-secession feeling strong in the western section of the Old Dominion, and within a year 40 counties had declared their independence of Virginia and set up a provisional government. On Dec. 31, 1862, President Lincoln signed an act admitting the new state of West Virginia to the Union. This division cost Virginia more than one-third of her area.

What it cost her in population rank is revealed by the present census. The 1930 returns give Virginia a population of 2,418,075 and place that of West Virginia at 1,728,510. If Virginia had not been split into two states by the civil war she would have today a population in excess of 4,100,000, which would make her one of the 10 most populous states, and by far the leading southern state in population, with the exception of Texas, whose enormous area excludes her from strict comparisons.

And not only would Virginia rank among the leading states of the nation in population but her resources would be imperial, for the western territory that was lost by the stress of war is exceedingly rich in coal, lumber, and many other forms of natural wealth.

RESORT HEALTH SERVICE.

In certain parts of the state of Michigan, the summer tourist crop is the best they have, exceeding the potato, bean, and fruit crops. The authorities are not disposed to let this industry commit suicide, as did the lumber industry of a generation ago. The suicide of an industry is too great a loss to the innocent bystander.

In order to guarantee present prosperity and future security, the state health department has a special resort service. In 1929 they called in their corps of sanitary engineers, gave them an intensive course in resort sanitation, and then sent them into the field. In the course of the season they made 1,633 inspections of 1,439 resorts of different kinds, located in 63 counties. The inspectors were provided with score cards which they used as a basis for rating places inspected, advising with responsible heads, issuing orders for improvements, and other services.

The items stressed were water and milk supplies, food and food handling, disposal of sewage, garbage and less harmful waste, control of flies and other insect pests, and bathing facilities. Hotels made a very good showing. Of the 266 examined, 103 were given A rating [the highest]; 95 a B rating, and only 6 received a D or under. Girls' camps were rated better than their competitors in the great field of sex antagonism. No camp of a Y. W. C. A., Girl Scouts, or Campfire Girls was rated at D or under. Two Y. M. C. A. camps and three Boy Scout camps got such a rating. Three welfare camps fell into this class.

Amusement resorts did not come out well, as was to be expected. Of these, 22 were given an A rating, but 16 were rated as D and under. The number of bad actors nearly equaled the number of good performers. The association of amusement resorts should take action to protect their good people against those participants who endanger the industry. A community is composed of bad people as well as good, of indifferent and dangerous as well as of careful and considerate. Therefore, we are not surprised that while 100 community resorts were rated A, 55 were rated D and under. Tourist camps averaged lower than any other group.

The service was inaugurated seventeen years ago. In 1929 it was increased about sixfold over that of 1928. The promise is of further advance in standards of health safety in 1930.

MAY BE HYSTERIA.

Mrs. McC. writes: My daughter, aged 19, due to an accident five years ago, suffers from laughing and crying spells and is unconscious during the time she is in the trance. She is very cranky and very much underweight. Several doctors have analyzed the case as traumatic neurosis. She has been under a certain neurologist's care for three years, but there is very little he can do for her. I see that she gets plenty of air and sunshine, but she eats very little. I forgot to mention that she was in a certain sanitarium for 1½ years shortly after the accident.

1. What is the meaning of traumatic neurosis?
2. Is a sickness like hers curable?

REPLY.

1. A traumatic neurosis is the nervous state which some people develop after accidents. There are several factors which combine to cause it. One is the accident. Others are: Hope of winning a damage suit; getting ready for a damage suit; self-pity; holding the spotlight.
2. Most cases get well. Ending the lawsuit is the best remedy. The description you give fits hysteria.

TRAINING, NOT TONICS.

E. F. writes: I am a girl of 14 years and am very nervous. I have trouble getting to sleep some nights. Is it necessary to take a tonic of some kind?

REPLY.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

NOT RESPONSIBLE.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. If a neighbor's child breaks my windows with his ball and the parents refuse to pay for said damage, could I collect in court?

2. If a group of neighbors' children play ball in our alley (with the usual noise), could I have the police stop them from playing there?

3. If a minor signs a note for money due on merchandise and fails in his payments, can the company collect of the parents?

4. Can this minor be jailed? G. A.

1. Not from the parents.
2. Yes.
3 and 4. Not on the bare facts stated.

NO DUMPING.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—[Friend of the People.]—I wonder if anything can be done in the 5300 to 5400 block on Gladys avenue. This, I understand, is empty school ground. The people on the 5300 and 5400 block on West Van Buren street use these lots as dumping grounds for paper, cans, and especially garbage. Now that it is summer it sure is a terrible sight to see an empty lot used for a dumping ground. Proper baskets and cans surely could be used in yards for this refuse. NEIGHBOR.

I have requested our division of repairs to place a "No Dumping" sign at the southwest corner of South Lockwood and Gladys avenues, and another sign on the south side of Gladys avenue between South Lockwood and South Lotus avenues, which I believe will eliminate this complaint.

WILLIAM J. SHEEHAN,
Acting chief clerk board of education.

WHO OWNS THE RIVERS?

Chicago, Aug. 5.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Do the banks and the river bottom adjacent to the water of the north branch of the Chicago river belong to the state of Illinois or any other corporation? All other river banks and bottoms of rivers belong to the states respectively through which they flow. Or has the river in question a special ruling? K. K.

Ownership would depend on the previous history of the title. Right to use the river for navigation would depend on whether the portion in which you are interested is technically navigable.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

COUNT YOUR MONEY— YOU'VE GOT 83 CENTS LESS.

Less than what? Less than you had last month. The government reports just published prove it. Why have 83 cents shy on what you had a month ago? What did you do with that 83 cents? We thought for awhile it was golf. We saw a sign in a drug store the other day, "$1 box of golf balls—83c." Maybe peewee golf got your 83 cents. We've seen maddened crowds at the box office, or whatever they called it, begging the management to take their money. If it costs 83 cents to play peewee golf, then that explains it. You couldn't have lost your 83 cents on the stock market, because 83 cents isn't even counted as chicken feed on the stock market. And you couldn't have played the races. If you went up to a bookie at the track and tried to bet 83 cents he would throw you down and stand on your neck. This is a land where we talk in big figures. Anything less than a million dollars is—well, we don't mention such small amounts. It is a national humiliation for foreign nations to know that each one of us has just 83 cents less than he had a month ago. 83 cents! Are we a nation of millionaires or a nation of pikers? 83 cents! Tck! Tck! Tck!

VILLANELLE.

Have you lost the friend you held most dear?
Wear not the rue, waste not a sigh,

On the rose of love does a blight appear?
A perfect flower is blooming near,

Did your gold take wing? Meet loss with a jeer,
When your purse is empty false friends will fly;

Does the editor at your story sneer?
Do the critics your poetry decry?

It matters not how the winds may veer,
Laugh when your plans go most awry!

ALICE E. HACKETT.

IT'S ALL been fixed and we're going to vote on the Prohibition question in Illinois next November. It's a funny system we have here in the U. S. A. of passing an ironclad law first and then voting on whether we ought to have done it or not.

"FESS to Sell G. O. P."—Herald-Examiner headline. Now, you're talking sense, Mr. Fess. But, senator, if we owned the G. O. P. we're afraid right now we'd sell the darned thing for fifteen cents in Mexican money, or trade it for two broken rubber bands, six shares of Never-Give-A-Sucker-A-Break Mine stock, a copy of Richard Halliburton's "Royal Road to Romance," or what have you? But go ahead, senator, sell it and see what you can get for it.

IT'S REALLY IMPOSSIBLE to tell nowadays. The car that is forcing you to the curb may be driven by a young woman who is learning to drive or it may be a group of gangsters who are after your watch and your coin.

Where the Shoe Pinched.

RHL: There's no telling where the shoe's gonna pinch. Take Betsy Ann. Betsy Ann gets twenty dollars per week. She told me to keep that under my hat, but seeing as how we had one of these here lovers' quarrels last night, all secrets is off, and I will keep nothing concealed, because it's evil what walks in the dark. Take six dollars outa Betsy Ann's weekly salary for a room and twelve dollars for grub and salads and what have you, may I ask? You have remorse of conscience and a life long sorrow for throwin' me down; that's whatcha got, you foolish little girl. . . . Well, anyhow, when we was going good I goes with Betsy Ann to buy a pair of shoes. . . . This is a size five, says the clerk, as he slips the shoe on Betsy's foot—it's a very neat number and comes at twenty-two dollars. Betsy Ann stood up and looked at her hat in the mirror. Does it pinch? asks the clerk. Yes, I think it does, replies Betsy—you haven't gotta a size four for about six bucks, have you?

ORACLE.

THE U. S. CHILDREN'S BUREAU says no nightie, no socks, no shoes, no slip, no shirt for baby during hot weather. Oh, to be a child again, back in babyland.

THERE'S BEEN MORE people killed in the Prohibition War than in the War of Independence. "I think, Wash," said the ghost of George III. to the ghost of the late Mr. Washington, "that both of us and our armies were dubs when it came to killing."

MINIATURE GOLF courses seem to keep open until midnight and after. The smaller the course the longer the game. Wait until next week when they'll be playing peewee golf in the kitchen sink. The players won't stop long enough to give the dishes a chance to get washed.

But Being Dead They Couldn't Say.

[From esteemed Chi. Her.-Ex.]

Waukesha authorities brought two men to the detective bureau here yesterday to view five suspects held as possible members of the gang that assassinated them.

LAGNIAPPE.

GOSH! The farmers do have all the hard luck. Just as umpty steen million dollars was about to be given to one and all on account of the drought then it up and rains cats and dogs on a lot of 'em.

THE LEAVES are beginning to turn gold and brown and flutter silently to earth. The gray mists steal across the hills and meadows morning and evening. The golden rod blooms alongside the road and the owls hoot down in the timber. No, sir, it won't be long now. R. H. L.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

AUGUST 12, 1914.

LONDON.—Two land battles, probably of a magnitude which will stun the world, are imminent. Both may come today. One will be between the French and the German army of the Moselle, said to number 400,000, on the first line of the French defenses extending roughly from Longwy, near the junction of the French, Belgian, and Luxemburg frontiers, south to a point east of Verdun. Another battle will be between the combined Belgian and French forces on the plains near Liege and the German army of the Meuse. In the former the battle centers are reported as the villages of Longwy, Montmedy, Longuyon, Maryville, and Virton in Belgian Luxemburg.

BRUSSELS. — Hard fighting continues to be reported in the neighborhood of Liege. The Germans made a desperate attack on Fort Seraing, south of Liege, on Aug. 9 and were repulsed. A bridge which the Germans were crossing was shattered by the fire from the forts, and it is estimated 800 Germans were killed within an area of half a square mile. It is officially announced that the German loss in the recent fighting was 2,000 dead, 20,000 wounded and 9,700 prisoners.

LONDON.—Dispatches from Paris admit that the French army which invaded Alsace-Lorraine suffered a repulse yesterday when it was driven out of Cerny and Mühlhausen, captured a few days ago. This places the French vanguard at Colmar and Neu-Breisach in jeopardy.

CHICAGO.—The city, state and nation have opened war on soaring food prices in Chicago. It is claimed that dealers are taking advantage of the European war as a pretext to boost prices. Meat prices rose an average of 3 cents from Saturday to Monday.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

AUGUST 12, 1900.

CHICAGO.—Fifteen skittish automobiles lined up in front of the Auditorium for a run to the Bismarck gardens in Lake View and then to the Edelweiss garden in 51st street. It was the first "meet and hunt" of the Chicago Automobile club and all fifteen machines were in at the death at the Edelweiss with President E. J. Eddy's car in the lead.

CHICAGO.—The eight days of excessive heat ended last night when a cooling rain fell. The temperature at 1 p. m. was 91 and by 9 o'clock it had dropped to 72. Seven deaths raised the total due to the heat for the eight days to 44. During the same time there were 123 prostrations.

CHICAGO.—Capt. Daniel B. Moore, 171 Emerson avenue, has received a medal of honor from congress for "conspicuous gallantry in action before Fort Blakely, Ala., April 9, 1865."

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

AUGUST 12, 1865.

DETROIT.—The steamers Pewabic and Meteor collided six miles from shore and the Pewabic was sunk. The loss of life will be nearly 100. Names of 75 passengers and 23 of the crew of the Pewabic who were saved are known. Between 175 and 200 passengers were on the Pewabic. Among the drowned is Hannah Kelly of Illinois and among the saved is Henry Knight of Illinois.

NEW YORK.—A Richmond correspondent of the Tribune says that at a gathering of leading rebel spirits at Oakland, a short distance from Richmond, addresses were delivered and songs sung filled with the spirit of disaffection. Prominent among those present was the horse thief, Mosby, riding the horse he stole from the lamented Maj. Gen. John Sedgwick, and acting as master of ceremonies.

CHICAGO.—A convention of merchants, farmers, and other business men of Indiana has been called at Michigan City, Ind., for next Thursday. The purpose is to consider the importance of making a harbor at Michigan City, the only available port for Indiana on Lake Michigan. It is estimated that about $300,000 will be necessary to build piers, dredge the harbor, and make other improvements necessary. Gov. Morton, Hon. C. S. Orth, Hon. Henry S. Lane, and Hon. Thomas A. Hendricks are expected to attend. The Chicago Board of Trade will send delegates.

TO THE LADIES.

Joliet, Ill., Aug. 7.—Some people may not know it, but a traveling salesman learns other things than funny stories. As a class they are perhaps the best judges of appearances that we have. Having visited most of the larger cities from Los Angeles to Boston within the last three months, I really believe myself qualified to hand the young women of your metropolis a bona fide compliment.

It is: From appearances they are the best dressed girls and young women—working class—of the big cities. They have a decided edge.

This was emphatic to me last Monday evening on seeing them coming out after working during such a hot day. All of them, with their appealing and fresh looking frocks and makeups, made one think it were Sunday after church.

W. J. B.

PROFITS FROM ELECTRIFICATION.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—THE TRIBUNE does well in these days of business depression to congratulate the Illinois Central on an increase of $57,000 in its sale of suburban tickets during the first six months of 1930; but is it quite sure that this result is at all or principally due to electrification? The reports are not all in yet for the months in question, but the interstate commerce commission's returns for 1929 show that the revenue from suburban traffic for that year increased from $73,558,882 in 1928 to $74,518,381, or $959,499, whereas all passenger revenue, including suburban, dropped from $900,879,113 in 1928 to $872,559,766 in 1929, or $28,319,347.

For the four months of 1930 to April 30, commutation passengers carried one mile numbered 2,274,592,000, against 2,265,096,000, where the passenger mileage for the whole country, including commutation, dropped from 9,652,912,000 to 8,861,174,000.

If there is any lesson to be learned from these figures it is that the commutation traffic of the railways has prospered in thousands while their long distance traffic has lost in tens of millions. In both classes of traffic there has been a steady decline in the telltale item of revenue per passenger mile.

SLASON THOMPSON.

ANOTHER ORDINANCE?

Chicago, Aug. 6.—We have lately added an anti-cutout ordinance, directed against noisy motorboats, but the nuisance shows little signs of abatement. Was no provision made for enforcement or is it just another ordinance? EDGEWATER BEACH.

FRAGRANCE.

Evanston, Ill., Aug. 6.—If Mr. S. F. Smythe, whose nostrils are offended by the Milwaukee river, would give the matter a moment's thought he would realize that the odor is so noticeable in Milwaukee because there is no city hall stench there. DAVID P. MCLELLAND.

A JOB FOR THE HARBOR POLICE.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Your editorial dwelling upon the blowing of whistles is greatly appreciated by the tenants of the buildings located along the river. We trust that you will continue to assist in pressing this matter. We have been informed by the Michigan Avenue association that the municipal code provides for harbor police and that the 1929 budget provided for seven police and one officer in charge. To our knowledge we have never seen these men, and we are wondering why. It seems to us that it should be an easy matter for these police to concentrate along the river front during the open hours for river traffic and keep the blowing of whistles within reasonable bounds.

F. L. FRENCH.

BRIDGE SIGNALS.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Your editorial regarding the whistles on the river has been read with interest. Looking at the problem from a practical standpoint, it occurs to me that there is no reason why electrical connections cannot be made between bridges so that when the Michigan avenue bridge is open it will automatically create an electrical contact for the ringing of bells to all the bridge tenders along the river, or even to the next bridge. In other words, why not install the same signal systems on the bridge that are in use in elevators in office buildings or the signal systems that are used by the railroads?

A. G. KNUDSON.

AT THE BORDER.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—"A Reader" relates inconveniences encountered in passing the American customs at Rouses Point, N. Y., pointing to it as a fine argument against the Volstead act. Recently I returned from a two weeks' trip to Canada with my family. We had occasion to stop for inspection by our own customs officers at two points in New York state and again at Detroit. I may say that we found these officers all most courteous. They made only cursory examinations of our car and baggage, except at one point, where an officer simply asked, "Do you have any liquor on this car?"

However, I was told that United States customs officers do make very thorough examinations of cars, luggage, and even persons, when they have good reason to believe that liquor is being transported. G. C. B.

THE LONG COUNT.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Dave Barry, a well known referee, is slugged by cops who did not let him know who they were until after trying to pull him out of his auto. Dave Barry is a gentleman, a man who never looked for trouble and has many friends who will vouch for his character. He always was willing to do more than his share for veteran organizations. Not Easy to Take Cod Liver Oil

But Sugar-Coated Tablets Are

The modern scientist makes it his business to improve on Nature's work. For example, a southern farmer has successfully grafted a tomato vine on a potato stalk so that tomatoes grow above and potatoes grow below the ground.

And a northern chemist compels cod liver oil to give up its valuable vitamins (flesh, bone, strength and energy increasing elements) and keep the horrid fishy taste and odor to itself. The vitamins are then put full strength into tablets whose only taste is their pure sugar coating.

This pleasant new form—called McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets—gives millions of thin, weak, rundown, underweight men, women and children their first real opportunity to benefit from regular cod liver oil treatment without hardship. All druggists sell McCoy's.

It was McCoy's—and McCoy's alone—which enabled Mrs. Henry A. Thaler of Richmond Hill, N. Y., and her daughter Viola, to gain 7 pounds in an amazingly short time. Such gains are common, as every last weight and strength increasing element found in cod liver oil is also present in McCoy's. They let you benefit from cod liver oil the year round. McCoy's have been tested and approved by the Good Housekeeping Bureau of Foods, Sanitation and Health. For sale at any Walgreen or Economical Drug Store—guarantees them—60 tablets 60 cents.

GERMANY HAILS 'REPUBLIC DAY' AS RIOTS DOT BERLIN

Thousands March in Huge Torchlight Parade.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—Despite the rain, thousands of Berlin republicans marched up the chief streets of the capital tonight taking part in a gigantic torchlight procession to celebrate the proclamation of the German republic eleven years ago.

For almost two hours the paraders streamed by, reaching across the full breadth of Unter den Linden on their way to the "Square Republic," in front of the reichstag, where many bands were playing.

Police Stop Disorders.

Young communists and Hitlerites smuggled themselves among the Republican masses, singing and whistling their party songs, and trying to anger the Republicans into fist fights.

The first clashes in the celebration occurred this noon in front of the reichstag, where members of the Reichsbanner fought with the Fascists, but the police speedily quelled the riot.

President von Hindenburg took part in the noon celebration at the reichstag, where prominence was given to the first red, black and gold flag, the symbol of national liberty chosen by Germany's liberty loving students in 1832, and known as the famous "Hambacher" flag.

"Freest Land in World."

Joseph Wirth, minister of the interior, and Chancellor Bruening addressed the audience. The speeches were broadcast over Germany by radio. In his address Herr Wirth said Germany had "been made safe for democracy" despite that consequences of the Versailles treaty were still a thorn in the country's flesh.

"Economic distress is acute," he said, "but the republic stands firm in spite of sharp political differences within. Germany under Republican rule may boast of being the freest country in the world."

CHICAGO GERMANS CELEBRATE.

Many Chicago Germans celebrated the constitution day of the German republic yesterday. Last night Dr. Paul Schwarz, acting consul, gave a reception at the Germania club, 108 Germania place. A musical by Mme. Elsa Duhr, Miss Rita Rothermel, and Rudolf Hille and others was on the program.

CERMAK ISSUES CONVENTION CALL TO NAME JUDGES

Anton J. Cermak, Democratic county chairman, last night mailed to Secretary of State William J. Stratton a call for a Democratic county convention to be held in Chicago on Sept. 11 to make nominations to fill six vacancies on the Circuit and Superior court bench.

The vacancies were occasioned by the deaths of Judges Frank Comerford, Jacob H. Hopkins, William M. Gemmill, Hugo Pam, and Jesse Holdom of the Superior court and Judge Ira Ryner of the Circuit court. Comerford, Hopkins, and Ryner were Democrats and Judges Pam and Gemmill were elected last time on the Democratic ticket, although they were Republicans. Judge Holdom was elected as a Republican.

At Democratic headquarters it was regarded as certain that a full ticket will be nominated and there will be no coalition arrangement.

BRITISH CHANGE SLEEPING CAR TO ROLLING BEDROOM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 11.—A new type of sleeping car has made its appearance on English railroads. It is a bedroom car fitted with deep rubber floors, colored lights, and patent ventilators. Heavy eyed passengers will disappear with the general adoption of the car, which is the last word in putting a bedroom on wheels.

The room is finished in a soothing pale blue, containing a full size walnut bed with spring and mattress, running hot and cold water, large beveled mirrors, folding tables, and heavy shutters, insuring complete darkness.

There is a padded niche for a watch at the bedside, where also are the switches regulating the flow of cleansed hot or cold air. The lights dim or brighten at will.

ASK COURT TO O. K. HANDLING OF HUBERT SIX MILLION ESTATE

New York, Aug. 11.—[Special.]—A court decree asking approval of the accounting of the executors administrating the $6,000,000 estate of the late Conrad Hubert, flashlight manufacturer, who left his fortune to charity, was submitted today to Surrogate James A. Foley for signature by Samuel K. Abrahams, counsel for the trustees.

It is expected the decree will be signed shortly and thus make available the distribution of three-quarters of the residuary estate, amounting to about $4,800,000, to thirty-four institutional beneficiaries selected by former President Calvin Coolidge, former Gov. "Al" Smith and Julius Rosenwald of Chicago.

The accounting is submitted in behalf of the Bankers Trust company and C. Bertram Plante, executors under the will. According to Mr. Abrahams, the estate has increased in value since the death of Hubert, despite the reports that real estate in Florida owned by the estate has shrunk in value.

More than $1,000,000 already has been distributed to two brothers and a sister of Hubert. They are Joseph Horwich, a Brooklyn court interpreter, Moses Horwich and Mrs. Anna Hutner.

CHINA EXECUTES 37 COMMUNISTS, JAILS 100 OTHERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Aug. 11.—The Hankow garrison commander yesterday executed 23 communists who were arrested in a roundup of Reds in the Wuhan area. To discourage possible Red uprisings 16 of the communists were beheaded in the street. The others were shot.

A total of 37 Chinese communists have been beheaded in a week, three of them being women. In addition 100 are in jail awaiting examination. It is believed further executions are likely. Among those arrested were 83 Chinese students at the government school who were allegedly holding a secret communist meeting.

The 200 British troops dispatched from Shanghai last Friday arrived at Hankow today for the purpose of protecting British residents and properties. While the Chinese government from a communist attack, the foreign consular authorities have requested further naval reinforcements.

1,000 Reds Arrested.

Japanese reports from Changsha this afternoon stated that although the Chinese military has arrested and locked up more than 1,000 suspected communists, the situation remains precarious and the town is in a panic. There are reports of large communist forces operating a few miles away.

Japanese residents who had returned to Changsha in order to repair their damaged homes and business houses, have again taken refuge aboard a Japanese gunboat due to a fear of further communist uprisings.

The Nationalist government tonight in a 3,000 word statement on Wang Ching-wei's proposed opposition government at Peiping, declared that Wang is using the name of the Kuomintang as a means of advancing his personal interests and that the proposed Peiping government consists of militarists and disgruntled politicians.

Kansas Churchman Safe.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—(AP)—A message to the state department today from the United States gunboat Palos off Changsha said the Rev. Allen Cameron of Lawrence, Kas., was now safe. After the communist raid on Changsha the Rev. Mr. Cameron was reported alternately safe and in grave danger.

400,000 VOTERS DEMAND STATE DRY TEST TODAY

The Oshkosh convention had adopted a platform devoid of any commitment, wet or dry, and briefly referred to the state-wide referendum which served to repeal the state's prohibition enforcement act.

Two years ago, the governor's attitude on the liquor question was similar to that of the national Republican party.

Fires on Prohibition.

"Prohibition has caused a great dissatisfaction throughout the United States on the part of large numbers of upright and law-abiding citizens," the governor declared.

"The saloons as they existed in this country prior to the eighteenth amendment must never return, but neither can present conditions be permitted to continue.

"To citizens alike of American and foreign antecedents, it is a sort of insult to say that the drinking of beer, which with many of them was a family tradition, is wrong or illegal.

"There is no menace to health or morals in the drinking of beer of moderate alcoholic content, and this product of wholesome quality should be available to farmers, factory workers, and all other citizens, its manufacture and distribution carried on under positive control.

"Such a return to reason will be a protection to the adults and to the youth of the nation."

Answers La Follettelites.

While Mr. Kohler's talk primarily was a review of the achievements of his administration and a pledge for remedial legislation of the important problems recognized by both factions of the Republican party, he took occasion to answer allegations made by the La Follettelites.

"There are two menaces to constructive progress, the reactionary who regards the present structure as a finished thing rather than a foundation for future growth, and the radical who would destroy the foundation rather than build upon it," the governor said.

"Long experience has taught me the wisdom of avoiding statements and promises until careful study has proved that the statements are justified and the promises can be kept."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 11.—Prohibition was seen as an act of tyranny by Lord Dawson of Penn, chief physician to King George V., in an address today before the Canadian club of Montreal. The distinguished British physician, obviously having the United States in mind, said:

"Liquor restriction which goes beyond the sanction of public opinion generally proves a failure. It is looked upon as a tyranny. And it is then that the reaction toward it reacts against the public weal. England has been going notably temperate for many years due to the education and enlightenment of the people.

"I do not think the United States has done very well in the matter of prohibition. It seems to me the proper thing to do is to educate the people in the art of good living. The statesman who is wise often leads—he seldom coerces. Coercion in this instance leads to defiance and defeat.

"I am not here to say alcohol is necessary. Emphatically not. Some people are better without alcohol; some people are also better without meat or without sugar. Alcohol is not a necessity—it is an attribute of living.

"Alcohol has in its own way the power of adding to one's happiness and content. Because alcohol is drunk to excess by some people is no reason why the rest of the world should abandon it, and this argument to me seems one of small force. If this policy were to continue, we should come to nothing but one of negation and gloom. Just because some men love not wisely but too well is no reason we should give up adoration of the goddess Venus."

RUM SMUGGLING IDEAS ALL GONE? SLEUTH SAYS SO

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Anyone with a brand new idea as to how to bring a bottle or two of liquor across the Canadian border, would be wise to forget them, in the opinion of Commissioner of Customs F. X. A. Eble.

Almost every conceivable scheme for smuggling booze has been tried and detected, the commissioner said in a radio speech over a National Broadcasting company network tonight.

"In one instance," he related, "a clever young man attempted to bring in 16 quarts in two spare tires. The tubes were split and eight bottles concealed in each. A cold patch was then placed on the tubes and the tires inflated. All went well until the patch on one tube becamt loose, deflating the tire, and revealing something other than air on the inside."

In another instance described by Mr. Eble, a woman pretended to have lumbago but, when compelled to step out of her car two quarts were removed from pockets inside her skirt." A "refined young woman" used her aged parents to conceal liquor on their persons, Mr. Eble said, while in another case a clergyman hid several bottles under his garb.

Recently, he continued, the customs experts have devised a mirror apparatus which reveals the entire mechanism underneath an automobile. Secret boxes are thus discovered when the car is driven over it.

HELSINGFORD, Finland, Aug. 11.—American Minister Edward E. Brodie suffered slight injuries in a motor accident while driving in the country with his wife and daughter. While trying to pass a truck, the latter forced the minister into a ditch, breaking a telegraph pole. Mr. Brodie was slightly injured by flying glass. His wife and daughter were unhurt.

CIRCUS IN TOWN BRINGS JOYS TO YOUNG AND OLD

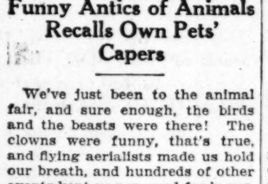
We've just been to the animal fair, and sure enough, the birds and the beasts were there! The clowns were funny, that's true, and flying aerialists made us hold our breath, and hundreds of other events kept us pop-eyed for hours. But the real thrill of the Circus we found in the animal tent! The strange smells, the queer sounds, chattering monkeys, shrilling hyenas, trumpeting elephants, snarling tigers and lions roaring in majesty!

A Pet-Loving Governor

It has been reported that former Governor, Alfred E. Smith, of New York, found as much pleasure in the small zoo he maintained at Albany during his term of office as Governor, as did the little tots from the Capitol for whom he kept it. There were dogs, cats and birds galore, a monkey or two and a donkey, too, for an occasional ride.

Many Persons Own Pets

Many persons enjoy keeping pets. And safe pets are ideal playmates for children. Most homes have some kind of pet or another. Sleek cats or fuzzy, adorable kittens; puppies with frenzied energy and good will; snooty parrots in bright colored plumage; happy, sweet-voiced canaries and cuddling lovebirds. Gold fish, too, are quite likeable and interesting pets.



Pets Brighten Homes

Every day is circus day for those who own animal or bird pets. Teaching the pup to do tricks is a happy form of amusement which will delight you and the family immensely. You'll soon form an attachment for that trusting little friend, which grows and grows, until the loss of a pet becomes almost a family tragedy. Then too, little folks never tire of their pets.

Safe Pets Easy to Get

It isn't hard to find the pet which appeals to you most. Every day you'll find pets of all descriptions, plain "mutts," blooded stock, pekes and Danes, Persians or Maltese tabbies, mixed breeds, parrots, canaries, fish, even monkeys, offered in the Tribune Want Ad Section, at prices you can afford to pay. Why not surprise your family with one of them?

PRAYERS FAIL; TURN TO WANT ADS FOR RESULTS

According to a letter received from Theo. C. Loehr, Carlinville, Illinois druggist, Macoupin County farmers and gardeners who have been praying for rain to relieve a dry situation, have just about given up hope in Providence and are seeking more mundane means for results. Mr. Loehr's letter is as follows:

"Tribune Want Ads Bring Results!" I've heard that from day to day, and to test the truthfulness of the claim, let's try it out this way."

"Wanted: One or two inches of rain before August 3rd, 1930. Apply to Macoupin County, Illinois, farmers and gardeners."

"If you can bring results, draw on me for five dollars, if not, there is no charge."

This letter is indeed interesting. We have always thought of Macoupin County as holding a certain amount of moisture. As to Mr. Loehr's sporting offer, well, far be it from us to guarantee such results.

MOVIE STAR

Wouldn't you like to play a leading role opposite Maurice Chevalier or Buddy Rogers? Such is the good fortune of Miss Frances Dee, who was, up to 15 months ago, an employee of the Tribune Want Ad Department.

Miss Dee, or Miss Deane, as she will be known to her audiences, has just finished a picture "The Little Cafe," playing opposite Maurice Chevalier. In a few days she will begin a picture, playing opposite Buddy Rogers.

Miss Dee's many friends among her former Tribune associates predict that her beauty, ability and personality, will carry her even higher in the firmament of Hollywood's heaven of stars. Best wishes, Miss Dee, from all of us!

SAVE TIME AND STRENGTH WHILE HOME HUNTING

The housing problem in Chicago, in 1804, about the time young John Kinzie settled here, was something more than a leisurely perusal of the Tribune Want Ads.

Built Own Homes

When you needed a home for your family, you shouldered your axe and a rifle, and set off to the nearest woods where homes-in-the-rough were plentiful. If some disgruntled Indian didn't take sudden and violent dislike to you, relieving you of further worries with definite finality, your logs were soon cut. After a few minor preparations, walls, roof, and, if you were ambitious, a floor as well, were assembled into a first-class dwelling, 1804 model.

Can Now Save Energy

The day of the pioneer is past. So is the day of weary plodding up one street and down another in search of clean, comfortable and cheerful living quarters. Today, the Tribune Want Ad section gives the homeseeker a compact, precise report on the homes of Chicago and suburbs available for immediate occupancy. He finds listed there choice offers of homelike rooms, furnished and unfurnished apartments, small cottages and pretentious houses, hotel apartments, co-operative apartments, and a miscellaney of offers including one-acre chicken farms and country estates.

Apartments of All Types

If he is interested in special features, canvassed walls, transportation, certain types of refrigeration, possibilities for income from the dwelling, or the opportunity for a garden plot, most advertisements give him full details. Furthermore, these are listed so he may choose from offers in all sections of the city and the suburbs.

MARCONI FIGHTS FIRE ON FAMOUS YACHT ELECTRA

Save Wireless Apparatus —Stern Damaged.

CIVITAVECCHIA, Italy, Aug. 11. (AP)—Fire broke out today on Guglielmo Marconi's yacht Electra, but was put out within half an hour. First reports said that the stern was practically destroyed, but later indicated that the damage was not so serious. The blaze was understood to have started around a gasoline motor.

Local firemen went out to the yacht in motorboats and joined the crew in fighting the flames with pumps and hand extinguishers. Sig. Marconi, who was in the Villa Odescalchi ashore, superintended the fire fighting, going aboard the yacht as soon as the alarm was given.

Wireless Apparatus Undamaged.

Sig. Marconi's valuable wireless apparatus, which the inventor of wireless had used frequently in recent months for long distance experiments, was in the fire swept part of the craft. When the flames had been put out the inventor inspected his apparatus and said it escaped damage. Early reports said the stern of the yacht had been damaged to the extent of $5,320.

The Electra was Marconi's home, for he sold his house in Rome following his purchase of the boat after the war. With him traveled his wife, the former Countess Bezzi-Scali, who gave birth to her first child July 20.

So, sitting at his transmitter, the inventor of the wireless lived upon the water to further communication through the waves of the air. He installed so much equipment it filled the large cabin assigned to it and made walking difficult.

Talked to Whole World.

With this he sat in a chair, his mouth against a transmitter, talking to Australia, North and South America, Asia, and all of Europe. Recently he conducted a two day conversation from the Mediterranean with America and did the same with Australia. Much of the time he was isolated from land, as far as physical accessibility goes, but he was in touch with all the world.

One of Marconi's experiments aboard the Electra produced "beam wireless" in 1923. This concentrates radio waves in one direction rather than permitting them to leave the antenna in an ever widening circle.

Last March he stood in his radio room and pressed a small key. Eleven thousand miles away, in Sydney, Australia, the lights went on for an electrical exposition. He then conducted a two way conversation with the exhibition officials.

The yacht was anchored 100 meters off shore near Villa Odescalchi, where Marconi has been making his home the last several months because of the birth of the new daughter, Maria Elettra Elena.

Traffic Policemen Without Whistles Tried by Gotham

New York, Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Traffic policemen without whistles—that's the latest innovation of Police Commissioner Mulrooney. Not to save noise, but in an effort to avert accidents, the commissioner believes that a week's trial will cut down pedestrian mishaps. He says that traffic officers have a habit of blowing their whistles without looking around. Without whistles they will have to look around and will not start traffic until pedestrians are in safety zones.

MRS. STANLEY FIELD BECOMES LEADER IN FIGHT ON DRY LAW

Announcement was made yesterday from the headquarters of the Illinois division, Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform, at 700 North Michigan avenue, that Mrs. Stanley Field has accepted the chairmanship of the Lake Bluff branch of the group, and will direct organization in that suburb. Already Lake Forest and other nearby suburbs have been organized under local chairmen, and membership drives started there.

Meanwhile, correspondence received at the headquarters indicates the fear of many women of the growing power of the alky gangs. One woman who sent a check to help along the opposition to the eighteenth amendment comes of a family that has lived for seventy-five years in Chicago.

"I have ample opportunity," she wrote, "to see the good results of prohibition, to say nothing of having had all our windows blown out twice through the efforts of the late Mr. Zuta and some rival faction struggling for bootlegging supremacy."

Another woman who visited the offices declared that she lived in terror because prosperous gangsters have lately been buying up property around her home.

'WAR' DECLARED AT CAMP GRANT; BATTLE TODAY

Troops March Into Action Against "Enemy."

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

Camp Grant, Ill., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—A declaration of war by a mythical enemy state tonight stirred the 10,000 troops of the 33d division, Illinois National Guard, to preparations for combat tomorrow. An engagement involving all the infantry, cavalry, and air forces of the division is scheduled to be fought at Cherry Valley, ten miles from here.

Tomorrow's military problem is said to be the greatest peacetime maneuver ever attempted by a National Guard unit. The peaceful prairies hereabouts will witness cavalry charges, infantry skirmishes, the bombardment of marching troops by airplanes, and other phases of modern warfare.

Division Moves at Daybreak.

News of the declaration of war by a neighboring state, termed the blue state, with its army camped near Dubuque, Ia., caused the issuance of orders from general headquarters for the entire division to be ready to move at daybreak. Rolling kitchens, motor lorries, and tanks will rumble along with the troops.

Planes of the aviation squadron and the 106th cavalry will represent the enemy. The planes will attempt to destroy the bivouac of the troops in the Kishwaukee river valley.

At the end of the two day maneuver umpires will decide whether the enemy was repelled or victorious.

"Enemy" Strong In Air.

The attacking force is presumed to have an advantage in aviation strength, and one result of the problem is expected to be a test of the value of the planes in open warfare.

The troops will march out of camp in two columns, which will join in the evening for encampment under pup tents at Cherry Valley. After the air attack during the night the two enemy forces will make contact in force. The artillery units will back up the infantry advances with barrages and counter battery fire. The cavalry skirmishes amongst the hills and wooded regions of the river valley are expected to be spectacular.

Private John Gafrick, 18 years old, of company L, 132d infantry, whose home address was 4719 Maple avenue, Chicago, died at St. Anthony's hospital this morning. He was stricken with pneumonia last Thursday.

Woman Dies as Result of Bite by Rattlesnake

Great Falls, Mont., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Mrs. John E. Weldele died today. She was struck by a rattlesnake yesterday.

CHILD, 5, ON WAY FROM GERMANY, "LOST" 2 HOURS

For two harrowing hours yesterday Mrs. Anna Kluczyk, 2232 Belmont avenue, feared that her one small daughter, Irmgard Schlipf, 5 years old, who was being sent to Chicago alone from Hamburg, Germany, had been "lost in transit." She had been notified of the child's arrival in New York and was advised to meet the Broadway Limited of the Pennsylvania lines yesterday morning. But Irmgard was not aboard, nor did any one on the train know anything about her.

Telegraph wires hummed between the Travelers' Aid society offices here and in New York as Mrs. Kluczyk sought news of the little girl. Finally a New York message said the girl had been detained and would not reach Chicago until this morning. Irmgard crossed on the S. S. Hamburg and was placed in the custody of the Travelers' Aid on reaching New York.

NAVY'S NATIONAL DEFENSE WINGS MAY BE CLIPPED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Reduction of the navy's rôle in national defense may be the outcome of the latest flareup of the ten year controversy between the war and navy departments over control of coastal air defense. An adverse decision against the navy by the President, who is acting virtually as a referee in a move to settle the dispute, would clip the navy's wings millions of dollars annually and reduce the naval aerial arm to possibly one-fourth its present size.

Since the advent of the airplane as a practical weapon of warfare the army and navy have been fighting intermittently over the question of how to divide up the task of protecting the coast line of the nation and its outlying possessions by aerial means. The desire of both services to have the sole function of aerial defense operations in the so-called "twilight zone," which includes the water area within reach of air operations from land bases, supplies the real bone of contention.

Feeling Recently Acute.

Recently the dispute has become so acute that relations between the two services have become somewhat strained and feeling developed between some of the higher ranking officers is said to have permeated cabinet ranks. It is possible the whole question of coast defense may be reopened, with the navy taking the position that naval aviation based on the land coordinating with naval planes on carriers could handle the coast defense air function more efficiently than army planes and army pilots.

"Since the navy must have aircraft for use in connection with protection of the sea lanes, and since these types of planes can in general be the same as the types required for fleet work, it seems that from the standpoint of effective organization, unity of command and prevention of duplication there is only one logical solution—to place all aerial defense under one control, and that, the navy."

Views of Adams and Hurley.

In an attempt to settle the trouble, Secretary of the Navy Adams recently appealed to the department of justice to render an opinion on its coastal air functions under the law. The department of justice declined. Secretary of War Hurley read the brief submitted by the navy department upholding its right to land air bases and immediately called upon the President to back up the army contention. Hurley asserted that the navy, by maintaining bombing planes at Coco Solo and Pearl Harbor, actually were duplicating army efforts and causing useless expense.

President Hoover directed the two department heads to try to settle the trouble and fix on a line of demarcation which would exclude duplications of effort.

Today it appeared likely that an independent investigation of the dispute may be called for by the President. It is known that he has considered calling upon the bureau of efficiency to study the situation.

Old Demarcation Erased.

The line of old demarcation between army and navy effort in joint coastal operations was definite prior to the advent of air craft. The army operated on land and exercised a defense function from the sea to the limit of range of shore guns. The navy controlled the sea defense. With the advent of aviation, a weapon capable of operating over both land and sea, controversy arose over who should control the "twilight zone," which includes the water area over which land planes based on the land can operate effectively, a distance of 200 miles.

WARNS EUROPE IS PREPARING FOR BIG WAR IN 1935

Scotsman Is Speaker at Williamstown.

Williamstown, Mass., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—By their policies relating to loans and armaments furnished by the stronger powers to the weaker ones the nations of western civilization are preparing for a big war between 1935 and 1940, according to a statement made at the institute of politics today by C. Delisle Burns, professor of citizenship at the University of Glasgow and adviser to the British Labor party.

Prof. Burns drew an analogy between the situation in Europe in 1909, when the nations were divided into two hostile camps by a competition as to which were to furnish finances and armaments to those requiring such assistance and the situation today. Similar alliances are being made at present, asserted Prof. Burns, just as in the last war.

States Growing Stronger.

"Under this crust of preparation for war the states are growing stronger, however, in coöperation," he said. "The tendency toward peace is becoming stronger, but we have only a five year breathing space. If you condone policies now that get you into trouble in 1935, no league of nations will get you out of it then.

"If European nations had taken action in 1909 to stop the drift to war there would have been none in 1914. If we want to stop the war of 1935 we must stop it in 1930.

"The nations in western civilization are today planning for a big war between 1935 and 1940. All governments are planning for this; it is not inevitable, but at least they are planning for it. France says that by 1935 her fortifications will be complete. Although none really wants war, not even Mussolini, we are all drifting toward it."

Outlines British Defenses.

The defense requirements of Great Britain, France, and Japan were outlined respectively by Admiral Sir Herbert Richmond, K. C. B., British authority on naval reduction; Dr. Paul Mantoux of France, and Yusuke Tsurumi of Tokio.

Admiral Richmond explained that the problem of defense of the British empire must provide for security for her scattered interests. The fleet, he said, was to Great Britain what the system of roads built all over Europe was to the ancient Romans. Just as the Romans required freedom to move along their roads, so Great Britain required free movement on the seas to maintain her far flung garrisons.

Primary Costs Inquiry to Reopen in Chicago

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Hearings into expenditures in the McCormick-Deneen senatorial primary contest in Illinois will be resumed in Chicago on or shortly before Sept. 8, it was announced today by Senator G. P. Nye [Rep., N. D.], chairman of the special senate investigating committee. Mrs. Mabel Reinecke, member of the Chicago election board, who Nye has charged evaded a subpoena to testify at the hearings in Chicago last month, will be the chief of a dozen or more witnesses to be questioned.

SOVIET TEACHER IS ADMITTED TO U. S. AS STUDENT

New York, Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Dr. G. V. Potapvuko, a soviet professor coming here under Rockefeller Foundation auspices, was detained upon arrival today for lack of proof that he wouldn't become a public charge. Search for a foundation representative was finally successful and, following identification, Dr. Potapvuko went to the McAlpin hotel. While Russian students are in the intermediate schools the instructors seek to learn their talents so that in higher schools they can specialize according to natural aptitudes, said Dr. Potapvuko, himself instructor in the Mining academy at Moscow. He is here to study at the California Institute of Technology. According to Dr. Potapvuko, the Russian children are happier at study when their own likes and tastes are thus considered.

Lipton Adds Calm Note to Log.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 11.—Somewhere this side of the Azores, Sir Thomas Lipton's fifth challenger for the America's cup, at the present writing, is reported to be leaping from crag to crag in a North Atlantic gale, bound for the United States to sail a series of races against an American defender off Newport, R. I., in September.

Sir Thomas, himself, is not on board the Shamrock V., being an absentee or vicarious skipper in the races which have made him famous. In this respect he resembles the millionaire owners of the more celebrated race horses who never ride or even train their steeds. Sir Thomas follows his boats in the America's cup races on board some stout and comfortable power yacht, but he is 80 years old now and even if he wanted to land a hand on board he probably would not be of much practical use.

It's Fourteenth Challenge.

This will be the fourteenth challenge for the America's cup since the schooner America won it in a fleet, or field, of fifteen boats of various shapes and rigs off Cowes, Isle of Wight, in 1851. The cup was not originally intended as a challenge cup but was put up impromptu as the trophy of an open scratch race by the royal yacht squadron. The histories of the America's cup record that the America fouled the 14 English yachts in the race at Cowes, neglecting to go outside one of the markers, but that the English yachtmen, with that singular magnanimity which is known as true British sportsmanship, waived the right of protest.

So the owners of the America brought the cup back to New York, where they apparently forgot all about it for a long time. It was not a particularly fine cup, and it seems not to have occurred to them to put it up as the trophy of an indefinite and apparently interminable series of international races until several years later, for it did not go into competition again until 1870. Thereafter it was conveyed to the New York Yacht club, whose colors had been flown by the America, subject to the conditions of a deed of gift which, with the development of the toy type of racing sloop, imposed almost insuperable handicaps on all challengers.

America Goes to Cowes.

The America, a schooner, had proceeded under sail, on her own bottom, as the nautical language has it, to race at Cowes and, off hand, it might seem fair enough that the challengers should have to do the same thing. But, as the American designers refined their boats, the conditions encouraged them to sacrifice seaworthyiness for a proportionate gain in theoritical speed. Whether or not the American defenders would have been able to cross the Atlantic under sail as their respective challengers had to do, is a matter for debate by any one so inclined, but the subject is no more capable of satisfactory decision than the more familiar sporting proposition that Joe Gans fought better than Ty Cobb played ball.

Anyway, since the America's cup races have passed out of the field of practical seafaring, the American defenders do their sporting prestige no good by insisting on a condition devised for a type of boat which no more resembled the racers of the present day than a covered wagon resembles a sport roadster. The America had habitable living quarters for her owners and crew, but in the modern challengers, the crews keep hanging from boat hooks, if at all.

The cup is subject to challenge by yachtsmen of any nation, but thus far only British and Canadian boats, and only two of the latter, have tried to win it.

Lipton Challenged in 1899.

Sir Thomas Lipton took up the challenge in 1899 with the Shamrock and by his whimsical good nature sunned away the grouch that had pervaded the rivalry for four years since Lord Dunraven, owner of the Valkyrie III., uttered a strident squawk of foul. His lordship sent over two boats. His Valkyrie II. lost to the Vigilant in 1893, but in 1895 he seemed to have a champion in Valkyrie III. It seems that the Valkyrie III. ran into a troublesome wash from the undisciplined excursion steamers which were following the first race and Lord Dunraven's boat was beaten by the American sloop Defender. Dunraven thereupon sounded the pitch for fainting Phil Scott's historic complaints of foul, but three days later sent his boat out again. This time Valkyrie III. won the race, but lost the decision. The Americans claimed she had fouled their boat and, being on their own home waters, they allowed their own protest. So Dunraven's ship was now 2 down and he was very much annoyed.

Two days later the boats went to the line for the third and deciding race, but Dunraven, who was a very tough man with no reason to humor the American public and as little inclination, just sent his boat across the starting line and then withdrew it.

Dunraven Didn't Care.

He was an Irish soldier and war correspondent who had rougned it in the American west with Buffalo Bill and Col. Custer and, having plenty of money, he didn't care what kind of tea the Americans drank. He was

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Our Cub team, the baseball nine that last Saturday noon was in second place by the distressing margin of three and one-half games, this morning is in first place by a margin of one percentage point. And those second place Robins, operating under a violent state of mental anguish, are right here in town ready to engage our boys in a series of four contests.

The last stage of this happy transformation from a poor second to a good enough first was accomplished yesterday afternoon when the Cubs licked the Braves for four in a row, the final by a score of 4 to 2, the Cards the while socking the Robins in a heartbreaking (for the Robins) ninth inning riot, 7 to 6.

Play Smart Ball.

In taking the final from the Braves the Cubs continued to play smart, snappy, and businesslike baseball in marked reversal to the nervous, awkward, and sometimes dumb endeavors that for a time caused such grave concern when folks thought the boys ought to be beating such outfits as the Cincinnatis and the Pittsburghs.

That fellow Stephenson, for instance. Stevie has been just waiting for the going to get tough, perhaps. Yesterday he concluded the time had arrived for some real money playing. He got two doubles, a single and a walk in four times at bat. And Hack! Hack didn't resume his home run smacking but he made it clear that he's in the march with two singles in four times at bat. Then, too, there was Woody English, who twice drove in a run with a single. Also, you should have seen that Doc Farrell fielding his shortstop job.

Don't think we're going to forget Bud Teachout. Bud allowed six hits. Until the ninth, when, he was in possession of a 4 to 1 lead, he had allowed four hits, all singles, and two of these were by Pitcher Cantwell, so buried in the batting order that he could do no harm.

The Cubs are expecting Vance in the Brooklyn opener this afternoon. Bush or Blake will pitch for the Cubs. Blake is the more likely choice. The last game that Tough Luck Freddie won was a handsome five hit, 6 to 2 victory over the Robins, Elliott, Moss, and Thurston pitching, on July 13. Bush, as a relief thrower, worked six innings against Vance on July 17, and won in the thirteenth inning, 6 to 5.

Not Afraid of Vance.

Furthermore, Vance took a second licking, 5 to 4, in the game he started on July 19. The reason for mentioning this is to convince you the Cubs aren't as afraid of Old Dazzy as they used to be.

So far the Cubs have beaten the Robins 11 out of 15 played this season. Up to the time the Cards took the Flatbushers for four in a row in the series just closed, no other club in the league had been able to lick the second placers more than six games. The Robins' loss yesterday was the eighth they have taken at the hands of the Red Birds.

In yesterday's entertainment at Wrigley field the Cubs were the first to start production, getting one run across in the second inning. Wilson opened with a single to left and went to third on Stephenson's single to center. Hack scored while Grimm was forcing Stephenson, Maguire to Maranville. Hartnett struck out and Cantwell threw out Farrell.

Braves Tie Score.

In the fourth the Braves tied the score at 1 to 1, and had the bases full with one out when Teachout called a halt. After Chatham had popped out, Maranville singled to center. Sisler grounded to English, whose threw to second was too late to force the Rabbit. Berger singled to left, scoring Maranville, Sisler stopping at second. Welsh walked, filling the bases. Teachout then fanned Clark and threw out Maguire.

Farrell started off the Chicago fifth with a single to left and moved to second on Teachout's sacrifice bunt. Blair flied to Clark, but English singled to center, scoring Farrell. Cuyler flied to Clark.

The Braves showed some nice defensive work in the sixth when they held the champs scoreless after the bases were filled with none out. Wilson singled and Stephenson walked. Then Grimm tapped to Cantwell, who

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Chicago's oldest annual golf event got under way for the 26th time yesterday when 157 amateurs began play at Jackson park for the city championship. At the end of the day's competition there were 76 left standing, and among them were many of the old timers who have been competing year after year in this event, including George Thomas, defending champion; Ted Lloyd, who has been runner up four times; Willie FitzGerald, champion in 1924, and Lee Thiltges, who never has quite made the grade but has come close many times.

Leading the field was Edward Hart of Cedar Lake, Ind., who was the only one to shoot par 69, and right behind him were Barney Lucas, Al Anderagan, and Keith Morrison, each with 70. Lucas, who comes from Los Angeles, reached the semi-finals of the national public links championship last week at Jacksonville, Fla., and competing with him are Joe Bushong and L. Mead, both of Portland, Ore., who went to the third round in that tournament.

Fight Decisions

BY ARCH WARD.

It begins to appear that Mique Malloy is going to put on that Sharkey-Carnera bout in Chicago after all.

Reports last night from New York, where Malloy is painting pictures of a million dollar gate for Sharkey and his manager, had it that the Chicago promoter is making progress.

George Getz, a member of the Illinois Athletic commission who entered the prize fight trade in a delicate way as honorary promoter of the Dempsey-Tunney battle at Soldiers' field, said last night that it looked like Chicago would land the match.

Getz Indorses Mission.

Malloy went to New York bearing a letter from Mr. Getz indorsing his mission. Sharkey and Carnera in a Chicago bout properly exploited would draw a million dollars, Getz believes.

"There is a possibility that Malloy may interest the New York Garden people in coöperating with him in putting on the match in Chicago," Getz stated. "The commission would have no objection to such an arrangement as far as I can see. We, of course, would deal with Malloy.

"If the Garden isn't interested, Malloy probably will go ahead on his own. He would have to show the commission, however, that he is financially prepared to handle the venture. We are concerned only in protecting the public.

"I think the match would be a big thing for Chicago," the commissioner added. "Boxing needs a good heavyweight battle to revive interest in the sport."

Chicago boxing leaders agree with Getz that the match would have drawing power. There is great curiosity as to Carnera, who hasn't convinced the fans whether he is a fighter, or just an order of ham cut exceedingly thick.

Sharkey Could Come Here.

It has been reported that Sharkey is to fight Stribling under the auspices of the New York Garden in the fall, but according to Getz, the Garden neglected to place the Boston sailor under contract after he fouled out to Schmeling at Yankee stadium.. Consequently, it is Mr. Getz's understanding that Sharkey has the right to accept the Chicago engagement if it attracts him.

John Buckley, manager of Sharkey, recently told Getz that Sharkey is anxious to fight here.

If Malloy is successful in signing Sharkey, the bout will be held about the third week of September. Wrigley field and Soldiers' field are the available sites.

There have been rumors that Getz might underwrite the fight if Malloy failed to interest the New York Garden. These were emphatically denied last night.

Primo Works Out.

"I positively will have no connection with the bout except in the capacity of a commissioner. I am through as a promoter," Getz said.

Carnera and his manager, Leon See, have been in Chicago several days awaiting developments. Primo has been working out in a loop gym. Alarmed by the recent deportation order against Carnera, which was rescinded only upon the application of firm political pressure, See states that his fighter is now ready to fight anybody.

Schmeling vs. Stribling Most Popular Bout

Young Stribling vs. Max Schmeling for the world's heavyweight championship. That is the biggest boxing attraction that could be arranged for Chicago, if you accept the word of those who make the turnstiles spin.

THE TRIBUNE last Friday asked the fans to name what they considered the ten best bouts that could be presented in Chicago. The balloting continued until midnight Sunday. The answer was Stribling vs. Schmeling.

The selection of the first ten bouts was decided by a point system. Each vote for first place was given 10 points, second place nine and so on down the line until the fan's tenth choice received one vote. The Stribling-Schmeling match earned 4,940 points.

Stribling's knockout of Otto von Porat at Chicago Stadium six weeks ago made him tremendously popular. His quick victory over Phil Scott in London added to his following.

Chicago apparently isn't willing to let Jack Dempsey retire without a parting cheer. The former heavyweight champion, paired with Primo Carnera, came in second with 4,372 points. Third place went to Carnera and Sharkey.

Eight of the ten most popular bouts would bring together heavyweights. A light heavyweight battle between Mickey Walker and Maxie Rosenbloom ranked fifth and a welterweight bout between champion Jack Thompson and Jimmy McLarnin was eighth.

Ranking next to the ten bouts listed above were:

The action apparently ended a long period of bickering between Frasier and the White Sox management during which the pitcher refused to report for duty. It came after a conference between Frasier and President Sol Dreyfuss of the Dallas club. Dreyfuss said he told Frasier he was "throwing away" a promising baseball career.

Tinker to Succeed Allen as Pilot of Jersey City Club

New York, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Joe B. Tinker, shortstop of the famous Tinker to Evers to Chance infield combination of the Chicago Cubs 20 years ago, has been appointed manager of the Jersey City club in the International league, George Perry, new contact man of the New York Yankees, announced today.

Tinker succeeds Nick Allen, who resigned the leadership of the Jersey City team when the club failed to advance under his direction. The Yankees, regarded as the parent of the Jersey City club, are known to be interested in its direction.

Tinker served a short time earlier this season as assistant to Bill Clymer in the management of the Buffalo team in the International league. He was let go at the same time Clymer resigned.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 11.—Old age and experience had to be summoned this afternoon to lead the White Sox out of the wilderness of defeats. This brought Red Faber on the scene, and the world champions, after taking four in a row from the Chicagoans, surrendered in the final, 8 to 3. Old Red, who is only a few weeks from his forty-second birthday, has registered the two triumphs accomplished by the Sox in their last eleven efforts.

Faber's work was lightened by a big inning, the like of which the Comiskey hose are not in the habit of producing. With the score deadlocked at one apiece in the third, the boys from the west conceived the idea of taking Rube Walberg for a ride. The ride ended only after five runners had clattered across the plate, three of them because Bill Cissell exploded a homer. This nestegg assured Faber's success, but for good measure two more were added in the seventh. Cissell also had a hand in this uprising.

Play Senators Today.

Ted Lyons will try for his eighteenth win tomorrow at Washington. Liska probably will oppose him.

The Chicagoans frisked Walberg for a run in the first inning. Kerr opened the game with a double to the wall in left. He hustled to third on a wild pitch and scored on Fothergill's fly to Simmons, who made a pitifully weak throw to the plate. The Macks tied it in their half because of Faber's wildness. Old Red walked Bishop, the leadoff man, who crossed the plate on Foxx's single.

The five run rumpus in the Sox third got its start on a pass to Faber. Three strikes disposed of Kerr. Watwood's single to right and an infield hit by Fothergill loaded the bases. Jolley tried to pull away from a pitched ball but wasn't quick enough. The ball plunked against his bat and bounced over third for a single, Faber and Watwood scoring. Then Cissell sent Walberg's first pitch into the seats in left, Fothergill and Jolley preceeding him over the plate.

Mahaffey Yields 2 Runs.

The same Sox who were instrumental in putting together the five run rally in the third were back in action when two more scored in the seventh off Mahaffey. With one out, Fothergill caromed a single off the pitcher's right shinbone. Jolley lined a double to right center, Fothergill halting at third. Cissell singled to center, scoring Fothergill and planting Jolley on third. Jolley sneaked home while Bishop was expunging Clancy on a grounder.

Part of the Sox 8 to 1 lead was dissipated in the home seventh. Miller opened the inning with a single and Dykes forced him. Boley singled to put Dykes on third. Summa was mustered into action as pinch hitter for Mahaffey. He tore off a double to right, scoring Dykes and moving Boley to third. Boley counted the second run of the inning on Bishop's fly to Fothergill.

It's Cubs, .596; Robins, .595; What Will It Be Tonight?

This afternoon at Wrigley field, Addison and Clark streets, the "little world series" will open between the first place Chicago Cubs, whose National league standing is .596, and the second place Brooklyn Robins, whose league standing is .595.

Statistics reveal that the clubs are almost as even in hitting strength as they are in the league standing. The entire Cub squad has a mark of .311, as compared with .309 for the Robins. The teams are tied in fielding with .971.

Today's Robin infield is about 18 points stronger with the bat than the boys who will play the infield for the Cubs, but today's Cub outfield is 26 points better than the Robins'. This difference is due to the fact that Stephenson is batting an even hundred points more than Brassler. The catchers are tied.

BY FRENCH LANE.

The old boy tried to come back at Hawthorne yesterday in a mile and 70 yard race against a mediocre field. His loyal backers of long ago stood by him.

But after Flat Iron, now 7 years old, headed into the stretch leading by a length, along came Calome, a 3 year old of none too stylish breeding, but fleet of foot and sound as a dollar, to conquer him in the run home.

Flat Iron got a noble ride from Jockey R. Ayraud and on his class alone showed them the way to the head of the stretch. He looked like a sure winner as he turned for home. But Calome, strictly a sprinter in previous efforts, turned suddenly into a route runner, and, showing no respect for Flat Iron's great reputation, raced on past him as if the aged son of Friar Rock had been standing still.

Easy Race for Jockey.

Jockey Richard rode Calome to his victory, but didn't have to do anything but sit in the saddle. Sweet Verbena was dangerous most of the way, but apparently did not have enough nerve to go on around Flat Iron, so she settled back and was content with third money. Calf Roper was up there for a time, but quit badly in the last furlong. Skibbo was beaten off all the way and looked like the cheapest kind of a selling plater.

The time was 1:43 3-5, several seconds off the track record. In the mutuels Calome paid $7.52. Calome ran in the silks of A. A. Baroni, the Nevada taxi cab magnate. The Baroni forces completed a double in the next race when Zida got up to beat Laughing Laura by a head in another mile and 70 yard dash.

The jockeys got a bit rough in this encounter and Buddy Hanford, who rode Guide Right to third place, was fined $50 for hitting E. Gianelloni on Sandy Shore across the face with his whip at the head of the stretch.

First Vote Disappoints Again.

That good 2 year old, First Vote, owned by Albert Sabath, offended again after he had been made the short priced favorite in the La Grange purse. Mr. Sabath is going to lose his patience with this horse one of these days and chase him around the lower bend of Lake Michigan.

The excuse this time was that First Vote was away slowly. And Jockey Knight gave the Chicago youngster no help in the early stages while he was trying to find his stride and while Maid of Honor, Rusty, Good Jest, and Portcodine were running far out in front of him.

First Vote finally got into stride at the head of the stretch. Then he closed an enormous gap, but the game run he made was not good enough to overhaul Rusty, a Kentucky youngster, which was making the second start of his career. Rusty rushed past the finish line a length and a half in front of First Vote. Edward B. McLean's Portcodine was third.

Rusty was a long shot and paid $44.64 to win, $17.06 to place, and $9.54 to show. First Vote and Portcodine have probably cost their public more money than any other two year olds to race in Chicago this year.

Some of the long headed players are beginning to call them "sucker" horses. They are always expected to win, and run a good race, but always drop into the two or three hole when the official numbers are hung out.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 11.—(AP)—The Belair stud's Peto, with Whitey Abel in the saddle, won by a head in the 28th running of the Catskill claiming stake here today. E. R. Bradley's Buddy Bauer was second and the Sagamore stable's Coin Collector, third. The race was worth $4,025.

Black Watch and Angry, two fast horses, went to the front and stepped along at a terrific pace. Their mad attempt to gain the lead proved their undoing, for when the stretch race began they both faltered and finished outside the money.

Peto, who raced in third position to the stretch, took command when the field straightened out in the final furlong and held on to win by a head from Buddy Bauer, who beat Coin Collector a length and a half for the place. The time was 1:25 3-5.

BRITISH TRACK SQUAD INCLUDES SOUTH AFRICANS

South Africa's famous "Greco circus," composed of four of that country's outstanding athletes, will comprise a portion of the British empire track team which meets the United States at Soldiers' field the night of Aug. 27.

These four youths—Viljoen, Legg Hart, and Chandler—are beloved by all South Africa as a result of their exploits at the Olympic games in 1928 and in national track meets all over the world.

J. Viljoen, leader of the foreign squad, is characterized by H. B. Keartland, South African Olympic coach, as one of the most unusual athletes in the world. He runs the 100 in :09.8, high jumps 6 feet 3 inches, broad jumps 24 feet 8 inches, and runs the 120 yard high hurdles in :14.6.

W. B. Legg placed fifth in the 100 meter dash at the last Olympic games. Harry Hart, like Viljoen, is an all around performer, his best specialty being the shot put, in which he holds the South African record of 48 feet.

J. Chandler, the fourth member of the circus, runs the quarter and half. He has run the former in :48.4 and the 880 in 1:54.4.

HINES CONQUERS JOHNSON IN FIRST JUNIOR NET TILT

Culver, Ind., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Eighty-four juniors and forty-four boys began a quest for the national junior and boy tennis championships on the Culver Military academy courts today. By nightfall the field had been cut in half.

Wilmer Hines, Columbia, S. C., seeded two in the juniors, won his first match, 6-1, 6-3, from Dick Johnson, Grand Rapids Mich. Karl Kamrath, Austin, Tex., eastern junior champion and the first seeded star, will play his first match tomorrow.

Billy Doeg, Santa Monica, Cal., young brother of John Doeg, Davis cup star, won in three sets from Dick Inglis, Cleveland, 6-4, 7-9, 6-3.

All of the leaders in the boys' division were victorious. They included Jay Cohn, Santa Monica, Cal., national boy champion last year; Frankie Parker, Milwaukee, western champion, who now holds three successive victories over Cohn; George Boynton, Atlanta, second ranking national boy; Jack Lynch, Taft, Cal., and Jock McLean, son of the Washington, D. C., publisher, who is accompanied by his private instructor, Paul Heston.

America's Cup History Is a Stormy Yarn

at no pains to leave them laughing when he said good-by, for he added to his other charges a complaint that American yachtsmen had changed the ballast of their boat after the official measurements had been sealed.

Lipton's motives in sailing for the America's cup have been subject to long and skeptical scrutiny. Yachting undoubtedly has been his hobby, but this persistent trying for the America's cup may have been an affectation assumed for business reasons, for he has always had Henry Ford's wise appreciation of the printed word. The name of Lipton became synonymous with tea in the English speaking countries and the advertising value of the publicity which he derived from his attempts to win the cup must have been far greater than the cost of building and racing his challengers. This cost has been estimated at $10,000,000.

He is a genial old man of the self-made type and he likes to recall that he landed at Castle Garden, the old immigrant landing station in New York harbor, in 1865. He is more a Scot than an Irishman, having been born in Belfast, and he was only 15 when he came to America. He worked as a grocer's clerk, as a field hand, and, for a time, as a horse car conductor in New Orleans, then returned to Glasgow and opened a grocery store, which probably was the original germ of the chain store idea. This store presently became the home office of a system of little grocery stores. He got rich quickly and bought tea plantations in Ceylon and a packing house in Chicago.

Friends Surround Him.

When Lipton comes to the United States he is instantly surrounded wherever he goes by the most heterogeneous assortment of old friends, some of whom have the appearance of having stepped out of old tintypes. His social range is boundless and his guest list on the steam yacht Victoria, which followed the Shamrock IV. in 1920, included Lord Dewar, the whisky magnate; Sir John Ferguson, the London banker; William Hale Thompson; Richard E. Enright, the New York police commissioner; a child prodigy of the dancing profession; Anna Q. Nillson, the movie picture actress, and a similarly mixed company of about 75, some of whom showed up in rusty formal coats fragrant of moth balls. He knew them all, however, and he was up and down his decks all day long every racing day, reminiscing of trivial indicents which had happened many years before.

One afternoon, when the moving picture men were shooting a news reel of him at sea, an idea that could do his tea business no possible harm, he left his spoon in his cup as he started to praise it to his lips. An apprehensive young lady sitting next him exclaimed, "O, Sir Thomas," and removed the spoon.

Lipton Puts Spoon Back.

"No," Lipton said, firmly taking it from her and jabbing it back into the cup. "I always drink it this way."

If he were a native American citizen he probably would not be as highly celebrated in this country, for in that case he would not be a knight but just a familiar, whimsical old man with an underlying character of shrewdness and commercial acumen. He wears his title without pomposity but still with dignity enough.

His biography contains this interesting note: "At Queen Victoria's golden jubilee in 1897 he gave $100,000 to provide dinners for the London poor. In 1898 he was knighted."

POLICEMEN WIND UP TRAINING FOR ANNUAL GAMES

Meet Saturday and Sunday at Soldiers' Field.

The athletes of the police department yesterday began their final week of preparation for the ninth annual Chicago police field meet Saturday and Sunday at Soldiers' field. Many of the contestants started to ease up on their training to avoid over conditioning before the two days of track events, drills, and stunts.

The feature of the meet will be the show, "Fighting Crime," which will be put on by members of the detective bureau. The detectives will give an exhibition of capturing some of their comrades, disguised as bandits, by the use of rifles, revolvers, shotguns, and tear gas bombs. Equaling this in interest will be the track and field championship events of the Central A. A. U., which will be held in conjunction with the police meet for the first time.

The policemen who have lost the ability to run 100 yards under ten seconds will not be forgotten in the shuffle of events. For these the department has arranged mass, physical, and color drills that will show the public that the patrolmen also know how to march and change formations.

Members of the motorcycle division have practiced stunts, in one of which a policeman rides on the shoulders of two of his comrades on "bikes." The horses of the mounted traffic division also will be put through their paces in races and jumping events. The chariot races are promised as one of the features of the meet.

Policemen in uniform have been selling tickets for the meet the last month. Proceeds go into a fund to provide for widows, orphans, and dependents of policemen who are killed in the performance of duty.

Drought Brings Bad News for Fishermen, Too

BY BOB BECKER.

The prolonged drought has killed thousands of fish, much to the grief of the anglers, but now comes another trouble to harass devotees of the rod and line sport. The drought in some parts of the middle west has made heavy inroads on the supply of angleworms, cut into the grasshopper supply, and reduced the number of crickets almost to nil, so there is grief in the camps of the bait fishermen who prefer the old fashioned and highly effective live bait to artificial fish fooolers.

In southern Michigan the fishermen face a rising market and a meager supply of live bait, according to Howard R. Smith, a Western Springs, Ill., fisherman who recently returned from the lake district near Lawton, Mich. The chief fishing in the southern part of lower Michigan, exclusive of trout, is for black bass, bluegills, perch, crappies, rock bass, and related species, although there are some lakes which yield good strings of pickerel and wall-eyed pike. Bait is almost entirely restricted to worms, grubs, minnows, and crickets or grasshoppers.

As an example of what the drought has done to the bait business, here is the situation around Lawton. Worms have always been for sale in that territory at 25 cents a hundred. A couple of weeks ago the farmer boys hiked the price to 35 cents and then to 50 cents, and it was not easy to get usable worms at that price. The sandy district around Lawton is not well suited to worm culture. But this summer any worm that lives long enough to reach maturity finds a spirited "bull" market waiting it.

As a consequence of the lack of worms, minnow seining increased and the supply of shiners has been heavily reduced to bring on more trouble in the drought cycle. Game wardens feel it now because the inexperienced fishermen, unfamiliar with the various kinds of minnows, began to use perch for bait, a procedure that is against the law. Therefore, the wardens have had to get busy and stop this practice.

Goslin Hits 2 Home Runs, Drives In 5 Tallies.

New York, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The Yankees winning streak of six straight was shattered today by Rip Collins and George Blaeholder, who pitched the Browns to a 10 to 5 victory in the final St. Louis appearance of the season at the stadium. While the Yanks were struggling to get five runs the Browns clouted twelve, four of them homers. Goose Goslin got a pair and Blue and O'Rourke one apiece.

Goslin got a double and single in addition to the pair of four baggers and drove in half the Browns' runs. Goslin hit his first homer off Roy Sherid, Yankee starting pitcher, and the second off Owner Carroll, who replaced McEvoy in the seventh with two on the bases in the eighth. McEvoy replaced Sherid in the fifth.

RED SOX, 5; TIGERS, 1.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 11.—(AP)—The Red Sox won the last of their four game series with the Detroit Tigers here today, 5 to 1, thereby splitting even on the series. Danny MacFayden held the Tigers to three hits, two of them by Paul Easterling. The visitors only run was forced in by MacFayden's wildness in the fourth.

Webb made a peculiar homer in the third on a long drive to deep center. Center Fielder Funk ran in toward second base when the ball was hit and it passed far over his head. Webb had circled the bases before Funk could retrieve it. It should have been an easy out. Score:

Cards Score 3 in 9th; Beat Brooklyn, 7-6

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 11.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Robins cracked in the ninth inning today and lost a dramatic game to the Cardinals, 7 to 6. The defeat, their fourth in a row here, ousted them from the lead in the National league that had been theirs with but two short breaks since early June.

With victory apparently safely stowed away and Hollis Thurston pitching nicely, the Robins had a two run lead going into the ninth, but two errors by Del Bissonette, Brooklyn first baseman, his late throw to third, and three hits, the last a single by Frankie Frisch, gave the Cardinals three runs and victory.

Gilbert's fumble in the second led to Thurston's only bad inning up to the ninth. Bottomley's triple, doubles by Gelbert and Douthit, Johnson's single and a wild pitch gave the Cards four runs. Aided by homers by Frederick and Herman, the Robins pecked at Johnson and Grabowski for an apparent safe lead going into the ninth. Score:

turned to throw to third, but found no one covering. Hartnett forced Wilson at the plate, Maranville to Cronin, Farrell fanned, and Cantwell threw out Teachout.

Blair Clouts Double.

The score became 3 to 1 in the eighth, when Blair led off with a double and scored on English's single. Cuyler then hit into a double play and Wilson fanned. Another run was added by Chicago in the eighth on Stephenson's second double and a single by Hartnett.

Berger led off the ninth with what eventually was scored as his 29th homer of the year. Wilson was camped under the ball in the far corner of the field, but the thing evaded him. The official scorer was ill and absent and a debate immediately ensued in the press coup as to whether it was an error by Wilson or a homer. It finally was agreed that every one would be happier if the affair were adjudged a homer. And so it was.

IN the WAKE of the NEWS

TENNIS RENAISSANCE?

DEFEATS of Tilden and Lott, especially the former, for Lott is still a young player comparatively, in the Southampton tourney last week naturally attracted attention following the disheartening bowling over of the challenging Yankee squad by the French Davis cup defenders.

That these defeats were accomplished by young players was what stirred the interest. It is now conceded the Davis cup, when, as, and if regained, must be lifted by young and developing racketeers. Sidney Wood, schoolboy who downed Lott and then Wilmer Allison in the finals; Frank Shields, who conquered Tilden, and Elsworth Vines are the trio now in the net limelight.

Defeat of our tennis team and victory of our golf team abroad causes us to wonder just how much effect golf has had in reducing the ranks of rising net stars. Even without the peerless Bobby Jones our golf amateurs could give a very good account of themselves anywhere and have done so.

There is no question many boys are playing golf who would be playing tennis if there was no golf. Tennis is less expensive and affords more exercise in a given period. Golf, on the other hand, offers better competitive conditions, especially in the middle west and south. It also is a sport which may be carried better into middle age as a recreation as well as a sport, although Walter Hayes, Harry Knox, and Herbert Vanzwoll of this city may seem to belie that assertion.

Perhaps many will dispute the opinion, but it seems to us that a golfer may develop faster with the same amount of practice than a tennis player. The latter requires not only practice but experience against opponents of varied tactics. The golfer, of course, needs tournament experience to steady his nerves, but his actual effort is against an intangible opponent, Old Man Par.

So The Wake thinks we must concede golf has had a marked deterrent influence against development of more young tennis prodigies. Therefore it is the more encouraging to note the rise of this adolescent trio, whether or not they attain in the national tourney the heights reached last week. The Davis cup cannot and must not remain in France forever.

Some folks would laugh, and think it was funny
The way I've been getting a run for my money—
For sure as I think a horse has a kind face
And a very fine nose, the darned nag will place.
If I bet 'em to place, they always do show—
If I buy a show ticket, they'll run fourth
I know.
It isn't the horse sense in betting I lack.
It isn't my fault I'm losing my jack—

But once in a while some good luck I catch—

CHICAGO STOCKS SLOW DOWN AND END IRREGULAR

Majestic Household Has Gain of 1⅞.

Trading on the Chicago Stock exchange slowed down yesterday and prices at the close were irregular, with the gains possibly outnumbering the losses slightly. The volume for the day totaled a little better than 100,000 shares.

Majestic Household exhibited some strength and closed at 45, a gain of 1⅝ over Saturday's price. The most active trading of the day was around the Majestic post, with 21,650 shares changing hands. Grigsby-Grunow was a fraction up, closing at 14½ on moderate sales.

Bastian Blessing, which a week or so ago made a healthy advance only to lose it in the selling of Friday, was another stock to stage a comeback. It climbed 5½ points to 29½. There were many advances in the general list. Electric Household was up 1½, while Great Lakes Dredge gained 1⅜ and Modine moved up fractionally.

Swift Gains.

Swift made a gain of ¾ and Libby McNeill, in closing at 14½, was 1½ to the good. U. S. Gypsum advanced 1¾ to 42¾. Marks Brothers Theaters dropped 2¾ to finish at 7 and General Theaters Equipment was off 1 point at 30. Noblitt Sparks lost 4 points and North American Car was off 1 at 37½.

Automotives were steady, with few changes in the more active issues. Auburn, which is wont to be spectacular at times, enjoyed a calm day. McCord Radiator and McQuay-Norris, two stocks in this division which are not especially active, each suffered a loss of 3 points.

Utilities slipped into the doldrums and no news of a sensational character emanated from this division. Public Service of Northern Illinois, $100 common, slipped 11½ to 268½, and the no par at 269¾ was off 3¾ but the sales were light and the changes were of little significance.

Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line.

Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line, in closing at 28⅛, was up a minor fraction. Officials of the company announced that through subsidiary companies the concern has increased its available supply of gas in the Texas panhandle and southwestern Kansas by more than 100,000,000 cubic feet of daily open flow.

Midland United company stockholders at a special meeting yesterday approved an increase in the number of authorized common shares from 5,000,000 to 7,500,000. Samuel Insull Jr., president, stated that the increased authorization was necessary in view of pending financial operations.

Investment trusts were steady. Continental Chicago gained ¼ to close at 14⅝. No change was noted in the other leaders in this division.

Radios likewise were stationary. Ross Siragusa, president of the Transformer Corporation of America, announced that his organization is bringing out a combination radio and phonograph model which will be ready for distribution Sept. 1. He estimated that production of this model will step up from 3,600 sets monthly to 4,600 sets.

N. PACIFIC ROAD TO AID MONTANA DROUGHT PARTS

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 11.—(AP)—The Northern Pacific railway today announced it will institute emergency freight rates on Montana cattle and sheep as an aid in drought stricken portions of thate state as soon as permission is granted by the interstate commerce commission.

Great Northern officials said they have wired the company's Montana representatives to send in full reports of drought conditions in that road's territory and will take action if emergencies are found to exist.

L. R. Capron, freight traffic manager, said the road will haul stock from central and western Montana ranches to feeding points in eastern Montana, North Dakota or Minnesota, permit unloading for several months of feeding, and then carry the stock on to market on low through rates.

Only a limited Montana territory along the Northern Pacific system, Mr. Capron said, has been burned up by the drought, but the emergency rates will be applied to the state as a whole. The rates will remain in effect until next April.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 11.—Statistics on operations in the copper industry during July are due about this time. It is expected by some trade authorities that the monthly report by the American Bureau of Metal Statistics will reveal a slight decrease in surplus stocks of the metal. If they do, it will be the first decrease in stocks reported in monthly figures since October. Stocks at the end of that month aggregated 88,401 tons. They have increased every month since. At the end of June they totaled 316,761 tons.

Sales of copper during July were extraordinarily heavy. They were the largest, as a matter of fact, for any month in almost a year, and perhaps longer. It is difficult to obtain exact statistics on sales, because the American bureau does not keep a record of sales. It only checks the monthly consumption.

The Engineering and Mining Journal, however, estimates that total sales of the red metal last month aggregated 235,000 tons. Its figures are probably as authoritative as any made public. That total exceeds even the aggregate of May, according to the Journal.

CORN PRODUCTS ASKS BOARD OF TRADE LISTING

The Corn Products company yesterday made application with the Chicago Board of Trade securities department for the listing of $25,000,000 of cumulative preferred stock and $63,250,000 of common stock.

Formal application was also made by the Chicago Great Western railroad for the listing of 473,774 shares of preferred stock and 452,469 shares of common. This is the first railroad to make application to list securities on the Board of Trade and the reason for the action was given as a desire to link the road more closely with the territory in which it operates.

RAILROAD NOTES

Preliminary estimates of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad for July indicate net operating income will be approximately $1,339,000, a decrease of $1,060,000 from $2,406,000 in the like month last year.

The drought situation in the Chicago Great Western territory is uncertain and mixed, with the most serious damage apparently more or less localized, according to V. N. Boatner, president. Corn outlook along Great Western lines is fair in northern Illinois and northern Iowa and poor in Iowa, south of Des Moines, and in Missouri.

During the week ended Aug. 9 the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé railroad handled 36,458 revenue freight cars, compared with 42,315 in the like week of 1929.

FINANCIAL NOTES

An offering of $687,000 Cuyahoga county, O., 4¼ per cent road and bridge bonds will be placed on the market today by the First Detroit company and the Guardian Trust company, Cleveland. The bonds mature serially 1930 to 1940 and yield 2.25 per cent to 4.05 per cent.

Public offering has been made of $2,000,000 Canadian National Railways 4½ per cent equipment trust certificates, priced to yield 4.70 per cent for all maturities. The offering was made by Wood, Gundy & Co. The capital stock of the Canadian National Railways is owned entirely by the Canadian government.

ERRATIC CORN FUTURES CLOSE A LITTLE HIGHER

Gov't Report Brings Evening Up.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Fear of what the government report might show on the prospective corn crop led to heavy evening up yesterday on the part of commission houses and local operators with the result that futures fluctuated erratically within a range of 3¼@3¼c.

Longs liquidated early, causing a decline of around 2c from Saturday's finish, while toward the last there was short covering and buying by bulls and the finish was ⅛@⅜c higher. September closed at 99⅛@99¼c; December at 95@95⅛c; March at 97½@97⅝c, and May at 99½@99⅝c.

A flood of crop damage reports came from a wide area, although temperatures over the corn belt were much lower. Scattered showers were received in some sections over the week-end. The forecast was for showers in the northern and western sections with somewhat higher temperatures.

George M. Le Count, Stein, Alstrin & Co. crop observer, who has been traveling over the corn belt for two weeks, wired that he had never seen anything to compare with the present condition. South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas could not make half a crop two weeks ago. There is some fairly good corn in northwest Missouri, but anything like a fair crop is out of the question, he said.

Iowa Prospects Better.

In Iowa prospects are better. According to Mr. Le Count, prospects are better and continued fair from Des Moines to near Peoria, but were far below normal. From Peoria south, conditions grow rapidly worse. In the Springfield territory corn is in better condition, but only a light crop is possible. From Vandalia to Terre Haute, Ind., there will be very little corn. Taking the corn belt as a whole, it is in deplorable condition, and the yield will be lighter than generally supposed, as the intense heat killed much of the pollen and the ears will fill poorly as the result.

H. C. Donovan, Logan & Bryan observer, after a 2,000 mile trip through the corn belt says the loss in pastures, late hay and other crops, as well as corn fodder, added to the loss in ear corn, has been enough to be classed as a calamity affecting food for both human and animal during the remainder of the crop year.

Many traders felt during the day that the government report would not show as low as the 2,300,000,000 bu. suggested by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde earlier in the month, and went out of their lines in anticipation of getting the corn back cheaper.

News other than regarding crop conditions is being ignored by the trade. A decrease of 610,000 bu in the visible supply had little effect, although the total is down to 3,046,000 bu, against 8,285,000 bu last year.

Wheat in Sharp Decline.

Heavy hedging sales against the movement of spring wheat, which is increasing rapidly in the American northwest, was instrumental in depressing futures on the Chicago Board of Trade. There was also evening up for the government report due after the close. Weakness at Minneapolis had considerable influence, and there was a fair rally from the inside figures, with net losses at 2@2⅜c. Last sales on September were at 93⅛@93⅝c; December, 99¼@99⅝c; March, $1.04@1.04¼, and May, $1.07. Minneapolis lost 3⅝@3½c for the day, while Winnipeg was off only 1⅝@1¾c.

In some quarters there was an impression that a leading local professional was a free seller of futures, while a house with eastern connections was a persistent buyer, having sold on the recent advance. Export demand was again slow, and confined largely to Manitobas, the day's total being placed at 300,000 bu.

Wet weather prevails in western Europe and harvesting is being delayed. This had some effect on Liverpool, which was 1⅛@1⅝d lower for the day. Broomhall estimates the carryover of old wheat in Europe on Aug 1 at 48,000,000 bu, or 116,000,000 bu less than a year ago. On the basis of this showing the trade estimates that the total known world supply of old wheat is probably 150,000,000 bu less than in 1929.

The domestic visible supply is not increasing as rapidly as it did at this season last year, the gain during the last week being 10,307,000 bu, against 18,626,000 bu in 1929. The total is 165,501,000 bu, or about 9,500,000 bu in excess of a year ago.

Longs Sell Oats Futures.

Longs were on the selling side of oats futures, while the buying was by cash interests and strong commission houses. The finish, however, was at net losses of ⅛@⅞c, with September at 41@41¼c and December at 44⅝@44¾c.

Hedging sales by the northwest led to scattered liquidation in rye. The finish was 1⅝@1⅝c lower, September finishing at 63½c and December at 68½c. A report that a leading alcohol producer would use rye in place of corn attracted considerable attention.

Says Lake-Rail Rate Level Wipes Out Water Transport

BY SCRUTATOR.

It is a frequent comment among traffic men that water transport of freight on the great lakes is not only hampered, but is practically being wiped out as a common carrier business by a lake-rail level of rates that is almost as large as the all rail between Chicago and eastern points.

Official regulation by the interstate commerce commission enables the railroads virtually to dictate the rates which those lake carriers who still want to do business must charge. One shipping man who would like to haul more on lake-rail rates to Chicago from the east states that the eastern trunk lines refuse to join with cargo ships in rail and water rates except on such terms and conditions as will force the business to move all rail.

Fewer Ships Operating.

He adds that under the circumstances the thirty-five general cargo ships which were touching at Chicago in 1914 have now shrunk to ten, and that we can reasonably expect these will be eliminated in a few years.

The interstate commerce commission itself has stated that in 1900 the difference in shipping costs, rail-lake as against all rail, ranged from 20 to 28 per cent. By 1907, when the railroads had bought control of the steamers in service, the difference was reduced and ranged from 14.3 to 18 per cent. The percentages now run from 7.4 per cent to 9.1 per cent. Such differentials do not represent the difference in the values of the two services from a time standpoint, and in twenty-one years the amount of lake package freight to Chicago fell to 35 per cent of its old volume.

In its last pronouncement on class rates the commission announced that rail and lake rates should be 90 per cent of all rail. Reasonably only lower classes of commodities can move by lake in volume. The all rail sixth class rate from Chicago to New York is to be 42 cents a hundred pounds. The lake-rail rate will be, applying the formula, 38 cents.

Sees Small Advantage.

Thus an advantage of only 80 cents a ton would accrue to the shipper using the rails to Buffalo and water thence to Chicago. Even this difference might be wiped out if the railroads in the switching district are allowed, as the commerce commission's examiner suggested, to charge more for switching traffic from ship and barge terminals than for traffic coming off other rail lines.

Operators of lake boats, some of them, would like to charge less than their proportionate share of the 90 per cent rate. They say they are in the peculiar position at times of being willing to make charges of $2 or $2.40 a ton on certain traffic, but must charge $3 or $3.40, because the law and the railroads compel the transportation price to be only 10 per cent less than all rail.

Confines Benefit.

A real effort to foster water transportation as well as rail would possibly involve class rates like the lake cargo coal rates. These are special low rates from interior mines to Lake Erie ports. When the fuel arrives at the port the rail connection ends and shippers get such rates as the ship owners are willing to give. As it now is, the boat owners must often quote a rate much higher than he needs or wants. He can't, much as he would like to, quote lake-rail rates that will get business.

The result is that the benefits of lake transportation are confined to the coal and to traffic that originates and ends on the lake shores. The price cuts the boats are permitted to make in combination are no more effective than it would be for a store to offer a man a dollar article for 95 cents and compel him to pay 10 cents carfare to reach the scene.

U. S. Expert Finds Meats Now Selling at Bargain

BY PAUL POTTER.

There's an abundance of good quality meats selling at low prices, offering consumers an opportunity to put more meat into the family menus, and at the same time assisting drought stricken farmers, according to E. W. Sheets, livestock specialist of the United States department of agriculture.

Mr. Sheets summarized this condition yesterday before calling to order a meeting of livestock specialists from 25 state agricultural colleges, home economics leaders from several mid west colleges, and officials of the national livestock and meat board for a four day session at the Palmer house.

Report on Improvements.

Reports will be made of three years of research to determine how meats may be improved through breeding and feeding farm animals. Each of the states has been coöperating with the federal authorities in studying the factors which contribute to the palatability and quality of meats. Methods of cooking to secure best results are included in the reports.

Livestock farmers face a crisis as a result of high priced corn and shortage of pastures and hay due to the record breaking drought, Mr. Sheets asserted. He has recommended to Secretary Hyde steps which might be taken to alleviate conditions.

"Farm animals need not be sacrificed now because there are ample feed reserves to carry them through to another crop year," he said. "Fall sown pastures of rye, wheat and barley will provide feed for late fall and early spring grazing and thus save grain. Wheat and other small grains are being substituted with excellent results for corn."

Asset in Present Crisis.

Livestock, according to Mr. Sheets' recommendations, is the nation's great asset and also a great responsibility in an emergency like the present. Livestock represents a great reserve food supply carried over from a time of plenty. Bankers and business men, he said, may well afford to aid livestock farmers because of sound economics in carrying stock over until next spring. Breeding herds and flocks in the United States are smaller than in former years due to a greater efficiency and marketing at younger ages; they should not be drastically depleted, he said.

Members of the conference predicted that unless relief was immediate, both from governmental and local agencies and from the weather man, considerable shortage of livestock would exist on farms this fall and winter, with a resulting rise in cost of meats.

The last to take advantage of the present low prices of good quality meats are the hotels, restaurants and railroad dining cars, declared Mr. Sheets. Consumers should be securing present large stocks of meat at bargain prices whether in the home or in public eating places, he added.

New York, Aug. 11.—News that the middle west drought had been broken by extensive rainfalls and generally lower temperatures threw a scare into the bear element, causing them to cover their shorts in rather vigorous fashion in the late trading on the stock exchange today. The result was a sharp rally all along the line, more active issues rebounding 3 to 5 points or more from their lows of the day.

Most of the pacemakers finished well on the upside. American Can showed a net gain of 2⅝ points on the final sale, Johns-Manville was up 2, Westinghouse 1, Western Union 2, New York Central 3, Consolidated Gas 1⅛, and Standard Oil of New Jersey 1¼ points. United States Steel, at one time down to 158¾, rallied to 161¼, then eased off to 160, which left it with a net gain of a half point on the day.

See Professional Market.

As on preceding days of the current "lull" the market was almost wholly a professional affair. In fact, some competent observers were estimating today that it was "100 per cent professional," and with the business and crop outlook uncertain as it admittedly is brokerage house experts see little hope for any substantial public participation for some time to come—possibly for weeks. In the

"In any business, the facts of today are but the memories of tomorrow. If the facts have been properly interpreted, the memories are pleasant."

WHILE the era of tremendous industrial expansion endured, "putting one's eggs into a single basket, and watching that basket," was sound counsel.

Today, the cycle of economic change has so altered conditions that the investor, with a vision of security of principal and steadfastness of income before him, distributes his holdings over varied fields. The uncompromising judgment of experienced counsellors protects his interests.

crow's nest

With the cry of "There she blows!" ringing from the masthead of a New Bedford Whaler, all hands took their places ready to give chase to the giant sperm whale sighted by the lookout.

In this old whaling commerce, the man who stood watch in the crow's nest had a very important job. He could see farther than those on deck. He could tell if rocks or shoals were in sight. He could spot the whale at a great distance. He was on the lookout for opportunity.

In the business voyage of today the investment banker is at the lookout post. Before him lies the complexity of modern business, ever changing, ever new. It is his job to sight the rocks and shoals in the industrial course and to recognize the opportunities for capital as they appear.

This function of the investment banking business involves constant and thorough study of industry and individual businesses—of raw materials, markets, and merchandising changes—of management and organization—of underlying business trends.

On studies of this kind, well conceived financing and sound investment recommendations rest. We invite you to become better acquainted with the way in which A. G. Becker & Co. has, during the past 37 years, applied these studies for the benefit of investors and corporations. An interesting booklet, "Sound Corporate Financing," may be had upon request and without incurring any obligation. Ask for CT101.

MATERIAL FIRMS ADVANCE PRICES ALL OVER CITY

Cement, Stone, and Sand Cost More.

BY AL CHASE.

Despite the continued downward trend in general commodity prices, building materials now are costing more as a result of a city wide increase in cement, gravel, crushed stone, torpedo sand, and other construction items. According to one builder the public has failed to respond to the reductions in building materials with an expected increase in construction, so material dealers have shoved back their prices.

Joseph Hock, president of the Wisconsin Lime and Cement company, however, declared his concern, a subsidiary of the Consumers company, "had to raise prices or go to the poorhouse."

"It's not a question of making money," he said, "but a question of going broke if we continued the old prices. We had to raise 'em or go to the poorhouse. The prices have been so far below cost that we could not stand it."

Public Disappoints.

Mr. Hock admitted that the reaction of the general building public to the cut in material prices made some time ago was a disappointment, and that the expected wave in building did not come.

"Even with our advance in prices we're selling below cost," said Mr. Hock. "It costs 45 cents to produce a yard of gravel; the freight is $1, and the trucking in Chicago is forty-five cents. In addition there are other expenses, so you can see our new price of $2 a yard is below cost."

New Prices Are Standard.

According to J. P. O'Hara, of the purchasing department of the Consumers company, the following prices are general in Chicago. Portland cement is now $2.35 a barrel (in cloth), ad advance of 10 cents, or at the rate of 2½ cents a bag. Torpedo sand is now $2 a yard, an advance of from 10 to 25 cents. Crushed stone is $2 a yard, also an advance of from 10 to 25 cents. Stone screenings, $1.65 a yard, a boost of 25 cents.

Mr. O'Hara's reason for the advance was merely "they've been way below par." He added that the new prices were standard and were the result of an understanding throughout the city among building material dealers.

Adds to Hotel Holdings.

James W. Stevens, chairman of the board of directors of the Hotel La Salle yesterday took title to two more parcels under the hotel. He purchased from Mrs. Frances D. Bassett of Pasadena, Cal., the 49 feet of La Salle street frontage, just north of the corner parcel which he secured last week from the University of Chicago. This gives his company control of all the La Salle street frontage under the hotel.

Mr. Stevens also purchased twenty feet of frontage on Madison street, at the west side of the property. This was secured from the John High Jr. estate.

The trustees of school district No. 39, in Wilmette, purchased from William M. Sanderson for $23,000 a lot 73x180, adjoining the Central avenue school, at Central avenue and 10th street. It is improved with a residence which is to be remodeled and used for a kindergarten and domestic science classes. Chapman & Cutler were attorneys.

Receipts at Chicago today: 7,000 cattle; 19,000 hogs, and 13,000 sheep.

Demand showed some improvement yesterday and hogs recovered last week's losses, the top going to $10.00, which equals the highest paid for hogs since early in June. Unevenness ranged from steady to 25c higher, packing grades showing the most gain on strong local support. The general average price advanced 10c at $9.05. There was a good clearance and only 5,000 were left at the close, the high point of the day.

The drop in temperatures has broadened the demand for pork lately. Yesterday's receipts, at 37,000, were larger than a week ago and compared with 30,352 a year ago and with 32,591 two years ago. Yet some late shipping orders were unfilled, due to brisk local demand.

Hog Futures Advance.

Contracts on the hog futures market sold readily at steady to 10c higher prices, some going to the highest level in recent weeks. December mediums brought $8.70 @ 8.75, the highest paid for that class since December contracts were brought on the board six weeks ago.

September mediums sold at $9.70@ $9.75, closing at the outside figure, while heavy grades for the same month brought $9.75. No sales of future feeding lambs were reported, with offers at $8.00 and bids at $6.50.

Although weighty beeves sold slowly at new low prices yesterday, light steers and yearlings met good demand at firm prices. Mixed steers and heifers averaging 846 lbs sold at $11.00, the day's peak, while 717 lb baby beef heifers brought $10.75, indicating the brisk demand for suitable weights. Few weighty beeves sold above $9.50.

A shipment of 1,345 lb averages at $10.25 late in the day was highest for that weight. Some plain quality 1,200 lb averages sold down to $7.75. Heavy cows and heifers shared in the break. Calves were unchanged. Stockers and feeders remained quiet.

Lambs Are Weak to Lower.

Yesterday's increase in sheep receipts proved too much for the market and prices of lambs ruled weak to 25c lower. Natives sold under severe sorting. Only ewe and wether natives brought $9.00@9.50, with most buck lambs at $8.00@8.25 and culls at $5.00@6.00.

Top westerns brought $8.50@9.25, only one load at the outside figure. Feeding lambs were not plentiful, but sold slowly at weak prices, only best selections being quoted at $6.00@6.65. Aged sheep and yearlings sold mostly steady.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 7,000 cattle, 19,000 hogs, and 13,000 sheep, against 6,747 cattle, 15,178 hogs, and 10,322 sheep on the previous Tuesday and 7,548 cattle, 17,494 hogs, and 18,450 sheep a year ago.

GASOLINE ALLEY—STILL SHY

A STRANGER SEEMS TO HAVE BEEN KEEPING UP WITH DEVELOPMENTS IN THE CODA WILL SETTLEMENT. HE EVIDENTLY KNOWS THAT WALT NEEDS SOMETHING OVER $500,000 TO PUT WITH THE $300,000 HE IS TO RECEIVE FROM MME. OCTAVE TO MAKE UP HIS INHERITANCE TAX PAYMENT. AND HE IS LOOKING FOR A BARGAIN.
YOU SAY HE IS WILLING TO PAY CASH FOR FIFTY THOUSAND ACRES OF BRAZILIAN TIMBER LAND? DO YOU THINK HE HAS THE MONEY?
HE HAS SOMEBODY BEHIND HIM WITH MONEY. HE AGREES TO PRESENT A CERTIFIED CHECK FOR THE FULL AMOUNT. BUT HE WANTS IT FOR $8 AN ACRE.
BUT, MR. NICHOLAS, THAT LAND IS WORTH TWICE THAT MUCH AT LEAST. OWING TO THE FACT THAT I WANT TO RAISE SOME CASH I MIGHT BE WILLING TO TAKE $12, BUT NEVER $8.
YOU KNOW YOURSELF, MR. NICHOLAS, THAT WITH A RAILROAD IN THERE THE TIMBER ALONE WOULD BE WORTH TEN TIMES THAT.
BUT THERE IS NO RAILROAD. HOWEVER I'M A MAN OF ACTION AND I WILL SELECT FIFTY THOUSAND ACRES AND PAY YOU $10 AN ACRE—THAT'S $500,000—AND NO MORE.
WELL, SHOPPERS AREN'T VERY THICK AND I CAN'T LET HIM GET AWAY. BUT THAT WON'T PAY MY INHERITANCE TAX.

The Nine Hundred Block

BY KATHARINE HAVILAND TAYLOR

SYNOPSIS.

The nine hundred block, with its deteriorated dwellings, moved gentle, lovely Theresa and her mother, Mrs. Colt, under the watchful eye of Mrs. Baum, neighborhood gossip. Theresa makes friends with Katie Warner, who lives upstairs, and B. Jones, a reporter; Johnny Deane, who left a home of wealth to make good for the girl to whom, he says, since meeting Theresa, he is engaged. He has found employment painting automobiles. Theresa does typing at home to support herself and her mother, who has known better days. Mrs. Colt wants Theresa to marry Billy Treadway, a rich bachelor beau of the girlhood.

Theresa's father, Arnold Ames, married again after Theresa's mother divorced him to marry Barrington Colt, who recently died. The father now has a belated desire to help his daughter, but his wife threatens to leave him if he does. He arranges with Harold Gale, a lawyer, to secretly give Theresa work. For Christmas he sends her a thousand dollar bond. Johnny Deane had determined not to tell Theresa of his love for her until he had broken his engagement, but does not keep his vow. When he confesses, Theresa feels he has betrayed her and she will not forgive him. He breaks his engagement, and the girl, to vindicate his letters to a newspaper. Johnny returns to his father's home. Theresa tells her mother she will marry Billy Treadway and writes to her father, who calls and tells Theresa it would be criminal for her to marry Billy.

Johnny, in New York, keeps informed about Theresa through Katie. He tells his father about Theresa. The elder Deane communicates with Arnold Ames and, together, the two plan to bring about their children's happiness.

INSTALLMENT XXXII.

A NOBLE DECISION.

In her room, with the spring dawn lightening night, Laura went to the "upper sitting room" to try to read, but she couldn't read. The milkman clattered his bottles going down the area between the old houses. The first street car made its lonely pilgrimage. If it would only grow light!

Laura's big, loose mouth worked, thinking of "the girl"—all by herself, as she was, and her mother dying.

The clock in the lower hall struck five she said, half aloud, "I'll go to bed after breakfast," and suddenly the pain was gone; her ungainly body relaxed, and she crept into bed to sleep.

Frank Hillis woke as Laura Ames found sleep. Another short night; and no time before breakfast; hours in which he must think. Yet—thank God, it was Tuesday! However—in his father's room—that—weak—cough. He strained to hear, shaking. It came again. He drew the sheet over his head. . . . He heard it . . . If he could break the will, he'd sell the house. Get . . . find new scenes, diversion, travel. . . . But, futile planning, Time's shadow follows one whether it be of the sun's or a spirit's making.

It was that morning Laura, arrayed with unusual care, shook almost unconsciously as she traveled Mrs. Nulman's stairs. Once she had to stop in order to gain balance through hard grip upon the balustrade. She had not been strong enough for weeks to keep the proverbial bird well nourished, and this the most difficult excursion she had ever made. She imagined "the girl" looking at her . . . tossing her head . . . showing her scorn for a long, lank face and an ungainly awkward body. . . . Why had she, Laura, donned clothes best? Her best did nothing but to intensify her lacks . . . she remembered her thick mother's saying, "My little ugly duckling!" . . . She had ever been that; paddling slowly, in dull waters. Arnold had never loved her, she knew . . . it had been a "sensible marriage." . . . Of course, she had the right but he was as happy with any one else who saw that he was fed.

She managed to tap upon the door; "the girl" opened it to her. She said, gasped it; then—"Will you—come in?"

"I'm Mrs.——" Laura began, gently.

"I know—you are—very kind—to come," Theresa broke in. Laura sank heavily to a chair. The girl, Laura saw, sat on one that had a rip in the upholstery. Poverty was stark in the room, and the girl was not going to accept at her; the girl was trying not to cry from gratitude! Laura leaned toward Theresa to lay a hand upon Theresa's; all chairs in the room were gone. Theresa clung to Laura's hand . . . she managed to whisper, "You are so kind—to come——"

Laura's big mouth worked; her nose grew red. . . . "Your mother, darling?" she questioned, unevenly; she loved the child!

Theresa was clinging more tightly to Laura's hand. "Dying," she stated with terrible, desperate bluntness. Then she sobbed deeply once—again; again. Laura pushed her chair close; her lank, always hungry arms went around Theresa. "Darling!" she murmured, "darling!" . . . crying, too; not knowing it.

"I'm going to send your father to you, child; and right away; he'll help you." Laura heard herself saying after a stretch of silence. How hot and wet and unsteady the child's hands were! Weak, tremulous, dependent, Theresa was not the fabric for a foe but a something, instead, through which Laura could release her tenderness, which the boy too often repressed by turning from it to spools or leaden soldiers.

"I'm going to send your father to you now, dear," said Laura, slowly and she would have spoken to the boy.

Theresa said, voice breaking, "I never wanted to hurt you——"

"I know that now, darling," Laura answered.

"You are"—again a break in voice—"so kind—so good——"

"I've—meant to be. Fear makes you do things—that aren't—you; I'm not afraid any more."

She kissed Theresa. She went down the stairs blindly. Once more tears were brimming in her eyes.

"Yes, Mrs. Ames." Then a slam of motor door, a purr of motor, the click of a change of gears. It seemed to take a long time to get to Arnold's office. Laura had never before realized that the town covered so much of ground. But—at last the building, and the elevator with the man who had been stooped and old in it, saying a slow, somewhat quavering, "Good morning, Mrs. Ames. Fine day, Mrs. Ames——".

She agreed. It was, she supposed, a fine day. She hadn't noticed.

Miss Watson greeted Laura with the word that Mr. Ames was busy, and Laura, who had the reverence that solid, slow gathered wealth accords business conferences and the business of making money, told Miss Watson that she was sorry but that she had to see Mr. Ames immediately and that he must excuse himself if he was busy, because she had to see him—immediately.

Arnold, rather surprised and somewhat anxious, excused himself from the gentleman with whom he had been discussing golf.

Then Laura appeared. Miss Watson closed the door after herself.

"Arnold," said Laura.

"Yes. Nice of you to look in, Laura——"

"Arnold, she's ill. Frightfully ill, pneumonia——"

"Who, Laura?" he asked, frowning a little, as he often did at Laura's characteristic grip of a story's tail.

"Elsie Colt. I've just been there. You'll have to go. Your daughter—needs you. I told her—you'd come——"

He rose to struggle hastily into his light coat. Then he turned to Laura. "You don't know how this makes me feel—toward you!" he said. Awkwardly, he kissed her, knocking a waste basket to its side as he lunged toward her. A good, a stocky, rather broad faced man. Laura saw him as a composite of all perfect lovers of all time. Arnold saw Laura as that poetically well described "ministering angel" and—his wife.

He came back from his office doorway to kiss her again. He had not done that for years. She, who had said she would wait in his office if he would send Riley back for her, settled by the desk to begin her groping for composure.

A window above a radiator was open a few inches. From without she heard the harsh chatter of jealous gentlemen birds. It was spring, she realized, spring. She had not, to that moment—known it.

She would have Arnold's luncheon kept warm. Perhaps the girl would like to live with them and to play with "the boy," and she and the girl could go around together; to shop sometimes, and to go to picture theaters. It would make Arnold happy, too.

Miss Watson opened the door.

"Riley is here, Mrs. Ames," she said.

"There is something kind of nice about her," said Miss Watson to an associate and after the door into the hall had closed. Heretofore Miss Watson, with the rest, had wondered why Mr. Ames had ever done it. "She has a real sweet smile," Miss Watson added.

The quarreling of birds and the click of typewriters made a blending sound building here. In the Colt-Ames apartment was that hush which tells of disintegration and the end of building.

"Dear," he said, "Laura sent me to you——"

His voice, which had begun with normal tone, dropped. The pulsing that was of stillness and nearness to the very ill was making itself felt.

He laid his hat on a chair. The door opened again. "Hello, Dart," said Laura.

"Good morning, Mr. Ames."

Good Morning!

Please, all of you, go over to the Palace this week and meet "Grumpy"! You'll miss a rare treat if you don't.

Cyril Maude's characterization of the funny, wheezing, crotchety, shrewd old fellow, a great criminal lawyer in his heyday, who, in his decrepit old age puts over a fast one, is the best thing that's come to the screen since George Arliss' "Disraeli."

"Grumpy" raises all sorts of Cain from the moment he totters into view till his triumphant exit, and his activities excite intense, delighted and unflagging interest. Here is a bubbling spring of sparkling comedy from a source that is clean and deep.

I didn't see the stage play and I don't care. It couldn't have excelled the movie. The picture has everything—plot, suspense, romance, thrill, subtlety. To watch "Grumpy" solve the mystery of the stolen diamond, and secure happiness for his beloved granddaughter and the man she wants to marry, is to see something!

Mr. Maude—the English actor is 67 years old now—is supported by a most excellent cast. Frances Dade you will love. He has been marvelously directed [by being let alone, I suspect] and the picture is, technically, okay, A 1, plus and the berries. The dialogue is immense.

It has a thought; it has a unique and fruitful setting. It has a fine cast. But it misses fire through failure to maintain suspense at the boiling point. Somehow, you know just what will happen at a time when you should be kept completely in the dark. I can't just lay my finger on the leak, but I know it's there.

You find yourself cooped up in the popular basement café and bar of a town in lower Mississippi at a time of flood. The storm doors have been closed, and the inmates, faced with just so many hours to live before the oxygen gives out, bury hatchets and naughty thoughts and words and become all just God's little children together. The owner [that Mr. Beery] opens his choicest champagne and waves away payment for same with noble gesture. A put-down bar fly, who has been chased away from the free lunch for years by the husky bartender, finds himself, in this sad hour, tenderly served by the strong arm that formerly hustled him out. Rival cotton brokers who have fought to t'death until the heavens opened and the waters descended upon the earth, look into each other's eyes, clasp each other's hands and whisper "Brother!" And young Douglas Fairbanks takes into his arms the blonde he has done wrong and murmurs, "Ah, if I had it all to do over again . . ." or words to that effect.

Interesting, what?

Yes. But, you see, it ought to be more interesting. There I sat and saw, as in a crystal, clearly, something I shouldn't have seen—and I'm not ever bright, as you all admit in "The Voice of the Fan."

Anyhow, "The Way of All Men," which could also have been called "When the Devil Was Sick," entertains.

And, after the movie is over, Helen Kane [in person] boop-a-doops. Which fact I present without editorial comment. Helen Kane, I fear, is for sophisticates, and I'm just a little, old fashioned woman.

See you tomorrow.

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

ATHENS, Aug. 11.—Extraordinarily valuable archaeological discoveries have been made on the island of Ithaca in the Ionian sea. Kyparisis, the director of the archeological district of Attica, telegraphs today that he has discovered on Ithaca the famous springs of the city which Homer describes in his Odyssey.

He states that photographs will show the "giant cyclopian architecture" of the rocky countryside where from the springs rise.

Kyparisis says that will prove that Ithaca is really the island on which Homer saw the springs, despite the unwillingness of many archaeologists to accept this theory. He hoped also to uncover the city wherein Odysseus stayed. Excavations will be continued during the autumn.

Kyparisis recently told the New York Times that he was convinced beyond the shadow of a doubt that Homer really lived in Ithaca himself, as the details of his writings are in accordance with the recent discoveries.

THE STAGE

IF YOU have begun to suspect that the talking cinema has a death grip on the actual stage, listen to this:

Mary Pickford — yes, America's sweetheart and queen of the camera—will appear [in person] on Broadway and elsewhere in a real life play this season.

So will Vilma Banky and her husband, Rod La Roque, both of them stellar personalities of the films. And also Lya De Putti and Colleen Moore.

Arch Selywn, the theatrical producer, made this announcement yesterday after a sojourn in Hollywood. It seems, therefore, that the drama is beginning to invade its lost provinces.

Miss Pickford's play has not yet been selected, according to New York dispatches. Mr. Selwyn says, however, that she will probably be co-starred with another film celebrity who is listening to his offers. Her last picture was "Coquette." She recently began production of another, but the venture was abandoned.

Although her world fame was won in the film studios, Mary Pickford has a neat little career as a stage actress behind her. She made her debut at the age of five in "The Silver King," and at the age of nine she was a child star in "The Fatal Wedding." In 1906 she appeared with Chauncy Olcott in "Edmund Burke," and in the winter of 1907 [when fourteen years old] she scored a New York hit in David Belasco's production of "The Warrens of Virginia." In 1913 she was starred by Mr. Belasco in "The Good Little Devil," a fairy tale play translated from the French. That production, which had a run in New York and a successful tour, marked the end of her career on the stage and the beginning of her prodigious success on the screen.

Miss Banky and Mr. La Roque will be co-starred in a play that is now being adapted from the Hungarian by John Emerson and Anita Loos.

Margaret Wycherly, who has had a long and brilliant career on the stage as leading woman and star, will probably be a guest player with the Goodman theater's répertory company this season. The title rôle in Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler" will probably be assigned to her. An element of uncertainty enters into this plan of Hubert Osborne's, because, although Miss Wycherly is eager to come to the Goodman, she is also anxious to act in a new play which her husband [Bayard Veiller] has just finished. And this piece may have a long run, because Mr. Veiller has a habit of knocking off hits.

The Goodman is also rejoicing in the reëngagement of Harry Mervis, leading man with the company for the last two seasons and a versatile young actor. Thus, in spite of the secession of last spring, there will be eight members of the old company on duty when rehearsals begin in mid-September. The others are Katherine Krug, Ellen Root, Mary Agnes Doyle, Hale McKeen, Sara Fenton, and Carl Kroenke. Mr. Osborne has engaged William Brenton, formerly of Stuart Walker's companies, and will add three new names to the list, for the budget limits the resident acting company to twelve players.

Rare One Cent Stamp, Now $40,000, Viewed by Collectors' Eyes

Boston, Aug. 11.—(AP)—What is probably a classic example of the economic law that scarcity creates value is on exhibition here this week—a 1 cent stamp worth $40,000.

It is the property of Arthur Hind, Utica, N. Y., manufacturer, hotel owner, and philanthropist, whose $500,000 collection of stamps constitutes, financially speaking, just about half of the national philatelic exhibition of 1930, which was opened today at Horticultural hall.

The history of the stamp goes back to 1856 and to British Guiana. The postmaster of that then isolated colony had found his supply of stamps exhausted. In the emergency a local printer was called into conference, and, with the aid of a picture of a ship borrowed from a local newspaper and a handset inscription, the stamp was turned out. A few days later the regular supply arrived and the makeshifts were destroyed. Sixty years later the only known copy came into the possession of Hind for $32,000, and today collectors say it is worth at least $40,000.

Bishop Manning, Rabbi Wise Join Catholic Stage Crusade

New York, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Bishop William T. Manning of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York and Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of the Free synagogue today joined the crusade of the Catholic church to purge the Broadway stage. In a telegram Bishop Manning said:

"The present degradation of the stage is a calamity and a reflection upon all of us. It is time that such a crusade was undertaken and it should have the support of all decent elements in the community and especially of all who are friends of the theater and wish to see it fulfill its true and great function."

Sir Arthur Spoke Again, So Lady Doyle Declares

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 11.—A congregation of 2,700 persons buzzed with excitement at a spiritual service in Queen's hall here last night when it was announced that Lady Doyle, who was present on the platform, had received personal messages from the late Sir Arthur Conan Doyle through Mrs. Estelle Roberts, medium. The nature of the message was not revealed, but Lady Doyle told newspapermen later that she was completely satisfied the message was from her husband.

Crippled for 27 Years She Cheered Others

Theodosia Haine of Ohio to Be Buried Thursday.

Warren, O., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Miss Theodosia Haine, 47 years old, is dead. At 20 she developed disease and was unable to walk. Confined to her room, Miss Haine joined the Shutin Society of New York and began correspondence with shutins like herself.

She soon had the idea of writing to prisoners, to give them advice and encouragement. Her correspondence grew to such an extent that she organized a committee on prison letters, of which she was national chairman.

The world went to her. Prisoners, after they had been released, paid her numerous visits as did hundreds of persons from many parts of the world. They brought gifts and curios with which she lined her room. They named her room "Sunshine corner."

By means of correspondence she sold bookmarks containing cheery poems and verses from the scriptures. With the proceeds she supported three Methodist missionaries in China.

For ten years, prior to her death yesterday, she was secretary of the extension membership committee of the Methodist Episcopal church, and under her leadership the number of members increased more than tenfold. She left two sisters, Mary and Grace, of Warren, and three brothers, Jay and Clarence of Warren, and Austin Haine of Cleveland. Burial will be at Bloomfield, her birthplace, near here, Thursday.

New Uniform Pact Between Artists and Sellers of Their Art

New York, Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Misunderstandings which have caused conflict between American artists and art dealers are expected to give way to more cordial relations as a result of the adoption of a uniform contract.

That such a contract had been agreed on after months of conference by committees of the American Artists' Professional league and the American Art Dealers' association was announced today by Frederic Newlin Price, president of the Art Dealers' association and of the Ferargil galleries.

"The terms are fair to both artists and dealers, I believe," Mr. Price said; "and ought to do much to eliminate old difficulties caused by verbal deals."

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Visions of high wages as construction workers on the Century of Progress exhibition buildings, and in connection with traction expansion program, have pulled many people to Chicago only to find jobs all taken by Chicago's own unemployed.

Clergymen of this city declare that social service agencies of the various churches are likely to be crowded with a new type of applicant for aid.

The Rev. Dr. Frank E. Jensen, pastor of the Mount Zion English Lutheran church and chairman of the Chicago Church Federation's crime inquiry committee, yesterday told of a Texas family. This family read of Chicago's increases in building early in the year. The father of the family—a $70 a week millwright—packed his wife and two babies into the family car, withdrew his savings from a bank, and sped to Chicago.

The long, fruitless job hunting trail finally ended in Gary, last week, according to Dr. Jensen. He pieced together the story from information later gleaned from the destitute Texan. Dr. Jensen related how the family savings had dwindled to $1.25. That had been left with the wife. There was a new baby, and as a last hope the father had trudged to Gary his unpawned tools on his shoulder. The family car had been security for a loan of $5 and had been lost.

"When men stand at the last ditch they turn to the church," Dr. Jensen declared. "I happened to be visiting a brother pastor at Gary. In his absence the Texan appealed to me. He did not appear to be a charlatan such as pastors often meet. So I took an interest in him. His stories always tallied with the facts, as I gleaned them from careful investigation. I put him to work on some church repairs and secured other jobs for him, and in every case I found him an expert workman.

"In a few weeks the family will be speeding back to Texas, he to his old job. The Texan will drive his own car and the family treasury will show a balance of $50—every cent of which has been honorably earned."

Dr. Jensen then declared that the only interesting feature of this particular case was not in the aid he was able to give the Texan, but in the revelation of what goes on in the mind of a man who is in desperate need.

"The Texan told me that I, as a pastor, was to be his last move before he completely lost his self-respect," said Dr. Jensen. "What would you have done if I had failed you; I asked him. 'First,' he said, 'I would try panhandling—and if that failed, you know I have a wife and three babies—I would try something else!'"

"The Church Federation crime inquiry committee," he declared, "will consider all such factors as its work reopens in September. Landlords who permit their places to get into such condition should be exposed."

Curb Culture, Heed Nature, Chicagoan Says

Humboldt Park Planner Raps Europe's Methods.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 11.—The futility of a visit to Paris and to most of Europe for the purpose of studying landscape effects and the adjustment of architecture to the needs of modern life was the theme of comments made here by Jens Jensen, Chicago landscape architect.

"Versailles and Paris disappointed me," he declared. "It dawned upon me that while we are daily taking old houses away in the United States and putting new ones in their places in order to make our cities meet the demands of developing times, Europe is trying to master the development and make it fit in the old streets and the old architectural pattern."

The creator of Humboldt park made as his chief indictment against Europeans the charge that while living in a fixed tradition they destroy at the same time all evidences of the hand of nature in their rural districts.

"Why do Americans go to Paris," he asked, "when we have within our own country the most exquisite creations of nature left unspoiled by man?

"In the Ruhr district, however, I found some fine small towns where flowers and green plains framed the small houses. Here I first met the signs of being in a country whose population belongs to a different race.

"The European races have spoiled much of their natural scenery. They have given it the stamp of their culture, and that is why I am so anxious that we do not do the same thing in America, where we have so much original beauty in our scenery that we—I mean our generation—still can preserve it from 'culture.' We should preserve the footprints of our fathers, not only of the pioneers, but also of the Indians and their ancestors, where we meet it.

"In Berlin I met the first signs of the development which must come now or later to the rest of Europe. But I think it unfortunate that when the Germans built their beautiful small garden cities they did not think of the automobile, for sooner or later it will come to the German workman as it has come to us in America, that every man must have his own car.

"Then, I am afraid, they will have to ruin their gardens and build garages.

"But even the German capital has not escaped altogether the influence of the artificial taste of the Bourbons. In their parks you can find traces of the French insolence to natural beauty. Their parks are 'cultured,' they try to imitate Versailles and other French landscaping.

"Denmark is the cleanest country I have ever visited and Copenhagen the cleanest city. But still the Danes have done nothing to meet the demands of modern development. They have built on tradition and have spoiled some of their best artistic work in the city by giving it the wrong environment."

King George Much Better After Yachting at Cowes

LONDON, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Sun tanned and smiling, King George returned today to Buckingham palace accompanied by the queen, at the end of a fortnight's yachting holiday at Cowes. It is understood the king's health was much benefited by his outing.

The king and queen will remain at the palace only until Wednesday, when they will go to Sandringham for a short stay before proceeding to Balmoral.

It was believed they would call at Glamis castle on their way north. Every day during her stay at Cowes the queen wrote a cheering letter of a few lines to the duchess of York, who, at her ancient family home, is awaiting the arrival of a child.

A Happy Home Gives Children a Fine Start

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Short reading references for the expectant mother will be sent by Mrs. Bevans on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"My dear Mrs. Bevans: Your daily column, I find, is most interesting, as I am a mother of five lovable little tots. My eldest one is delighted in being promoted to a 2A grade. She will be 7 soon.

"The next one is promoted to 1A. She has been going to kindergarten and and will be 6 in August. The third one is to be 5 years old in August, also, so she will go to kindergarten in September.

"he next two are boys—one is 3½ and the other is just 18 months. They are all happy, robust youngsters, and as most folk say, 'pictures of health!'

"Can that explain to you why I feel I must write to you, for you see I am quite proud of my family? I am just 26 and daddy is 29. We get along on a very small salary, which makes me feel so sorry for folks who have a whole lot more to get along on but feel as though they can't afford more than one child. They are denying themselves a great happiness that they will never find later in life. I am certain of this.

"My time (fully) is devoted to doing 'mother's duties,' but before going to bed I always read the newspapers to learn all the facts of the outside world, which I feel helps keep me contented. May you continue your work, as your advice is so sensible."

Here is a woman who has found her true vocation in life. Contentment, good health, great interest, making the best of financial limitations without repining, appreciating the great happiness that life holds aside from material considerations, all radiate from this letter.

What a fine chance for happy, useful living these five children have as compared with those who are brought up in discontent, discord, and discouragement!

On the Parson.

One rainy day I was coming home from the store between showers with a dozen oranges. Suddenly I slipped and fell upon th muddy sidewalk. To my dismay all my oranges came tumbling out from a badly split paper bag. I didn't know what to do, but I knew that I couldn't afford to lose those lovely oranges. After a moment's hesitation I picked them up and put them into my umbrella. A block or so farther on whom should I meet but the new minister and his wife. Just then it began to rain. Without thinking of what I was doing, I raised the umbrella over the minister's head and opened it, only to have a dozen plump, juicy oranges bounce off his poor head. The minister and his wife both thought it a good joke, but I have never been able to face that minister yet, without feeling small. C. S.

To provide the sickroom with all the things that make a patient comfortable often amounts to a great deal of expense. If you have an invalid at home who can make use of these articles, which are all in good condition, I shall be happy to have you write me.

Gift of $300 Recalls Child's Death, Helping Camp at Algonquin

A $300 gift arriving yesterday sped the lagging Camp Algonquin fund over the $3,000 mark and sent it on its way toward another thousand dollars.

The gift came from the same Chicago woman who last year sent $500 to the fund with the modest request that her name be omitted. This year the donor, on vacation at a New York summer resort, again asked that her name be withheld.

"I am inclosing another gift in the sum of $300," she wrote, "in memory of my beloved niece lately deceased. As usual I am requesting that my name shall not be published, but the donation simply standing in 'loving memory of Cecelia.' My heart aches for all the mothers and little children of the poor of Chicago during this unusually hot summer."

The $300 in memory of Cecelia will give vacations at Camp Algonquin to 30 mothers and children. Thirty tenement dwellers to whom that news will be the best news of the year. It means they can pack their bags and be off to a cool summer camp, enjoying an outing just the same as other folks. It means that the children will have a chance in the open country to regain lost strength.

Food Talk.

Pears were before written records. For centuries they have been grown in all parts of the world where climatic conditions were favorable. Modern distributing methods now send them to every civilized part of the globe. Yet there are many who have never known the lusciousness of juicy, well-ripened pears. Why their aroma does not tempt all, I am unable to understand. How any one could fail to enjoy their fine, tender, melting texture I cannot explain.

No fruit is more pleasing to the palate, easier to digest, possesses milder laxative qualities, is better adapted to the diet of both children and adults. This is the beginning of the pear season and a good time for those who have not learned to appreciate pears to get acquainted with this lovely fruit. You will find many varieties of textures and flavors and you will need to try a number of them to decide on the quality you like best.

Some pears are best served raw, while others are better cooked. Select tender, juicy pears with a sweet, perhaps sprightly flavor, for eating out of the hand or as a breakfast fruit. Be sure they are thoroughly washed and chilled. Then they are sure to be most refreshing.

Cooked pears are as satisfactory as raw, provided we start with excellent fruit.

They may or may not be acid enough to require sugar, but they should be juicy and of medium fine texture with as few of the grit cells as possible.

PICKLED PEARS.

4 qts. pears	2 cups vinegar
2 lbs. granulated sugar	½ oz. stick cinnamon
	¼ oz. whole cloves

Peel the pears. Boil sugar, vinegar and spices for 20 minutes. Place a few of the pears at a time in the sirup and cook until tender. Pack them in clean jars, placing a few cloves in each jar. Adjust the rubbers and fill each jar to overflowing with the hot sirup. Adjust the lids and seal jars immediately.

Yield: 3 quarts.

Place the veal in boiling water and simmer until tender, together with the carrot, onion and celery. Remove the veal from the liquid and cool broth. When the meat is nearly cold cut it into tiny cubes or chop it fine; remove the fat from the broth, reheat the liquid and stir the veal into it, adding salt and pepper and other seasoning, if desired.

Pack the hot mixture into a mold.

Brooklyn's Child Poet Has Her 17th Birthday

New York, Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Nathalia Crane, Brooklyn's child poet, is now a grownup writer of verse. She celebrated her 17th birthday today by confirming an announcement of the publication in October of her latest work, "Pocahontas."

Ivan, Jan, and Abourah
All go out to work.

Science Group Gets Ready for Sun Eclipse

HONOLULU, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Noted scientists will view the total eclipse of the sun Oct. 21 in the Tonga archipelago. That is approximately 20 degrees south latitude and 170 degrees west longitude.

An expedition of scientists from the navy as well as from educational institutions and observatories in the United States left San Francisco July 21. Its members are due in Tutuila, Samoa, Aug. 19.

One of the party is Dr. Thomas A. Jaggar Jr. of the Kilauea volcanic observatory, Island of Hawaii, who will study the volcanic and seismic conditions on the Niuafou island, where the eclipse observations will be made.

Commander C. H. J. Keppler, U. S. N., will be in administrative charge. He headed the navy's expedition which observed the solar eclipse of May 9, 1929, from the vicinity of Iloilo, P. I.

Lieut. H. C. Kellers, naval medical corps, who was a member of the naval eclipse expedition at Sumatra in 1926 and also of the 1929 expedition, will be medical officer and in charge of meteorological observations. At the request of the Smithsonian institution, he will collect specimens of the island fauna and flora.

Prof. S. A. Mitchell, director of the Leander McCormick observatory at the University of Virginia, will conduct spectographic work. Kempton Adams is his assistant.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

We're very fortunate boys and girls, to be able to include an afternoon at the Jack and Jill aerial theater in our schedule of summer parties because this interesting group is planning to move from their delightful quarters atop a near north side skyscraper and take up a new abode in the Princess theater. Aug. 23, the day we shall visit them, will be their farewell performance in their present locale and Sept. 20 will find them at the loop theater.

Surrounding the playhouse is a lovely, open air veranda or roof garden which we can visit and stroll about during intermissions and before and after the show. From this tiptop perch there is a perfectly heavenly view of the blue lake and Chicago's sky line which one does not have an opportunity to see very often, and this alone is well worth the trip. Perhaps we could even have our refreshments out on the roof. Wouldn't that be jolly?

In the meantime, while we're thinking about what a grand party this will be, you had better get to work on the letters that will win you invitations to it. I've told you before about the interesting program which is being planned for us—three one act plays written by famous or well known authors—so you've plenty of material for a good letter. And I've told you something of the history of the Jack and Jill players and the sort of things they do in their charming theater, so that I know you'll all want to come to this party.

You have today and tomorrow to write your letters—you know I shall read them on Thursday morning and select the hundred boys and girls who will be my guests on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 23. In writing them do not forget those important items—your name, address, and age.

Athens Legion Post to Lay Cornerstone of Memorial Building

The Athens post of the American Legion has invited American Legionnaires to visit Athens to attend the ceremonies of laying the cornerstone of the American Legion building and of unveiling of memorial statues to Samuel Gridley Howe of Boston, Henry Clay, Edward Everett and Daniel Webster, Americans who contributed morally and materially to the struggle of the Greek nation for independence from Turkey from 1821 to 1830.

The Illinois department of the American Legion has donated a state flag to be presented to the Athens post to be placed in the American Legion building at Athens.

WEDDING

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. George H. O'Neil today announced the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Fadela O'Neil, to Thomas B. Farrell Jr. of Montreal, Que. The bride's father is vice president and general manager of the United Hotels Company of America. The wedding took place Saturday.

Some housewives blame their cooking for the poor coffee when the trouble is with an inferior grade of coffee.

They overlook the fact that low price in coffee means just one thing: poor flavor. The roaster of cheaper blends has just one thought in mind—keeping down cost—he can't afford to bother about how his coffee tastes.

Fine flavor is the important thing in the buying, roasting and blending of McLaughlin's Manor House Coffee.

Physicians Recommend It

A Brain-Sharpener. Pure grape juice, served as a breakfast fruit, is so perfectly adapted to the human system that its rich fruit nourishment and mineral salts are taken into the blood stream without digestive effort—quick, new vigor to meet the awaiting problems of the day!

Non-Fattening. Pure grape juice deserves a prominent place on every reducing diet—first, because it supplies the kind of nourishment the body needs; secondly, because it is non-fattening. Its mildly laxative qualities keep one feeling fit and fine.

A Delightful Refreshment. For more than 60 years Welch's Grape Juice—the pure juice of luscious Concords—has proved a delightfully refreshing beverage for millions of people. Welch's is FULL STRENGTH—pure and pasteurized. Diluting with ⅓ to ½ water, as most people prefer it, makes the cost less than 5c a glass.

THEIR first dance. But he vowed inwardly it would be their last. For though she was pretty, though she danced beautifully, one thing spoiled it all. The last thing you would ever suspect in a girl who looked so dainty. "B. O.", the polite name for a condition people dislike even to mention—body odor.

Of course she didn't realize she was offending. She was horrified when—a few weeks later—another girl blurted out the truth. But she took the friendly warning—adopted a simple safeguard . . . Now she's popular with everyone, a favorite partner at a dance. She knows the easy way to keep perspiration odorless.

No excuse for "B.O."—even on hottest days

"To be able to dance well counts tremendously toward popularity and social success. But even a good dancer can't get by with 'B. O.' Society has no welcome for him. The situations pictured in the Lifebuoy 'B. O.' advertising are not overdrawn. They are only too true.

"These frank and courageous warnings on the subject of 'B. O.' deserve widespread attention. For this condition is far commoner than many people realize and it can do untold harm in both social and business contacts."

The above is typical of the many letters of appreciation that we have received from well-known people, everywhere, who are in a position to realize that no one is safe from that embarrassing and unpardonable offense—"B. O."

CALL WALKER IN CHARGES JUDGE BOUGHT HIS JOB

Grand Jury Subpœnas New York Mayor.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 11.—Mayor James J. Walker was served with a subpoena today to appear before a county grand jury Wednesday and testify in the investigation of charges that a city magistracy had been sold for $12,000 by Tammany officials. At the same time the mayor and George W. Olvany, former leader of Tammany Hall, were "invited" to call on District Attorney Thomas C. T. Crain tomorrow for a preliminary discussion of what they had to do with the elevation of George F. Ewald to the magistracy along about the time Mrs. Bertha Ewald loaned Martin J. Healy $10,000 as a "nest egg" for a Long Island home. Ewald's secretary also will be questioned.

With these invitations already accepted and several others off his mind, Mr. Crain devoted the afternoon to questioning Mr. Healy concerning the much talked of $10,000.

Healy Will Testify.

The Tammany district leader, according to Mr. Crain, talked freely of the financial transaction. He admitted obtaining the loan and termed it a "strange coincidence" that it came just about the time Ewald was made magistrate. Mr. Healy, however, told the prosecutor he would have to consult his lawyer before he could decide whether to waive immunity and appear before the grand jury, but late today Healy advised Mr. Crain he would testify.

District Attorney Crain said he asked Healy if he had any conversation with Mayor Walker or with Mr. Olvany respecting the appointment of Ewald to be a magistrate and Healy replied he had never talked with any person about the appointment except Ewald himself. Healy said Ewald had told him he would appreciate any assistance he could give in helping him get the post.

Denies Any Connection.

Mr. Crain said Healy declared "there is absolutely no connection between the receipt of the money and Ewald's appointment." Healy told Mr. Crain he first became acquainted with Tommaney when Tommaney was a reporter for the Bronx Home News and that they both belonged to the "same political club."

Among those subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury Wednesday in addition to Mayor Walker were Thomas Tommaney, Mrs. Bertha Eckert Ewald, her father, Peter Eckert; John J. Meyer, and Irving Isaacs of Tommaney counsel. Mr. Crain will decide tomorrow after he hears Olvany whether or not to call him before the jury.

In his letter to Mayor Walker and Mr. Olvany, Mr. Crain outlined the information he wanted from them. He said he wanted to know when they first met Ewald, by whom the one time magistrate was introduced and under what circumstances. Particularly, Mr. Crain said, he would like to know of any conferences Olvany and Walker had with Healy or any one else regarding the appointment

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Deacon's Crowded Moment

Western Indiana to Restore Streets.

Officials of the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad yesterday were ordered to remove "forthwith" the railroad's switch tracks and platforms from Plymouth court and Taylor street and from two alleys in the vicinity of the Dearborn street terminal in a letter written by Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe. The railroad also is ordered to restore the streets and alleys to a condition safe for public travel.

The railroad's authority to occupy the city property was given by the city council in two ordinances, one passed in 1915 and the other in 1924, each of which was to expire in five years. After the expiration of the ordinances the railroad continued to pay $3,953 annually to the city as compensation and maintained the tracks in the streets.

Expect Railway to Comply.

In Commissioner Wolfe's office it was expected that the railroad will immediately comply with the order. It was pointed out that the ordinance of 1915 provides that the railroad will remove its tracks upon the expiration of the ordinance and will not resort to proceedings in any court to delay the removal.

Commissioner Wolfe's attention was called to the expiration of the ordinances by William J. Maresch, chairman of the committee of paid secretaries of nine civic organizations, and William A. Dudley, managing director of the Greater Central District association.

New Building Involved.

In a conference with Commissioner Wolfe, Mr. Dudley interpreted the present construction by the railroad of a freight and mail building at 7 West Polk street, for which a permit was issued on July 2, to mean that the railroad intends to continue to maintain its tracks in the two streets. He informed Wolfe that this will seriously complicate the city's plans for widening and opening the two streets to perfect traffic movement as a part of the river straightening project.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED

MARION SHERIFF ASKS GRAND JURY INQUIRY INTO LYNCHING OF TWO

Marion, Ind., Aug. 11.—[Special.]—Jacob C. Campbell, sheriff of Grant county, tonight announced that he would ask an immediate inquiry and prompt action toward punishment of those who took part in the lynching of two Negroes here Thursday. He will ask immediate calling of the county grand jury, even though that would mean a special term of court.

Campbell said he had encountered great difficulty in getting persons to identify members of the mob who stormed the jail and hanged Tom Shipp and Abraham Smith. He said grand jury investigation is the only way by which identity of those persons who battered down the doors of the jail can be established.

Preparations were made tonight to remove the two companies of the Indiana national guard patrolling Marion since early Saturday.

The bodies of Shipp and Smith, who were hanged in the courthouse yard Thursday night, were brought here from Muncie yesterday. Funeral services were held this morning for Shipp at Weaver, colored settlement west of Marion. Smith was buried there this afternoon.

SWEAR TO CROWN SON AT RITES FOR KARL OF AUSTRIA

VIENNA, Austria, Aug. 11.—(AP)—A memorial service for the late Emperor Karl of Austria, at which prominent Hungarian monarchists swore to place the Archduke Otto on the throne with the least possible delay, was reported today in dispatches to the Montagszeitung from Tihany Abbey, Hungary, where a memorial to the late emperor was unveiled.

In this abbey the emperor spent several memorable days as a Hungarian prisoner after the fall of his dynasty. The service commemorated both the 100th anniversary of the birth of the Emperor Francis Joseph and the imprisonment and banishment of his successor.

Count Adalar Zichy, monarchist leader, in the apartment where Karl and the ex-Empress Zita passed their last days in Hungary, solemnly declared Hungary would "wipe out its sin committed against Karl by placing his son, Archduke Otto, with the least possible delay on the throne."

GEN. MENOHER, IDOL OF RAINBOW DIVISION, DIES

World War Hero Is Pneumonia Victim.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Charles T. Menoher, retired, one time battle commander of the Rainbow division in France, and a former chief of the army air corps, died late today in St. Elizabeth's hospital after an attack of pneumonia.

While the name of Charles Thomas Menoher was written imperishably into American military history as that of the battle commander in France of the Rainbow division, the officer was to know far more vexing days after the war at home.

The trouble developed when, as chief of the army air service, he came to an open break with his principal assistant, Col. William Mitchell, then a brigadier general.

Gen. Menoher took charge of the air service in January, 1919, and within a few months came to an open break with Mitchell and asked of the secretary of war the removal of the officer.

Quits Air Force.

Gen. Menoher was born in Philadelphia, Pa., March 20, 1862. He was graduated from West Point in 1886, from the artillery school in 1894, and from the war college in 1907. Most of his army service was with the artillery and it included active duty in both the Spanish-American war and the Philippine insurrection.

At the entrance of the United States into the world war, he was an artillery colonel, but was sent to France as a brigadier general later to be promoted to the rank of major general and assigned to command the Rainbow division when Maj. Gen. William A. Mann was unable to endure the physical strain of the active battle days of the division in France.

In Many Big Battles.

The division saw active fighting in the Luneville and Baccarat sectors from Feb. 17 to June 21, 1918; participated in the Champagne-Marne defensive in July and August; the attack on the St. Mihiel salient in September, the occupation of that sector until October, and then in the Argonne attack just prior to the armistice.

It is what a medicine DOES that counts. Think of Konjola as the new and different medicine of performances, not promises. As a typical case of Konjola at work read the words of Mr. Ray Bevans, Pullman conductor on the Pennsylvania Lines between Chicago and New York.

"I had good health until July, 1928, when I was in a train wreck. My stomach was left in a terrible condition, and suffered from indigestion, gas and bloating. I have taken nine bottles of Konjola, and my stomach functions perfectly. I can eat anything I desire. Heartily I endorse Konjola to all who have stomach trouble as I did."

DOCTOR'S DIET HELPS MANY TO REGAIN HEALTH

Overproduction of acid is believed to be confined to the stomach, but mighty incomes have shown that acid and hair are over-produced rather, the oil glands in the surface are.

Oily hair is a nuisance to those who has to labor with it, but is a mild interpretation of annoyance. A cure is better describe the treatment. An acquaintance has, by no trouble at all, complexion on the face has wrestled for years with condition. She has now taken to dry cleaning her hair after every shampoo, about everything has been to special diets, regular medical or particular case there is a remedy. The cause is lack of ing, and, in extreme cases, I would certainly advise ethical dermatologist.

For less radical cases, one can do much to help oneself dition, first by washing it. I know there are many who believe that treating the scalp is effective method, but I have found successful in your case, by all means continue to do think this had been professionally, however.

But for home treatment, if the oil flow is heavy, wash your hair every day or twice a week will be sufficient. And a strong soap is advisable soap prepared with olive oil and is not green soap, which is semi-liquid form.

Reduce it to a jelly with hot water and shampoo several times with the lotion. Then in warm water and vinegar rinse. This latter helps in closing the pores. Dry in the sun, if possible, as sunlight is a good tonic is advisable.

It is pretty well known that the food one eats has much to do with the oil excretion of diet is invariably recommended by dietitians, with preference toward vegetarianism, in cases of consumption.

Doris Warns Mother of Two Against Flirts

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Do you think it is proper for a man whose husband sends her and two children to the country for summer to accept the invitation of a married man stopping there alone and riding in his car and visit a neighboring cabaret with no one else but the man made it understood that it is just company he seeks and that he has no sinister intentions.

In your age, C. L.! Or, if you can't, in the age of any mother of two children and ask that question looking calmly into their adoring blue eyes, I frown!

What you want is somebody to tell you something that will ease your conscience, so you can go stepping off the responsibility laid upon other shoulders. As you suspect, you're getting no encouragement here.

If you want some one to tell you [If you're writing, so much the better] that you're being done in some of our best families these days, therefore, must be a harmless pastime. Or, maybe you want to be told that it is narrow, old fashioned and prejudiced to expect a wife to turn down invitations from a married man just because she happens to be married.

Well, it may be narrow, o. f., prejudiced, or all that, according to some views, but it is plunging an arm into fire with which experience it could be painfully saved by the use of a few grains of the sense with which God has been good enough to bless humans and they may save themselves from unnecessary trouble.

Granted, the man's intentions might be all he says they are, but in the first place men whose intentions are above reproach spend no time defending them. And in the second place—and I will tell the "just company" sentiment to any male or female who happens to observe the cabaret expedition. It's one tune you need never, ever try to play on the public's ears. It can't sell the innocent story to the public because they're not trained that way. And with good evidence to support their doubts.

Don't be a stiff! Go on the expedition, if you're going anyway, but don't come back and try to sell any of the present stuff on us.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Overproduction of oil seems not to be confined to the fields from which mighty incomes have arisen. Skin and hair are overproducing, too, or, rather, the oil glands in the scalp and on the surface are.

Oily hair is a nuisance. To the one who has to labor with it, a nuisance is a mild interpretation of its annoyance. A curse probably would better describe the victim's pronouncement. An acquaintance who, curiously, has no trouble whatever with her complexion on the excess oil score has resisted for years with an oily hair condition. She has of recent years taken to dry cleaning it with a regular dry cleaning fluid. She has tried about everything recommended. She has been to specialists, both hair and regular medical ones, but in her particular case there seems to be no remedy. The causes of it are perplexing, and, in extreme cases and chronic, I would certainly recommend an ethical dermatologist's opinion.

For less radical cases the lay person can do much to alleviate the condition, first by washing the hair often. I know there are many people who believe that treating oil with oil is an effective method, and if you find it successful in your particular case, by all means continue with its use. I still think this had better be done professionally, however.

But for home treatment and relief, if the oil flow is heavy, you can safely wash your hair every week; in fact, twice a week will not do any harm. And a strong soap like tincture of green soap is advised. It is an alkaline soap prepared with alcohol, amber, and is not green in color. It comes in semi-liquid form.

Reduce it to a jelly form by adding hot water and shampoo the hair several times with the lotion. Then rinse well in warm water and finish with a cold rinse. This latter trick is effective in closing the pores. Dry the hair in the sun, if possible. And the use of a good tonic is advised.

It is pretty well established that the food one eats has something to do with the oil excretion. A change of diet is invariably advised by specialists, with preference leaning toward vegetarianism and hearty fruit consumption.

Charming Ensemble for Informal Hours

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—In Paris fashions today, clothes run in couples, if not in flocks. There's hardly any item of the wardrobe that hasn't its soulmate. A dress may keep company with a coat, a hat with a pair of shoes, a necklace with a handkerchief, but it's rare to find a sartorial little Orphan Annie, who, like Kipling's old black cat, "walks by herself."

Now that we have taken to being girls again, Paris has devised for us adorable ensembles, consisting of a nightie to sleep in and a coat frock to breakfast in, that may, upon occasion, combine into a respectable morning gown.

Such a night and morning ensemble is sketched above. The Empire nightie at the left is of wild rose mousseline. The skirt is finely plaited at the sides. The high waistline is marked by a narrow band of vertically tucked mousseline edged with pink satin ribbon.

The sleeveless seven-eighths tunic at the right is of wild rose satin. It has a little circular cape attached to where it crosses in a surplice line with long ends which tie around the waist and hold the coat snugly closed. It allows a section of the nightie to be seen in the V of the décolleté.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Off the Invitation List.

"Dear Miss Blake: My fellow gave me a standup. Should I invite him to my birthday party? I. F."

No, don't send him an invitation. The chances are he would not accept and you would be further embarrassed.

Wasted Efforts.

"Dear Miss Blake: I love a boy who loves another girl. Please tell me what to do? IRENE."

He doesn't respond to your efforts so it's useless to continue them. He's all wrapped up in some one else.

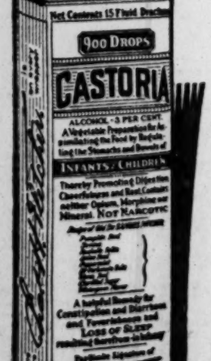
If Baby has COLIC



A cry in the night may be the first warning that Baby has colic. No cause for alarm if Castoria is handy! This pure vegetable preparation brings quick comfort, and can never do the slightest harm. Always keep a bottle in the house. It is the safe and sensible thing when children are ailing. Whether it's the stomach, or the little bowels; colic or constipation; or diarrhea. When tiny tongues are coated, or the breath is bad. Whenever there's need of gentle regulation. Children love the taste of Castoria, and its mildness makes it suitable for the tiniest infant, and for frequent use.

And a more liberal dose of Castoria is always better for growing children than some needlessly strong medicine meant only for adult use. Genuine Castoria always has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Prescribed by doctors!
